The Young Folks.

THE DYING YEAR.

Hush, hush, the year is dying,
Each solemn moment flying,
Bringing the time yet more near,
When ne'er in hope or fear,
Earth's boundary will be past'd:
God's judgement reached at last,
And time be o'er.

No deed can be done to-day
The swiftly dying day,
When once its reign is o'er
It cometh never more:
Its record then is done,
Its victories have been won,
How few they seem.

How often we have lost
Chances of priceless cost,
To work for souls and God,
To raise some weary load;
That lost souls might be blest
And weary ones find rest
In Christ with God.

Ah, me, the weary way,
Occasions every day;
The things we might have done,
Conquests we might have won
Press like a heavy load,
In glancing o'er the road
Of one short year.

Each deed, and word, and thought,
With sin have oft been fraught:
Not one short hour has been,
Without some deed of sin:
And now the burden's weight,
Fills with the worst. Too late,
The time is gone.

If so review one year
Can fill our hearts with fear,
What will the record be
When, from eternity,
We look back o'er the past
And view from first to last
All of life here?

Dear Lord, we cannot stay
Without thy grace to-day;
Oh, wash us in thy blood,
And take from us the load
Both of our deeds of sin
And what good might have been,
Had we been true.

Be with us now, we pray,
Wash all our sins away;
Be ever with us here
Throughout the changing year;
Nought can redeem the past,
But, by thy strength held fast,
We may improve.

A STORY FOR THE CHILDREN.

BY MARY KYLE DALLAS.

"Old Daddy Long-Legs couldn't say his prayers; took him by the hind legs and frowed him down stairs!" shouted little Paul, pulling at the legs of a great spider.

"Old Daddy Long-Legs—"

But here the spider gave a jerk and went off up the wall, and Paul flew to his mother.

"Oh, mamma!" he sobbed, "the spider bit me, nasty thing! And he made a face at me, and gotted away, and he left one of his legs. See!"

"Well, Paul, I suppose if some great monster caught you and pulled off one of your legs, you'd get away and make a face, and bite him if you could," said mamma.

"I ain't a big monster. I's a little boy," said Paul. "And it was an awful face, wiz goggle eyes. And I've only dot two legs, and he's got most fifteen," said Paul.

"I presume it is an odd number now," said mamma. "And as I don't want you to hurt spiders, nor them to hurt you, I wish you wouldn't touch them again."

"But it's so funny to sing, 'Old Daddy Long-Legs wouldn't say his prayers!'" sighed Paul. "And spiders are bad."

However, he caught no more that day; and when night came and he had had his supper, he climbed up to his bedroom before his mamma and had his bath, and was just going to say his prayers, when up came the girl.

"Mr. Brown is at the gate in a carriage, and must catch the train, and has a message for you, mum," said she.

"Dear me!" sighed mamma. "Now, dear little boy, if you get too sleepy to wait, say your prayers before you go to bed all by yourself. Mamma will be back soon."

Away she ran, and Paul was very sleepy. He knew he ought to say his prayers, but his eyes fell shut. He crept upon the bed and thought about it for a minute, and then the little pink lids were fast.

Mamma came up, drew the quilts over him, and went down again, and Paul slept on; but in his sleep he seemed to remember that he had not said his prayers. All of a sudden he opened his eyes.

What was that? Somebody singing in a faint voice, like a mosquito:

"Little Pauly Short-Legs
Didn't say his prayers,
Take him by the right leg
And throw him down stairs."

"Oh, my! Oh, my!" Paul jumped up. There, beside him, was a great spider as big as a steam engine, with long, long legs and big goggle eyes. And he sang it again.

"Little Pauly Short-Legs
Didn't say his prayers,
Take him by the right leg
And throw him down stairs."

Then a chorus of voices joined in:

"Take him by the right leg,
Take him by the left leg,
Take him by both legs,
And throw him down stairs."

All the room was full of spiders—spiders with purple eyes. Four of them caught hold of him, each an arm or a leg, and took him out of bed, swinging him about, and singing "Little Pauly Short-Legs," and saying "Isn't it fun?"

"Isn't it wrong to tease Pauties so?" said one spider.

Paul thought it must be the mamma spider.

"No," said the others, "they are bad; they don't say their prayers—" Let's take him by the hind leg and throw him down stairs."

Away they ran to the top of the steep stairs, and over it they swung him, while he screamed and cried; and, oh, oh, oh! off came one of his legs in the biggest spider's clutch, and away he went head foremost.

"Oh, oh!" cried Paul. "Oh, oh, oh! Mamma, mamma!"

"What is the matter, my pet?" cried mamma's voice.

Pauly opened his eyes.

He was in bed. Mamma held him fast. He looked at his little legs; they were both there.

"I fought the black spider pulled one off," sobbed Paul. "Oh, are they gone?"

"It was only a dream," said mamma.

"A dream?" said Paul. "Oh, it was dweadful, weal, mamma. I'll never pull off spiders' legs again. O! mamma, they said it was 'cause I didn't say my prayers."

