From the world's witching baunts far away. Oh! sometimes recall what we are and have

And love me as well as to-day. "I ask for no fonder affections to breathe

Its tribute with sympathy's toar. Re blossoms of beauteous pillow to wreather Than the ones you have culled for me here : And when in the future a hallowed spell From the past, to thy spirit shall come,

Will memory whisper, you love me as well

As when I was with you at home?" KEEP THE GATE SHUT.

A farmer was one day at work in his fields when he saw a party of horsemen riding about his farm. He had one field that he was specially anxious they should not ride over, as the crop was in a condition to be badly injured by the tramp of borses. So he despatched one of his boys to the field, telling him to shut the gate and then keep watch over it, and on no account to suffer it to be opened.

determination not to disobey them. Threats | Toronto. and bribes were offered, alike in 'vain; one after another came forward as spokesman, but all with the same result; the boy remained immovable in his determination not to open the gate. After a while one of noble presence advanced and said, in commanding topes: "My boy, you do not know me. I am the Duke of Wellington, one not accustomed to be disobeyed, and I command you to open that gate, that I and my friends may pass through." The boy lifted his cap and stood uncovered tefore the man whom all England delighted to honor, then answered firmly; "I am sure the Duke of Wellington would not wish me to disobey orders. I must keep this gate shot and not allow any one to pass, but with my master's express per-

Greatly pleased, the sturdy old warrior lifted his own hat and said : " I honor the man or boy who can be neither bribed nor frightened into doing wrong. With army of such soldiers I could conquer not only the French, but the world." And, handing the boy a glittering sovereign, the old dake put spurs to his horse and galloped away, while the boy ran off to his work, shouting at the top of his voice: "Hurrah! hurrah! I've done what kinds. Napolean couldn't do; I've kept out the Duke of Wellington." Every boy is a gatekeeper, and his Master's command is, "Be thou faithful unto dock Blood Bitters. You do not have to death." Are you tempted to drink, to take quarts and gallons to get at the medismoke or chew tobacco ? Keep the gate of | icine it contains. company to enter. When evil companions would counsel you to lie, to deal falsely, to disobey your parents keep the gate of your ears fast shut against such enticements. And when the bold blasphemer would justil doubts of the great truths of revelation, then keep the door of your heart locked and barred against his infamous suggestions, remembering that it is only the fool that has said in his heart, there is no God.

POOD FOR YOUNG CHILDREN.

Dangers of Delay . If we were allowed to look into the future and see the fatal consequences that follow a neglected cold, how differently would our course be; could we realize our danger, how speedily we would seek a care; but with many it is only when the monster disease has fastened his fangs upon our lungs that we awaken to our folly. What follows a neglected cold? It is diseases of the throat and lungs, bronchitis, asthma, consumption, and other diseases of like nature. It is worse than madness to neglect a cold, and it is folly not to have some good remedy available for this frequent complaint. One of the most efficacious medicines for all diseases of the throat and lungs, is Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. This medicine is composed of several medicinal herbs, which exert a most wonderful infinence in caring consumption and other diseases of the throat and chest. It promotes a free and easy expectoration, sorther irritation and drives the disease fom the sys-
