The Young Folks.

THE TIRED FOOT.

The potter stood at his daily work,
One patient stood on the ground;
The other, with notebook and pencil,
Turning his feet with a round.
"I am tired," said the potter,
Watching the restles knee.
"My friend said low, in a quiet voice.
"How tired his foot must be!"

The potter never paused in his work,
Shaping this wondrous thing;
Two or three seconds however,
Slowly he raised his patient's knee.
With kindly smile I asked him,
"No, man! it isn't the foot ticks—
The one that stands rests tired!"

IS IT?

Ladies, weep not for the injured crane
With a wretched cry;
The Land of the honest still again,
Who among us shall feel pain?
Who is wanted? Lord! It is I!

The Master calls, but the servants wait;
Fields clean white seeds a cloudless sky;
Will none seize sickle before too late?
Winds of winter come sweeping by—
Who is delaying? I am!

Harper's Magazine.

Henry James, in an article upon "Our Artists in Europe," which will be published with contributions, in Harper's Magazine, for June, declares: "If the beauties are ever assigned at so far off to justice to answer in regard to what they have given, of good or of bad, to humanity, our interesting age (which is not open to the charge of having stood with its hands in its pockets) might perhaps do worse than put forth the plea, 'Dear Sirs—I have given it a fresh interest in black and white.'" He reviews the work of a number of men who have had much to do, especially by magazine illustration, with creating that "fresh interest"—the work of F. D. Millet, Edwin A. Abbey, Alfred Parsons, George H. Boughton, George du Maurier, and C. G. Reinhardt.

T. Granger Stewart, M. D., F. R. S. E., Ordinary Physician to H.M. Queen, in Scotland, Professor of Practice of Physic in the University of Edinburgh writes: "The arteries are sclerotic and atherosomatous in the advanced stages of the inflammatory and in the circulatory but not so small in the waxy disease. In that affection the small vessels in other parts are frequently the seat of waxy degeneration." From this it will be seen that in the three forms of kidney disease classed as Bright's disease, the arteries suffer changes, and it matters not whether they undergo sclerotic, atherosomatous or waxy change; they are so weakened as to endanger rupture; under any increased pressure. This explains the frequency of apoplexy and paralysis, and as clearly demonstrated that the only preventive of these disastrous ruptures of the blood vessels is the timely use of Warner's Safe Cure to keep the kidneys in a healthy condition.

Answer to Mothers.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If you send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children's teething, its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures colds, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children's teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

It is worse than madness, to neglect a cough or cold which is easily subdued; if taken in time becomes, when left to itself, the fore-runner of consumption and premature death. Inflammation, when it attacks the delicate tissue of the lungs and bronchial tubes, travels with, perhaps rapidly; does not delay, gets a bottle of Bickley's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, the medicine that stops this formidable foe of the human body, and drives it from the system. This medicine promotes a free and easy respiration, subdues the cough, heals the diseased parts, and exerts a most wonderful influence in curing consumption, and other diseases of the throat and lungs. Parents wish to save the lives of their children, and themselves from much anxiety, trouble and expense, let them procure a bottle of Bickley's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, and whenever cold has taken cold, if has a cough or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions.

Mr. T. C. Bertrand, public school teacher Norland, writes: "During the fall of 1881 I was much troubled with rheumatism and dyspepsia, and part of the time was unable to attend to the duties of my profession. Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Distress and Dyspepsia Cure was recommended to me, and I have much pleasure in stating that I was entirely cured by using one bottle. I have not had an attack of my old complaint since, and have gained fifteen pounds in weight."

Rest and comfort in the suffering.
Brown's Household Panacea has no equal for relieving pain both internal and external. It cures pain in the side, neck, or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, tooth-ache, lameness and any kind of pain or ache. "It will most surely quicken the Blood and Heal as its acting power is wonderful." Brown's Household Panacea, being acknowledged as the great Pain Reliever, and of double the strength of any other Elixir or Liniment in the world, should be in every family handy for use when wanted, "as it really is the best remedy in the world for cramps in the stomach, and pains and aches of all kinds and is for sale by all druggists at 25 cents a bottle.

