This is done on the secomption that Behrings Ses belongs to the United States by right of the purchase of Alaska from Russis, but it is rather an extrem step to declare it closed "within the Dominions of the United States," against all persons who may be desirous of entering it for the purpose of killing fur-bearing ani-

Prof. Scharman, of Cornell University, realizes the importance of the proud position that Canada occupies, and is not slow in telling his countrymen what he thinks. Here is an extract from a recent speech delivered by him: " Look at a map and you on the Scott Act. will see that within the latitude of Canada are included, in the old world, Norway and Sweden, European and Asiatic Russia (excepting only the most southerly projection) Denmark, Prussis, Holland, Belgium, the northern section of France, and the whole of Great British and Ireland. From these countries came the races that succeeded ome in bearing, as they still largely bear, the civilization of the world. And analogy suggests that under the bracing climate of Canada, in conturies yet to be, civilization may in the New World find its sturdiest supporters. The new provinces will in a very few years be the regal home of prosperous millions. 'Nature has said it, Canadians need not be anxious about the money spent in opening up their Northwest. IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS. OTTIME March 26 - So many columns have been written about the Jesuite Act of the Ouebec Legislature that most people would take the origin of the matter in few words. When England achieved her great victory on the Plains of Abraham and conquered Quebec the Jesuits were under the ban of British law and England refused to recognize the Jesuit title to the 600,000 acres of land assigned to them by the French. Ten years later the Society of Josus was suppressed by a papal buil. There was thus a double reason for the confiscation of the estates. The claim on which Premier Mercier bases the proposal to recompense the Josquita is that the restoration of the Order by Pige VII in 1814 revived the disallowed rights of the Jesuits to the confiscated estates. This is opposed on the ground that anything done by the of the British Government. These lands
