The feeling of confidence, the result of good crops, which originated on the farm, has in turn affected both the country and city merchant. During the past few weeks it has been slowly but surely maturing, and the result has been a." boom " in commercial circles. In the city business has been exceptionally good, many houses reporting trade much better than any like period in its history. In dry goods and groceries the state of affairs is especially, noticeable. This happy condition of things is not by any means confined to the city of Toronto, but is to be observed everywhere throughout the country. From general indications there is little doubt that the Dominion has entered upon a period of prosperity. While in Ontario the crops have not been enormously large. The Exemption Amendment.

Some misunderstanding appears to have risen among the farmers respecting the smendment made in the Municipal Act last ression exempting from taxation farm horses, cattle, sheep and swine. The idea seems to be current that the amendment should come into force this year but the following letter to a neighboring Manicipal clerk sets the matter right:-

Toronto, 21st Sept., 1888. Dear Sir,-In reply to yours of the 21st inst., I beg to advise you that the amendment of last session exempting farm stock does not apply to this year's assessment Your roll will therefore be acted upon for 1883 as if no such amendment existed. Yours truly,
