NOTES AND COMMENTS.
A correspondent in Home columns that he is authorized to announce that the "Lope" would continue to act as mediator through which the simultaneous disarming of European nations might be brought about.

In New York a life insurance company has lent $100,000 to a church, and the church has lent the lives of a number of its members insured in favor of itself, and a paper there speaks of it as something unusual. It is an old method in Canada.

Bob Bardeux was a philosopher, a Christian and a friend of the down-trodden when he said: "God wanted more men like me, so he made me so mean as to be a philosopher." The number of liquor saloons in New York City is estimated to be 7,000, and in Brooklyn, 3,000—15,000 in all. The average income of each saloon is estimated at not less than $4,000 annually, making $60,000,000 taken from the people of the two cities to support the liquor traffic.

An extraordinary thing has occurred in the United States. Lyburne has been brought to trial and convicted. The right of supposed criminals to a fair trial has for once been vindicated. If this sort of thing were done a little more frequently, American freedom and justice would be held in more respect.

The bookkeeping business is an extensive one in this Province, some 35,000 persons being engaged in it. Of late years foul work has appeared among the books and legislation is now sought for the proper inspection and regulation of the business in this particular, which the Minister of Agriculture is promoting.

An exchange says a place is what the people make it. Nothing more, nothing less. Every person in a town is a factor and a power, be it little or big or mean. Individual infirmities and interests are bound together as one. Therefore a little step forward, a little effort on the part of all, it what pushes a town into prominence and prosperity.

Of all the strange paradoxes of our time, the strangest seems to be that of a person who teaches that intoxicating liquor is physically evil, and morally and socially seductive and corrupting; who warns the public against the tavern as a trap and a temptation to ruin; yet who in his relation of citizen, takes part in the election of men who sanction the sale of drink, who he decries and denounces.—Dr. F. L. Lee.

As a novelty for the World's Fair to be held at Chicago in 1893, P. T. Barnum proposes an exhibition and sale of the remains of King Balthazar of Egypt, the Pharaoh of the Exodus, as well as those of his daughter, the discoverer of Moses. These corpses are now in a museum at Book, in Egypt, and Barnum has offered the Egyptian monarch $100,000 for the right of exhibiting them in Europe and America. The idea, he says, might bring in a million dollars but he is willing to transfer all his rights to the World's Fair committee.

Provincial Treasurer Ryle has introduced a Bill respecting exemptions from taxation, and the principal features of the Bill are to provide for the taxation of churches and educational establishments for local improvement. Public schools are not included in the Bill, but universities, colleges, or any institution of learning, will be liable to the local improvement tax. Mercantile stocks will be subject to taxation to their full value. Clergy members' residences and their salaries will be taxed under the provisions of the Bill, and they will be placed upon the same footing as other citizens.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.
A number of the friends of Mr. William Waidie and family, who are about to remove to the North-west, proceeded to his residence on Tuesday evening to spend an hour with them prior to their departure. The visit was made the occasion for the presentation of the following address accompanied by a watch and chain to Mr. Waidie and a crest for Mr. Waidie's son, Mr. W. W. Waidie.
DEAR FRIENDS—At the time of last approach, when you proposed to leave your home, we cannot allow you to leave your home without some tangible way of appreciation of your past, honest and upright character and neighborly help during your residence for so many years amongst us.
We ask you to accept this watch and chain for yourself, and this crest for your estimable son, as a remembrance of our good will and kind regards for you both, and as a token to your dear home may remind you that you will have many warm friends in Acton and vicinity who wish you good and every blessing that heaven can bestow, in your journey through life.
We exceedingly regret your removal to distant lands but trust that our love will be your aid. With our best wishes for the future happiness and prosperity of yourself and family.
We remain, faithfully,
Geo. Waidie,
John Harvey, COMMITTEE,
W. J. King,
and 20 others.