JINGLES AND JOKELETS.

Half an Hour With the Wife Men, the Wits and the Paragraph of the Day.

Stubborn children readily take Dr. Low's Worm Syrup. It pleases the child and destroys the worms.

Never Despair.

Even when all seems lost, there is yet hope. Many a despairing, disheartened victim of dyspepsia, liver complaint, kidney complaint, useful or rheumatism, has been brought back to health and usefulness by Burdock Root Bitters, the greatest remedy known for all blood diseases.

The coughing and wheezing of persons troubled with bronchitis or asthma is exceedingly harassing to themselves and annoying to others. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil relieves all this instantly, safely and speedily, and is a benign remedy for lameness, soreness, injuries, piles, kidney and spinal troubles.

"Many men, many minds," but all men and all minds agree as to the merits of Burdock Pills, small and sugar-coated.

Mist on Earth.

As morning sun, with strong and vivid rays. Drives from the earth theullen mist away. So bright, so fair, in strength and power grand. Doffs frost disease and stays deadly heavy hand.

Some of the Western Politicians collect the seeds of a plant, powder and sift them, and then take into cakes, which they smear with oleomargarine and eat. In preparing this article of food, they use an article known as Imperial Cream Tartar. Baking Powder, that is acknowledged to be the best in the world.

Faintly Recommended.

In the spring of 1888, I had inflammation of the lungs, which left my lungs weak. I had a very bad cough, and resolved to try Haggard's Eiectric Balsam. It did me more good than any other medicine I have ever taken, and I can faithfully recommend it. Miss Mary Kay, Virginia.

Great.—Having used Minard's Liniment for several years in my stable, I attest to its being the best thing I know for horses. In the family we have used it for every purpose that liniment is adapted for, being recommended to us by the late Dr. J. L. R. Webster. Personally I find it the best allyer of neuralgic pain I have ever used.

The Teacher.

Who advised her pupils to strengthen their minds by the use of Ayer's Balsam bodily health is essential to mental vigor. Every person of delicate and feeble constitution, whether young or old, this medicine is remarkably beneficial. Be sure you get Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Every spring and fall, take a number of tablets, twice a day, and you will be well again.

—Mrs. Anna L. Creer, Putney, Md.

"My daughter, twelve years of age, has suffered for the past year from General Debility.

A few weeks since, we began to give for Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Her health has greatly improved."—Mrs. Harriet H. French.

"Mount's earago beginning Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a remedy for debility and neurasthenia resulting from material exertion and overwork. I was in a state of exhaustion, six weeks ago, of the Sarsaparilla, with occasional doses of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, I have greatly improved my health. I am now in full strength again. I cannot say too much for your excellent remedies."—P. A. Pluckham, South Boston.

"My daughter, sixteen years old, is using Ayer's Sarsaparilla with great effect."—Rev. J. G. Graham, United Brethren Church, Buckingham, Vt.

Great Service.

"I have used Haggard's Yellow Oil for cuts and scalds on horse's shoulders and they got better at once. I have also used it for sprains, burns, cuts and scrapes among my children, and can recommend it highly as of great value." W. Service, Mingo, Mass.

That "Toots of the soul, the dinner bell," as Ayron calls it, suggests no pleasant reduction to the sympathetic, bilious sufferer. He partakes, of course, but the subsequent torment is proportional to the proportion to the quantity of food he eats, which lies codicled, a weight like lead in his unhappy stomach. There is a remedy, however, and its name is Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure. No case is entirely hopeless.

Good for All.

Dear Sirs:—I can recommend Haggard's Oil as a sure cure for rheumatism, from which disease I suffered for some time, but was cured with two bottles of Warner's Safe Cure. Its value is incalculable.
