PEACH STONES FOR FUEL. It has been demonstrated in Yaca Valley that peach stones will make as good a fire for household purposes as the best kind of coal in the market. The fruit-growers, instead of, as heretofore, throwing the pits away, dispose of the stones at the present time at the rate of 25 a ton. A sack of stones will weigh about thirty pounds, and will last as long as an equal number of pounds of coal, and give a greater intensity of heat. As many of the orchards in the valley may own great stacks of peach and apricot stones, which will eventually find their way to San Francisco and other places, we call for fuel. The spirit stones do not burn as readily as the peach, and will not command as good a price. The fruit-growers will undoubtedly be pleased to learn that they now have another source of revenue open to them. A large number of peaches are dried during the season for shipment. As soon as the owners find that they have a market for the stones, a greater number of peaches will be dried.

Nothing Like It. "I was troubled with liver complaint for a good many years, but was cured by one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters. I have since used it as a medicine for a severe cold and cough, which it immediately relieved and cured. Nothing Like It. "I have sold my medicine for the last twenty years, and always keep it in stock. I recommend it, as the Doctor says, 'I prescribe it for all cases for which I recommend it, even where the disease is of long standing.' - W. J. WEST, Parkhill, Ont.

PRIZE WINNER'S OPINION. I have seen much of this world, but I never knew how to live until now. All the comfort I have, and which is more than the whole world can give, is feeling the good spirit in my heart and reading in this good book the Bible. You see now in the prime of your life and vigor, and in great favor and business; but all this may have you, and you may one day better understand and relish what I say to you, and then you will find that there is more wisdom, truth, comfort and pleasure in retiring and returning your heart from the world to the good spirit of God, and in reading the Bible than in all the riches and the favors of princes. - J. M. GARDNER, Gloucester, Ontario.