Mr. Waidie was taken completely by surprise. He thanked his friends for their beautiful presents, and though his words were few there was no lack of evidence of appreciation on his part of the favor bestowed. Mr. D. Henderson spoke on behalf of Mrs. Waidie, thanking the donors for their remembrance of her in well chosen words. The watch is a splendid, deep-proof, stem wind, Elgin jeweled, with heavy curb chain and seal, and the case bears the following inscription:
Presented by WILLIAM WAIDIE
and his Acton friends
March 16th, 1890.
Both the watch and the crest were purchased at the jewelry store of Mr. George Hynd.

He was 150 Years Old.

THE PUBLIC PARK.
Comparatively few of our citizens are aware of the beauty and value of the public park recently acquired by the municipal Council for the use of the public and improvement of the town. Since the appointment of the Citizens' Committee to work in conjunction with the Council in the improvement and management of the park—a few weeks ago—a good many have, however, come to realize the value, importance, and extent of this excellent property.

Taking time by the forelock the committee a few weeks ago made a careful survey of the park and its environment and arranged for numerous improvements. One of these was the extension of the half-mile track westward some fifty feet or so in order to effect more room for the entrance, and thus avert the danger of accidents, which has heretofore existed. The jog on the north side of the track is being taken out and the course made perfectly straight on each side with long turns at the ends.

This latter is no small matter to accomplish, as it necessitates the filling in of a bay in the pond 100 feet long, 15 to 40 feet wide and six to twelve feet deep. Work upon this was commenced last week. The curb work has been put in with commendable expedition, and by the aid of bees in which a large number of citizens and horses have taken part nearly enough brush and other material has been conveyed across the foot of the point, where it is required for the work. As soon as the mud is out of the ground other bees will be arranged for filling in the earth to the proper height.

Further improvements are contemplated, among which are:—A plan of the park is being prepared and a systematic arrangement made for the planting of trees at suitable points throughout the grounds each year, the pretty little grove at the west end is to be underplanted and cleared out; the grand stand to be removed to a more central point and an additional entrance made. This work will all be accomplished with dispatch, and will but trivial expense to the municipality if the people heartily unite in its performance as they have done during the past week.

The community is under obligation to Mr. Pearson for his successful marshalling of the forces in connection with the work; to Mr. John Harvey for his kindness in setting apart for park purposes the portions of the property belonging to his wife's privilege which are being utilized in the improvements under way, and to Mr. Thomas Cameron for supplying force of charge the material used for filling up the gap.

It is hoped the public generally will take an interest in the improvements referred to and that it should be understood by all that when arrangements are made for any particular day all are invited to assist.

THE BENEVOLENT SOCIETY.
New and important Evidence of the Benevolent Society's work is being manifested. On Wednesday, March 19.—The settlement over the Benwell tragedy is dying out to a certain extent. Birchall still continues to maintain the same coolness that has from the first distinguished him. He is a light-hearted and jovial as he was the first day he was arrested. He talks freely about all sorts of things, but never makes the slightest reference to the murder. His conduct is not that certainly of a man weighed down with a binding remorse, and at the same time there is very little of that feeling of fear and shame which often distinguishes the innocent. He is at least calm, and his conduct is certainly remarkable.

NEW EVIDENCE.
To-day, with very much reluctance, Miss Lockhart in company with Detective Murray visited the goal to see if she could identify the prisoner as the man who was on the train and had talked with her at Eastwood. When the cap was placed on Birchall she recognized it also. I remember when they were on the train wearing Eastwood, Birchall was talking to his friend and acquaintances as if he were pointing to something through the window. He leaned his head back and the cap fell off. He turned around, and young Benwell got up and picked the cap up. The prisoner is the man that accompanied Benwell, and I had a good look at both their faces, and I saw them both get at Eastwood." Miss Lockhart will prove a very important witness at the trial. Detective Murray left here this evening for Toronto.

THE PRISONER'S VIEW.
The prisoner is fully aware of all the evidence which has been brought against him, but he says that he is able to clear himself, "my dear boy," he says, and does not feel perfectly confident that "being innocent, I must be acquitted." Detective Murray started without anything of a single clue, and in a short space has succeeded in unscrambling a case of singular strength against the prisoner. The peculiar part of the whole affair is that Birchall seems to entertain a sincere regard for Murray. He says that he is a clever man and that he cannot help respecting him. Murray has attended to Birchall's wants in a most humane manner since his confinement in Woodstock jail.

