The Municipal Governors.

Municipal election matters are remarkably quiet this season. It seems to be pretty well understood generally that Rev. Mr. Fyfe will continue to occupy the big chair, and there is no likely to be much opposition to the present council continuing in office.

The Address Label Tells the Story.

It is not customary now to send a written receipt for subscriptions received for the Fyfe Press, as the address label on the paper answers the purpose. These are all printed every week, and subscribers who desire may enter in date of their label will kindly notify us so that we can rectify the Subscription Account Case.

Judgment in the charge of assault by Inspector Brothers and constable J. G. Hulley against the landlady of the inn, has been given as follows: convicted on both charges. On the former fined $15, and costs on the latter $5 and costs. The costs in all amount to $8.50.—Georgetown Advertiser.

Canada Takes the Red Ticket.

Mr. John Rutherford, near Strasburg, Waterloo County, swept the Chicago Fat Stock Show with his sheep. He took 11 sweepstakes, 11 first prizes, 1 second, and 4 thirds. Mr. Rutherford deserves the greatest credit for his energy and pluck in this honoring Canada, especially good old Waterloo County, with his fine stock.

Berlin News.

Another Minister Settled.

Rev. J. M. Gardiner has signed his acceptance of the call extended to him by the First Presbyterian Church, Brampton, and his induction will take place Tuesday, Dec. 1st, at eleven o'clock.

Rev. Dr. Wardrobe will preside; Rev. J. A. R. Dickson, B. D., will give the charge to the Minister, and Rev. Dr. Torrance that to the congregation.

The Soldier Strikes a Bananas.

Mr. W. McKinlay, who purchased one of the Pepple farms some time ago for $2000, has since discovered that it contains every rare kind of clay, the bricks made from which sell at $1 per 1000. A syndicate has been formed which has bought the farm from the Seller paying him $2000 cash. Mr. Pepple has agreed to lease the property to the new owner.

A Preaching Awake.

Last Friday afternoon Mrs. John Hendreys, while en route to visit Mrs. Alice McPherson, a near neighbor, was clinging over a fence with the rail rods when she fell to the ground and sustained a fracture of the right ankle. For about three-quarters of an hour she remained there helpless until her husband happened to call for help to help hasten her recovery. Mrs. Lowry is back the fracturist, and Dr. Cook is attending to her.

On the evening of December 11th, there will be a lecture delivered in the Wesleyan Church in this place by Mr. D. W. Campbell, Subject in London.