"Well, say them now," said mamma.

So Paul said: "Now I lay me," and put his head on mamma's arm.

"It was very nice of grandma to you such a nice mince pie," said mamma, "but I ought not to have given it to you at night; you've had a nightmare."

"I don't want a nightmare any more," said Paul.

"Well, dear, we'll let spiders alone, and not eat hot mince pie for supper after this," said mamma, "and I think we can keep them away."

"The awfulest was when they pulled my leg off and I fought I'd always have to hop," said Paul, "and when they frowed me down stairs."

Holloway's Corn Cure is the medicine to remove all kinds of corns and warts, and only costs the small sum of twenty-five cents.

Rose Island Reports.

I can state that we have used Hagyard's Yellow Oil with great benefit for colds, sore throat, cuts, burns, chapped hands, etc. We can recommend it to be very useful and good in many different ways.

MRS. ANNA HYLES,
Rose Island, Ont.

The special quality of Ayer's Hair Vigor is that it restores the natural growth, color, and texture of the hair. It vitalizes the roots and follicles, removes dandruff, and heals itching humors in the scalp. In this respect, it surpasses all similar preparations.

THOMAS MYERS, Bracebridge, writes:—"Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil is the best medicine I sell. It always gives satisfaction and in cases of coughs, colds, sore throat, &c., immediate relief has been received by those who use it."

Prominent Public Men

are not slow to give expression to their opinions where genuine merit is concerned. D. Derbyshire, president of the Ontario Creamery Association, says:—"Nasal Balm beats the world for catarrh and cold in the head. In my own case it afforded relief from the first application."

There is not a more dangerous class of disorders than those which affect the breathing organs. Nellisly this danger with Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil—a polmonic of acknowledged efficacy. It cures lameness and soreness when applied externally, as well as swelled neck and crick in the back, and, as an inward specific, possess most substantial claims to public confidence.

A New Element

Must be infused into the blood of the weak and debilitated, who suffer from disease of the stomach, liver, bowels, kidneys or blood. This revitalizing constituent is supplied by Burdock Blood Bitters which repairs waste, drives out all impurities and restores health to the entire system.

Life in a Lumber Camp.

While working in a lumber camp a year ago I caught a severe cold which settled on my lungs. I got no relief until I tried Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, which cured me entirely. I highly commend it.

JNO. L. WILSON, Magnetawan, Ont.

The laws of the Medes and Persians were not more immutable than those of nature. If we transgress them we suffer. Sometimes however we break them inadvertently. Dangers frequently take the form of Dyspepsia, Constipation and Biliousness, which can be easily repaired with Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, the Great Blood Purifier and renovator of the system.

A Little Spark.

May kindle a great fire, just so dyspepsia and bad blood give rise to countless complaints which cannot be cured until the dyspepsia is removed, and the blood purified. To do this is the work of Burdock Blood Bitters, a medicine which always cures dyspepsia, bad blood and all complaints of similar origin.

A lady from Syracuse writes: "For about seven years before taking Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, I suffered from a complaint very prevalent with our sex. I was unable to walk any distance or stand on my feet for more than a few minutes at a time without feeling exhausted, but now I am thankful to say, I can walk two miles without feeling the least inconvenience." For Female Complaints it has no equal.

Death Dealing Drugs.

Such as Calomel, Morphine, etc., are remedies better left alone. They often weaken even strong constitutions. This Burdock Blood Bitters never does, it contains no mineral or other poison, and cures all diseases of the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, and blood by unlocking the secretions and removing all impurities.

Rest and Comfort to the Suffering.

"Brown's Household Panacea" has no equal for relieving pain both internal and external. It cures pain in the side, back, or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache, lumbago and any kind of pain or ache. "It will most surely quicken the Blood and Heal as its acting power is wonderful." "Brown's Household Panacea," being acknowledged as the great Pain Reliever, and of double the strength of any other Elixir or Liniment in the world, should be in every family handy for use when wanted, "as it really is the best remedy in the world for cramps in the stomach, and pains and aches of all kinds and is for sale by all druggists at 25 cents a bottle."

GREETING SONG.

With a welcome now we greet you,
As we all assemble here;
We have come with faces smiling,
And with spirits full of cheer.

CHO.—Welcome friends! with joy we greet you;
Ours a welcome all sincere!
With the voice of song we greet you,
With a welcome, welcome, welcome here.

It is pleasant thus to mingle,
And our voices blend in song;
Thus we love each other better,
As we pass thro' life along.

All our cares and all our troubles,
Whatsoever ills betide,
While we mingle here together,
Let us strive to lay aside.

We shall cherish pleasant memories,
Of the joys this hour, we know;
They will fall like sunshine o'er us,
As the seasons come and go.

OH! WORSHIP THE LORD!

Oh! worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness, in the beauty of holiness, in the beauty of holiness!

Glory to the Father,
Abounding in mercy!
Be joyful, all ye people,
And magnify Jehovah.

