

PETER MANN,
ACTON

WILL send to all orders for good and interesting literature. A number of new Books now on hand. Give them and receive your books at first cost.

The Action Free Press.
TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1888.

MANY MINOR LOCALS

Collected by the Ever Thoughtful and Alert
Free Press Reporters.

Waggoners show neat Friday.

Gall is anxious to extend her borders.

Brockville's rate is 22 mills this year.

Expressing show to-day and to-morrow.

The Erin Fair has changed hands again.

Erinots show at Rockwood next Tuesday and Wednesday.

Auction sales are booming up in considerable numbers this fall.

Adjt. Steve Marshall led the services in the barracks on Sunday.

Best canning grapes, four cents per pound in Mrs. S. A. Scord's.

Seedling is almost completed. The weather has been most favorable.

Rev. Father Cote conducted the usual Sunday services in St. Joseph's church on Sunday.

Suitable reward will be paid at this office for the recovery of a small, flat steel key, lost some weeks ago.

The chairman of the Board of Education has called a meeting of the Trustees for Monday evening next.

J. R. Hever and C. Hough, of Guelph, each find $20 and costs on Tuesday for robbing the Scott's agent.

Mr. J. H. Beemer, agent at the C.R.R. station at Milton, has left there for Wingham, whence he has been transferred.

Four new sheet lamps are being received. Three in the east end and one at the junction of Willow and Church streets.

Tell that neighbor of yours who has been borrowing the Fair Press that he can have it all New Year's for 25 cents.

Misses Hannant & Son, Milton, have reopened their lamp which had been remodeled and is now a 75 to 100 barrel oil lamp.

Moors, Henderson, McRae & Co., announce their fall millinery opening for Saturday, Oct. 13th inst. Read their invitation to be present.

About 600 tickets were sold from Action for Toronto during the exhibition and about as many dollars paid into the Grand Trunk till at Action station.

The ladies are cordially invited to attend the millinery opening at R. B. Jervyn's on Saturday next. There will be something for the ladies' inspection.

Mr. W. Robertson, son of A. Robertson, sick here, Erin, has his health greatly improved and has the well-wishes of their numerous friends—Herald.

Another Ingenious Swindle.

Thirty of forty farmers in the vicinity of Toronto are out some hard earned money.

It appears that some Yankees

sell to the farmers moving machines and farm implements on the installment plan.

Part of the money the farmer pays down,

and for a part of it he gives a note, which

the sharp operators, forges the signature and

refuses on the day the note is due, with the

cleverly forged note and receives the money

from the unsuspecting farmer. Three days later (after the day of grace) the general note is presented to the farmer for collection. The swindler had the general note discounted and of course the farmer has no means to pay the amount.

—The Dominion Illustrated continues to maintain its high standard. Many of the illustrations are fine works of art, and the literary contents of the paper are excellent.

—Mr. W. Robertson, son of A. Robertson, sick here, Erin, has his health greatly improved and has the well-wishes of their numerous friends—Herald.

Another Ingenious Swindle.

Twenty-four farmers in the vicinity of Toronto are out some hard earned money.

It appears that some Yankees

sell to the farmers moving machines and farm implements on the installment plan.

Part of the money the farmer pays down,

and for a part of it he gives a note, which

the sharp operators, forges the signature and

refuses on the day the note is due, with the

cleverly forged note and receives the money

from the unsuspecting farmer. Three days later (after the day of grace) the general note is presented to the farmer for collection. The swindler had the general note discounted and of course the farmer has no

means to pay the amount.

—The Dominion Illustrated continues to maintain its high standard. Many of the illustrations are fine works of art, and the literary contents of the paper are excellent.

—Mr. W. Robertson, son of A. Robertson, sick here, Erin, has his health greatly improved and has the well-wishes of their numerous friends—Herald.

Another Ingenious Swindle.

Twenty-four farmers in the vicinity of Toronto are out some hard earned money.

It appears that some Yankees

sell to the farmers moving machines and farm implements on the installment plan.

Part of the money the farmer pays down,

and for a part of it he gives a note, which

the sharp operators, forges the signature and

refuses on the day the note is due, with the

cleverly forged note and receives the money

from the unsuspecting farmer. Three days later (after the day of grace) the general note is presented to the farmer for collection. The swindler had the general note discounted and of course the farmer has no

means to pay the amount.

—The Dominion Illustrated continues to maintain its high standard. Many of the illustrations are fine works of art, and the literary contents of the paper are excellent.

—Mr. W. Robertson, son of A. Robertson, sick here, Erin, has his health greatly improved and has the well-wishes of their numerous friends—Herald.

Another Ingenious Swindle.

Twenty-four farmers in the vicinity of Toronto are out some hard earned money.

It appears that some Yankees

sell to the farmers moving machines and farm implements on the installment plan.

Part of the money the farmer pays down,

and for a part of it he gives a note, which

the sharp operators, forges the signature and

refuses on the day the note is due, with the

cleverly forged note and receives the money

from the unsuspecting farmer. Three days later (after the day of grace) the general note is presented to the farmer for collection. The swindler had the general note discounted and of course the farmer has no

means to pay the amount.