Birchall reads a great deal, but always has a smile of welcome for the jailer or any one else who is allowed to visit him. He made his first move towards a defence yesterday by telegraphing to lawyer James A. Macdonald, of Toronto. The lawyer appeared upon the scene in response late last night and to-day visited the jail, when he remained cloistered with his client for two hours. Macdonald refused to be interviewed after he had left his client, and would simply state that he had a good defence.

THE DOMINION ILLUSTRATED.
A good deal of the last issue of the Dominion Illustrated is devoted to Newfoundland, an island which, although not yet comprised within the Dominion of Canada, is almost certain to be one with us in some very distant future. St. John's and P. Lewis, the places depicted in this number, are of interest, not only for their bold, grand scenery, but also for their historical associations. The new Deputy Head of the State Department occupies the third page, and the Hon. Charles D. Smith, and Mr. Egerton, O'Brien, M. P., and Hall, M. P. represent the public use of the Maritime Province, old Canada and the North-West. Altogether a comprehensive and interesting number. The Dominion is published at 75 St. James street, Montreal.

OUR CAPITAL LETTER.
Proposition in View—The Senate Alleviate Weighty Greeting—The Bykert Case.
NOTES AND COMMENTS.
OTTAWA, March 10.—It would look as if the Government were going to hurry matters now. Sir John Macdonald gave notice yesterday that he would move on Thursday next that for the remainder of the session Government measures shall have precedence on Wednesday, 26 inst. after questions put by the members. This leaves private members only one day a week.

THE SENATE ALLEVIATE.
The senate came perilously near having a lively time Friday afternoon. The Hon. Mr. Clewlow did not go on with the debate of the Orange Bill in a this house, and so innocently moved that the adjournment until Monday next. Monday next, as all the world knows, Senator Clewlow knew was the 17th of Ireland. But he did not remain long in ignorance of this fact. The hasty notes of Hon. John O'Donohue fell upon his ear and bore upon him the knowledge that in proposing to read the Orange bill he was proposing to read in the opinion of Ireland's nobles representative, leaped unadvisedly upon the Irish race the world over. Mr. O'Donohue waxed exceedingly indignant and wrathful, but Senator Clewlow receded before the storm and the Chamber was saved a scene of excitement. The bill was voted for Tuesday next.

NOTICE OF ANNUAL MEETING.
Mr. Adam Brown has received from Sir Charles Tupper an honorary testimonial of the Royal Humane Society signed by the Duke of Argyll to read to a young German named Albert Ebenbeck, resident at Heppeler, who, on the 20th August, 1889, saved the life of Miss Rebecca Heath, who was in imminent danger of drowning at Port Dover. Mr. Brown will at a convenient date make the presentation to Mr. Ebenbeck.

A REVERENT GENTLEMAN.
Mr. Alonzo Wright, M. P., the genial chief of the Gaitinets, invited a party of 22 of the "men of the House" to visit his residence at Inneside on Thursday where they spent most pleasant afternoon. A feature of the day was a weighing match and it turned out that the combined weight of the party was 4,677 lbs., giving an average of 213 lbs. Twenty one out of the 22 present were Canadian born which about the size of material Canada can produce. The "king himself" was the heaviest man in the party, tipping the scales at 255 lbs. Manoloba, in the person of Mr. LaRivière, ran a close second with 237 lbs.; British Columbia, in Mr. Esrie, was third with 230 lbs.; J. E. L. represented by Commodore Walsh, 230 lbs.; Ontario, represented by Mr. Macgregor, 227 lbs., and so on.

The remarkable fact was pointed out the other day in the House that although the C. P. R. has been running eight years, and that not a railway in the world but meets with an accident at some time or other, that during the period named not a single person has been killed in an accident on the main line of the great Canadian road.