CHO.—O glory, hallelujah,
Hallelujah, hallelujah!
Oh! come before his presence
And glorify his name!

Glory be to Jesus,
Our gracious Redeemer!
We praise him, for he loved us,
And bro't a great salvation.

Glory to the Spirit,
The Holy Revealer!
We praise him, with the Father
And with the Son, our Saviour.

A CLEVER DOG.

A correspondent writes:—"At Ludgate-circus there is a coffee-house. For months back a dog has been seen going there to purchase for himself certain cakes—one or two, according as he had been given a penny or a half-penny. A trick was played on him one day. The tray of his favorite cookies was hidden. When he deposited his coin he was told to go away. There were no cakes. He put his head up on the counter, sniffed round, ascertained that there really was none to be had, licked up his penny and departed."

Make no Delay.

Is a perfect cure for colds and croup, and I can recommend Hagyard's Yellow Oil—one bottle of which cured me of a very bad cold. I would say to all sufferers, make no delay in using it as it gives quick relief.

It is worse than madness to neglect a cough or a cold which is easily subdued if taken in time becomes, when left to itself, the fore-runner of consumption and premature death. Inflammation, when it attacks the delicate tissue of the lungs and bronchial tubes, travels with perilous rapidity; then do not delay, get a bottle of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, the medicine that grasps this formidable foe of the human body, and drives it from the system. This medicine promotes a free and easy expectoration, subdues the cough, heals the diseased parts, and exerts a most wonderful influence in curing consumption, and other diseases of the throat and lungs. If parents wish to save the lives of their children, and themselves from much anxiety, trouble and expense, let them procure a bottle of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, and whenever a child has taken cold has a cough or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentry and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

Consumption Surely Cured.

To the Editor:—

Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured, I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy free to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send me their Express and P. O. address.

Respectfully, DR. T. A. SLOCUM,
164 West Adelaide st., Toronto, Ont.

MANY A LIFE

HAS been saved by the prompt use of Ayer's Pills. Travelers by land or sea are liable to constipation or other derangements of the stomach and bowels which, if neglected, lead to serious and often fatal consequences. The most sure means of correcting these evils is the use of Ayer's Cathartic Pills. The prudent sailing-master would as soon go to sea without his chronometer as without a supply of these Pills. Though prompt and energetic in operation, Ayer's Pills leave no ill effects; they are purely vegetable and sugar-coated; the safest medicine for old and young, at home or abroad.

"For eight years I was afflicted with constipation, which at last became so bad that the doctors could do no more for me. Then I began to take Ayer's Pills, and soon the bowels recovered their natural and regular action, so that now I am in health."—Mrs. C. E. Clark, Tewksbury, Massachusetts.

"I regard Ayer's Pills as one of the most reliable general remedies of our times. They have been in use in my family for affections requiring a purgative, and have given unvarying satisfaction. We have found them an excellent remedy for colds and light fevers."—W. B. Woodson, Fort Worth, Texas.

"For several years I have relied more upon Ayer's Pills than upon anything else in the medicine chest, to regulate my bowels and those of the ship's crew. These Pills are not severe in their action, but do their work thoroughly. I have used them with good effect for the cure of rheumatism, kidney troubles, and dyspepsia."—Capt. Mueller, Steamship Felicia, New York City.

"I have found Ayer's Cathartic Pills to be a better family medicine for common use than any other pills within my knowledge. They are not only very effective, but safe and pleasant to take—qualities which must make them valued by the public."—Jules Hauel, Perfumer, Philadelphia, Pa.

ENTERPRISE

At the beginning of the present season there were many who thought we were a little over-confident in putting in the stock of Mantles and filling up a Mantle Room in keeping with any house in Canada as we did, and that the trade done here in Guelph was not sufficient to warrant any house in carrying a stock of the size and quality we had selected. We, however, thought differently, and events have proved us to be correct. Time and again have we been complimented by our customers on our handsome Mantle Room and the Choice Goods with which it is filled,—although if that were all we would not consider it a marked success; but when these remarks have been followed up by purchases from us, on the part of those who informed us that they had formerly bought in Toronto, and were much pleased to find we carried goods that rendered going out of Guelph unnecessary, we felt encouraged and rewarded. In one or two instances, we have met customers who have, as in former seasons, purchased in Toronto, and who on seeing our Mantles, expressed themselves as much disappointed at missing the better value they saw in our Show Rooms.

One of the great advantages we claim in this and other departments over others in the trade is that our Mr. Ryan visits the manufacturers in the Old World twice a year, and selects personally the goods we import. To realize the significance of this you have but to ask yourself, "Should I be as well suited by remaining at home and ordering goods by letter from one of the Dry Goods Houses of Guelph, or would it be to my advantage to personally visit the stores, and make my own selection, rather than have another make them for me?"

It may be much easier for the merchant to leave the selections of goods to a man 3,000 miles away, but we would ask—what would he be likely to know about the tastes of your customers?

If you have not as yet paid a visit to our Mantle Room, we think it would repay you to do so.
