It also hoped that the churches would cease to use for sacremental purposes intoxicating wine, that frequently has not a particle of the juice of the grape in it.

Since the last issue of the FREE PRESS the wasted form of 1888 has been buried like its predecessors, in the cemetery of departed years. The past twelve months have brought to each and all of us a measure of experience. Sunshine and shadow have been blended, and joy and sorrow have in turn been tempered by the changing tights. Pleasure unalloyed has been the lot of few, while bitterness that nomes from blighted hopes and crue disappointments have entered into many lives. West and woe in unequal parts have been meted out, and the burdens they have been called to bear have weighed them to the earth. CONVENTION OF DAIRYMEN.

at Ottawa, and Organize a Dominion Dairymen's Association. ared in kebordanes with the Copyright set," and published by permission of the auth LETTER XO. V. Our friends the newspaper editors, have made heroic efforts to cram into their available space these letters (to the edito ial oye, appalling in dimensions), deserve our greatest consideration, my reader. I have bethought myself of the comfort these good people, and I have anticipated a genuine satisfaction on their part in seeing this letter a short one. To do this 1 am interjecting between regular letters, special message to Canadian farmers, which ere this in regular order for publication of letters. This message has reference to the need of A DOMESTON PHRYHEN'S ASSOCIATION. In letters to come the rasder will see that one of the factors in the improvement of dairying abroad has been organization. A knowledge of the history of Canadian dairying will teach him that organization has been most effective here. Among the sug gestions of needed action, which were the outcome of foreign investigations, there was none that pressed itself forward more forcibly than this need. Already we have excellent local or provincial organization. We lack only general or Dominion organization The main idea of organization is a combination of the forces for legislature and executive work. Such organization involves meetings of enterprising, active and representative men from all parts of the country | 26th olt. discussions of general questions, and such action as seems best to the assembled dem in the general interest. The most promising means of attaining these appeared to the writer to be a dominion dairymen's convention. The place for holding such convention should be Ottawa; and the time, this winter during the coming session of Parliament. The members of there are a good many such-would take | were confronted at the door with the brilan active interest in the meetings and their services would be availed of by their con-

as such. The cordial approval by many prominent dairymen, in all parts of the Dominion, has made the proposed convention a practical certainty. The desire to make the work of months productive of practical results has led the writer to commit himself to the idea of such a convention, which means doing everything in his power to make it a suc cess. It is not too much to ask of Cans dian dairymen that each one of them do his part towards making the success hoped or, and the writer has abundant faith in a carty response to the opportunity here presented to perhaps give the dairy industry

I made an effort to secure the co-opera tion of the fruit industry in the proposed convention, which has resulted in a sagestion that one day, at least, be set apar or the consideration and discussion of such prestions as will equally serve the fruit erest, say the questions of marketing, cold storage, transportation, etc.

THE QUESTIONS TO BE DISCUSSED would baturally be of a general rather than of a local character, such as markets, mar keting, packing, packages, storage, refrigeration, transportation, inspection, grading, butter v. cheese, co-operation, various sys tems of co-operation, educational work. dairy schools, technical aspects, etc., etc., It is to be hoped that anyone intereste and possessed of valuable ideas in this connection will be prepared to offer them: n necessarily, in a long paper, but rather written or spoken in sharp, crisp form, and to the point. While abroad I made a few purchase which promised to possess for such an o casion a certain interest, and perhaps valo all of which will be freely placed at the use of the convention; notably, in this collection a: milk-testing apparatus, which ound in successful use in the Copenhagen Milk Sepply establishment, and only there. There are many dairymen who may conribute something in this way to the need and usefulness of such a convention. Even the contributions of manufacturers and dealers would be of value; and these would serve their own interests, legitimately, offering anything in their respective line Were it earlier in the season. I won farther propose that butter-makers in di ferent parts of the country send in samples of their product, especially where these for Ayer's Sarsaparilla and Ayer's Pills particulars of their manufacture. These products would serve several important purposes. They would indicate what are broughout the Dominion in butter-make ing. They would be put, as prepared, ! the test of transportation, comparison and valuation. They would afford contrast of the different methods in vogue, and, by bringing into view the best, would afford suggestion of what might be adopted more generally. They would afford object les sons for the convention, of greatest possible raine. These samples, also, would afford mmediate means of carrying out certain experimental work in transportation abroad and marketing. It is possible that there may be available some few samples of this character, but the suggestion must not b ost sight of in future years.

Low railway fares will be secured, and i possible reduced botel fares; all to be daly of pets generally should hail it with plea-

It goes without saying that in an effort of this kind, any attempt to bring about so very desirrble an organization should be seconded by every well wisher of agriculture. Let us hope that many valuable suggestions will be offered, either through the press or by private correspondence. I also hope that the various subjects which shall be brought forward in these series of letters will evoke thorough discussion, and so bring out much valuable truth. Wishing readers the fullest joys of this

Ramsay gathered together to show him the respect in which he is held and bid him arewell before his departure. About 10 clock some forty ladies and gentlemen sat down to an excellent supper. After full justice had been done to the viands, Dr. Dryden, who occupied the head of the table, made a few appropriate remarks expressing his regret at the departure of the guest, and wishing him all good luck in the future. A short address by Mr. Strachen was followed by the parting words of Mr. Ramsey, who thanked his friends for this expression of their good will toward him and sasured them that the most difficult part connected with leaving the many friends he had in Rockwood and surrounding country was in bidding good-bye. The Montreal Witacar is offering a great iducement to its subscribers for the Daily and Weekly Witness for 1889, by giving them a copy of the $120,000 picture Christ before Pilate," the most notable picture ever brought to America, for only twenty-five cents. The different departments of the Weekly are attracting much attention, and are to be found full of valuable information to the farmer, merchant and house-wife. The Witness is unequalled as a family payer. The Korthern Messen. ger, the pioneer paper, is greatly improved and should be in the hands of every boy and girl, who will find most instructive

Ayer's Almana: for 1889, published by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., comes to us in the shape of a neat presentation book of about five hundred pages, being made up of numerous editions calculated for the latitudes of many lands. A score or more of nationalities are addressed in their own languages in this volume, and could they all be heard clamoring together what a Babel would break forth! Aver's Almanac in its familiar yellow cover, bas long been known as the most accurate and reliable of its kind: and if any one is ignorant of the superior merits of Ayer's medicines, and suffers in consequence, it is not the fault of this enterprising firm, who scatter their "leaves" by the million, " for the healing of the nations." Ask your druggist for Ayer's Almanac. A bright and spicy journal is "Marry's Illustrated" monthly. It is devoted to News, Literature and Rural Homes. It is well edited. An account of a trip " Round the World," by W. E. H. Massey, is very interesting. This journal should become a general favorite with the farming community in whose interest it is specially devoted. A new paper has made its appearance published and edited by H. B. Donovan, editor of the Canadian Poultry Perice. It is called Pigeone and Pete, and as its name implies, is specially devoted to pets, both