THE "BATTLE" OUTRAGE.
Mr. Landerkin asked the other day if the Government had taken any action in relation to the outrage which was last season committed upon a young man on the steamer "Battle," which resulted in his death. Mr. Clewlow in the briefest manner mentioned the case on Monday night, and as already foretold it has been decided to refer the whole matter to the committee on privileges and elections. Many members participated in the debate, but the chief interest was centered in the two opposing speeches made by Mr. Blake and Sir John Thompson. Both were delivered in a calm and judicial spirit but from different standpoints. Mr. Blake while aware of referring the matter to the committee, thought Mr. Rykert had not done his duty before the House that he might have done and he hoped that the member for Lincoln be given another chance from his seat in Parliament to complete the evidence. Sir John Thompson contended that, in justice to Mr. Rykert, he having stated that before the committee he could produce witnesses to exonerate himself, and that those witnesses could not be heard in any other way, the request expressed should be granted. The Minister of Justice said he felt strongly that the dignity of Parliament should be maintained in this matter, and he promised that in the event of the reference to the committee being assented to the report should be presented before adjournment, and that the Government would not endeavor to influence any member as to what course he should take. Sir John Thompson's declaration had a surprising effect upon the Opposition, as Mr. Laurier, after having consulted with Mr. Blake and Sir Richard Cartwright, rose and intimated that they would support the proposal to refer the whole matter to the committee, and so for the present the venue is changed.

Mr. John Waidie M. P. for your county, was a guest of Speaker Oaimet at his dinner last week.

Hon. Mr. Foster has given notice that the Budget will probably be delivered on Friday next if not then it will certainly be ready following week.

The Hon. J. A. Chaplain is quite seriously ill, the old trouble having returned to his throat. His physician recommends that he again try the air of southern France.

Lady Stanley will leave for England on the 26th inst. but will return in time to assist Lord Stanley in giving an official welcome to the Duke of Connaught in May. The Duke when here will be the guest of Lord Stanley and Sir George Stephen.

Lady Macdonald was on Monday presented with a handsome malacca vase, eight feet in height, by the Ottawa Irish Conservative in connection of Patrick's birthday. The present cost $500.

Ninety-four petitions were presented in the Senate Monday afternoon, the largest number ever headed in on one day. Most of them were in favor of the Sabbath Observance Bill.

The Senate has passed Senator Almon's bill regarding marriage with a deceased wife's sister.

A BOON TO THE AFFLICTED.
Mr. Eason—It is well known that the majority of people are inclined to look upon a cold in the head as a matter of little importance—involving at the most only a temporary inconvenience. No more disastrous mistake was ever made! The neglected cold in the head is the source of the catarrhal affections with which about seven-tenths of the people of this country are afflicted, and catarrh itself is too often the preliminary stage to consumption and death. The symptoms of catarrh are manifold, but among them may be mentioned, offensive breath; daily oppressive headache; offensive droppings from the nostrils into the throat and bronchial tubes; deafness or partial deafness; constant sneezing and spitting; weak and watery eyes; a hacking cough and feeling of general debility; ringing in the ears and frequent dizzy spells. These are but a few of the more general symptoms, and those who may be mentioned, offensive breath; daily oppressive headache; offensive droppings from the nostrils into the throat and bronchial tubes; deafness or partial deafness; constant sneezing and spitting; weak and watery eyes; a hacking cough and feeling of general debility; ringing in the ears and frequent dizzy spells. These are but a few of the more general symptoms, and those who experience them should lose no time in applying a remedy—delayers are proverbially dangerous, and in the case of this too prevalent disease may lead to death. We offer Nasal Balm to the public as a positive cure for cold in the head and catarrh in all its forms and stages. Nasal Balm has been tested in thousands of cases, and the testimonials in our possession prove that it is all we claim for it. It has cured other sufferers—it will cure you. It is easy to use, pleasant and agreeable and does not require a douche, or any torturing instrument to apply it. Give it a trial and be convinced of its great efficacy. Sold by all dealers or sent postpaid on receipt of price—50c. for small or $1 for large size bottles, by addressing FETTERSON & CO., Brookville, Ont.
