Halton Farmers' Institute. It has been decided to hold the annua sessions of the Farmers Institute of this county in the town hall, Acton, on Wednesday and Thursday, 22nd and 23rd inst. A very interesting convention is anticipated. Papers will be presented and addresses delivered by professors from the Ontario Agricultural College, prominent farmers and experienced stockmen; La concert of a most enjoyable character will be given on the evening of the first day, and the various sessions of the Institute will be generally interesting to farmers, their amilies and the public. Strong local committees have been appointed; the execuive officers are arranging to secure eminent outside talent, and a pleasant time is tooked for. Every session should be well attended for the reason that the present is a slack time with the farmers, and further, the beneficial results of the institute

There was an enjoyable social gathering in Nassagaweya on Friday evening, Jan. 27th, when the mointers of the Nassaga weys Presbytorian congregation assembled in their church to manifest their appreciation both of Mr. Jas. Moffat's services as treasurer, and of his and Mrs. Moffat's assistance as workers in connection with the church. After a short program, consisting principally of music was disposed of, the chairman, Mr. D. F. Milne, called on Dr. Winn to produce and read a paper be had in his possession, and which proved to be an address to Mr. and Mrs. Moffat. At the proper time during the reading of the address, Mrs. Geo: Thomas stepped forward and presented Mr. and Mrs. Moffat each with an elegant gold watch. Mr Moffat, on benalf of himself and Mrs. Moffat, briefly and spicerely thanked his friends for the kindness and goodwill they had shown. The value of the watches is somewhere in the neighborhood of $70 each. The remainder of the evening was niade pleasant with music rendered by the young ladies of the congregation and the curtains were drawn, a ludicrous scene was presented. The number of bottles. glasses and cigar-boxes on the table reminded one of the "Corkscrew Expedition" so much talked of some years ago. Much business of a varied character was donebonuting new industries, appointing township officers, granting money for the support of poor and indigent persons, and for the repair of roads, also for dogs killed by sheep, and vise versa, etc., etc. There was a great deal of nonsense but the evening was innocently, pleasantly and perhaps not unprofitably spent.

To the Editor of the FREE PRESS. DEAR SIE:-Being aware of the deep in terest which the press of Ontario takes in the welfare of the Agriculturist, and in whatever tends to the advancement of farming as an occupation, we beg space in your publication to set before your agricultural readers the objects of the Ontario Agricultural and Experimental Union. The next annual meeting of this Union will be held at the Agricultural College, Guelph on Feb. 16th and 17th, and we issue a hearty invitation to all to be present, and Master Arthur Smith, left on Monday to | join us in the discussions, and assist in such take a position in the office of the Western | work as may claim the attention of the neeting. The Union is composed of Press wishes Arty every success in this, students, ex-students, and the officers, past and present, of the Agricultural College In order to secure the co operation of Farmers, the Presidents of the various Agricultural Societies have been elected honorary members of the Union. The above, and any others interested in the advanceof Agriculture are invited to take part in such experiments as the committee appointed by the Union may decide upon.

The course of testing during the last two years has been for the object of obtaining a better practical knowledge of the effects of some of the most easily procured Canadiau fertilizers upon cereal crops. No less than 180 packages of fertilizers, and 300 packages of grain have been sent free of charge from the Experimental Farm to members of the Union and other prominent Agriculturists during the last season. The results of the tests will come before the next annual theeting. Many farmers are desirous of obtaining a better acquaintance with the most economical methods of obtaining the greatest results from their fields, stock, &c., and often resolve to do a little testing on their, own farm. The advantage of cooperative experimenting is that each individual; while making the tests, knows -An old country gamekeeper, residing | carrying on precisely the same line of work that many others over the Province are with which comparison of results can be made. The compilation of such tests is almost certain to afford very valuable in formation. Experiments in fruit culture, dairying, stock feeding and raising, beekeeping, and results from other experiments outside of the systematic Union work are also solicited and if sent in and approved It will be seen from the above that the Union has a worthy object in view, and has entered upon a new and useful field of labor. In order to be of the greatest only of every ex-student, but of every intelligent farmer is required to conduct experiments and give results from all parts of the Province. Prominent agriculturists were at our meeting last year from whom we heard expressions which were very pleasing and encouraging, and which give us reason to expect their presence at the the experimental work during the last this publicity, that we have secured your co-operation, and that you will be at our Annual Meeting.

I remain, yours sincerely, WM. J. STOVER. Cor. Secretary. Norwich, Feby. 1st, 1888.
