NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Among the petitions to the Legislature of North Dakota, is one from Jacob Doomeier, proprietor of a brewery at Grand Focks, asking that the State reimbarie him in the sum of $70,000 on account of damage to his brewery property by the adoption of the prohibition amendment. Why such a petition if "prohibition does not prohibit?"

The Mimster of Education proposes compel the attendance at school of 90,000 children between the ares of seven and thirteen who are now staying away. NOTEN FROM THE CAPITAL. Orriva, Mar. 12 .- As matters have no been particularly stirring about the House This wrek space will allow a short reference to the" l'ares" of Parliament-the duplicate legs of the legislators-and no doubt this will prove of interest to the Frank l'atai readers. The busy seeme below, on the floor of the House, prescuted to the gare of the visitor to the parliamentary gallery during the session is heightened by the continual flitting about of those diminutive human but ferflies known at "pages." These trim little fellows are a sort of auderstudy to the statesmen. Each has some member or scuator whom he admires and imitates and mayban, have within the range of his ambition, to equal some day. The boys take an interest in politics, too : for if there is a change of party or speakers, there are changes made in their ranks. The Senate staff, however, are exempt from the vicissitudes of an election, as their tenure of office is secure, while their age and conduct warrauts their being retained in service. WHY DO WATCH MAINSPRINGS BREAK! Some people say that they only break to give some poor watchmaker h lob, but that's not so. I am a watchmaker and ought to know. We really caunot explain the reason. All we know is that at certain seasons and during thunder storms and sudden atmospheric changes more mainsprings break than during steady weather. It is thus generally attributed to electricity in some way or other, but just how we do not know. When a watchmaker puts in a new one he generally warrants for one year, so that they are likely to put in the best they have so that they will not have to put in another for nothing, so don't think it is because we put in poor ones. Importing for Spring.

Our MR. RYAN sailed from London, England, on Saturday, 15th iust., per Steamer Arizona of the Guiou Line, having completed his purchashes for Spring and Summer. We can hardly over estimate the advantages to our customers of the Personal Selection of all importations by one familiar with the requirements not only of the Canadian trade in general, but of the Guelph trade in particular; our long experience in importing having proved to us the marked infectiority of letter orders (which we make use of only for repeat orders) as compared with selectious from the manufacturers' stocks made in person by an experienced buyer.

Mr. KYAN states'tout never has he been better satisfied than with the Spring Goods just purchased, the shades, excellence and novelty of which will delight our customers. We expect to open up many lines of New Goods early in March, and can promise the ladies of Guelph and vicinity a variety and assortment of Spring and Summer Goods which they will look for in vain elecwhere.

Meanwhile bear in mind that we are still closing out our Winter Goods at sale praces, as room must be made for the Spring Importations.