—The Dominion Illustrated continues to maintain its high standard. Many of the illustrations are fine works of art, and the literary contents of the paper are excellent.

—Mr. W. Robertson, son of A. Robertson, sick here, Erin, has his health greatly improved and has the well-wishes of their numerous friends—Herald.

Another Ingenious Swindle.

Twenty-four farmers in the vicinity of Toronto are out some hard earned money.

It appears that some Yankees

sell to the farmers moving machines and farm implements on the installment plan.

Part of the money the farmer pays down,

and for a part of it he gives a note, which

the sharp operators, forges the signature and

refuses on the day the note is due, with the

cleverly forged note and receives the money

from the unsuspecting farmer. Three days later (after the day of grace) the general note is presented to the farmer for collection. The swindler had the general note discounted and of course the farmer has no

means to pay the amount.

—The Dominion Illustrated continues to maintain its high standard. Many of the illustrations are fine works of art, and the literary contents of the paper are excellent.

—Mr. W. Robertson, son of A. Robertson, sick here, Erin, has his health greatly improved and has the well-wishes of their numerous friends—Herald.

Another Ingenious Swindle.

Twenty-four farmers in the vicinity of Toronto are out some hard earned money.

It appears that some Yankees

sell to the farmers moving machines and farm implements on the installment plan.

Part of the money the farmer pays down,

and for a part of it he gives a note, which

the sharp operators, forges the signature and

refuses on the day the note is due, with the

cleverly forged note and receives the money

from the unsuspecting farmer. Three days later (after the day of grace) the general note is presented to the farmer for collection. The swindler had the general note discounted and of course the farmer has no

means to pay the amount.

—The Dominion Illustrated continues to maintain its high standard. Many of the illustrations are fine works of art, and the literary contents of the paper are excellent.

—Mr. W. Robertson, son of A. Robertson, sick here, Erin, has his health greatly improved and has the well-wishes of their numerous friends—Herald.

Another Ingenious Swindle.

Twenty-four farmers in the vicinity of Toronto are out some hard earned money.

It appears that some Yankees

sell to the farmers moving machines and farm implements on the installment plan.

Part of the money the farmer pays down,

and for a part of it he gives a note, which

the sharp operators, forges the signature and

refuses on the day the note is due, with the

cleverly forged note and receives the money

from the unsuspecting farmer. Three days later (after the day of grace) the general note is presented to the farmer for collection. The swindler had the general note discounted and of course the farmer has no

means to pay the amount.

—The Dominion Illustrated continues to maintain its high standard. Many of the illustrations are fine works of art, and the literary contents of the paper are excellent.

—Mr. W. Robertson, son of A. Robertson, sick here, Erin, has his health greatly improved and has the well-wishes of their numerous friends—Herald.

Another Ingenious Swindle.

Twenty-four farmers in the vicinity of Toronto are out some hard earned money.

It appears that some Yankees

sell to the farmers moving machines and farm implements on the installment plan.

Part of the money the farmer pays down,

and for a part of it he gives a note, which

the sharp operators, forges the signature and

refuses on the day the note is due, with the

cleverly forged note and receives the money

from the unsuspecting farmer. Three days later (after the day of grace) the general note is presented to the farmer for collection. The swindler had the general note discounted and of course the farmer has no

means to pay the amount.

—The Dominion Illustrated continues to maintain its high standard. Many of the illustrations are fine works of art, and the literary contents of the paper are excellent.

—Mr. W. Robertson, son of A. Robertson, sick here, Erin, has his health greatly improved and has the well-wishes of their numerous friends—Herald.

Another Ingenious Swindle.

Twenty-four farmers in the vicinity of Toronto are out some hard earned money.

It appears that some Yankees

sell to the farmers moving machines and farm implements on the installment plan.

Part of the money the farmer pays down,

and for a part of it he gives a note, which

the sharp operators, forges the signature and

refuses on the day the note is due, with the

cleverly forged note and receives the money

from the unsuspecting farmer. Three days later (after the day of grace) the general note is presented to the farmer for collection. The swindler had the general note discounted and of course the farmer has no

means to pay the amount.

—The Dominion Illustrated continues to maintain its high standard. Many of the illustrations are fine works of art, and the literary contents of the paper are excellent.

—Mr. W. Robertson, son of A. Robertson, sick here, Erin, has his health greatly improved and has the well-wishes of their numerous friends—Herald.

Another Ingenious Swindle.

Twenty-four farmers in the vicinity of Toronto are out some hard earned money.

It appears that some Yankees

sell to the farmers moving machines and farm implements on the installment plan.

Part of the money the farmer pays down,

and for a part of it he gives a note, which

the sharp operators, forges the signature and

refuses on the day the note is due, with the

cleverly forged note and receives the money

from the unsuspecting farmer. Three days later (after the day of grace) the general note is presented to the farmer for collection. The swindler had the general note discounted and of course the farmer has no

means to pay the amount.

—The Dominion Illustrated continues to maintain its high standard. Many of the illustrations are fine works of art, and the literary contents of the paper are excellent.