The Young Folks.

A VERY GOOD REASON.

BY JOSEPHINE POLLARD.

Said Robert: "I wonder why Kate has not married."

In all the long years that have fled;

There must be a reason why she has these scars.

While all her occupations are wed.

And home or abroad, at a picnic or party.

The lightest and most important there.

"See Nell was not pretty in form or in feature.

And almost too late for her.

"And I cannot remember what John, that good creature.

Could see a mistake here.

Yet she is well settled; a model of duty;

And yet in situations of grace or of beauty.

She can't hold a candle to Kate.

"And there are her sisters, her nieces and cousins.

All married and living at ease;

While she who had visions, alas! by the boxes

Has shown herself a failure in these things.

With men of high rank she is accustomed to Engage.

Has had many offers, and so

The reason why she at her age remains single

I really am puzzled to know.

"Why we in our youth were like stars and brother.

I partly called her "my wife."

And vowed with a loyal devotion, no other

should be my companion through life.

I lived with her but she had no thought of my passion.

The dear little innocent!

And rather than see her left out in this fashion,

I'll go through to her myself!"

Said Robert to Kate, in the honeymoon season,

"My darling, pray tell me the truth;

I often have wondered what the reason

That you did not wed in your youth.

Said Kate, with a look of reproach, as if understanding the amount of indiscretion done.

And a blush that was ever sweet and becoming.

"You know I was waiting for you."

"Have you a pain in your chest?"

asked the doctor of the man with the inked.

"Don't call this a chest, do you?"

said the patient with a wheeze. "Seems to me

more like a gripe sac."

It is said of a young man, who attended a certain Church and gave one cent when the collection plate came round, that he smoked three cents' worth of pipe.

If you have a cough or a cold do not neglect it; many without a trace of this hereditary disease have drifted into a con-

sumptive's grave by neglecting what was only a slight cold. Had they used Bickie's

Anti-Consumptive Syrup before it was too late, their lives would have been spared.

Mr. A. W. L. Wray, Mitchell, writes:

JINGLES AND JOKELETS.

Half an Hour With the Wise Men, the With

and the Funnies, and the Day.

As an aid to internal medicine for skin diseases, Dr. Low's Sulphur Soap proves very valuable.

To cure croup, give 10 to 30 drops of Yellow Oil on sugar internally, and rub the throat and chest with the Oil. It never fails.

Josephine Denton.

It is a privilege to recommend Hygeia's

Yellow Oil. It is a sure cure for chapped hands, swellings, sore throat, croup, etc.

Mrs. Geo. Wain, Josephine P. O., Ont.

STURGEON CHILDREN take Dr. Low's

Worm Syrup. It pleases the child and destroys the worms.

Burdock Blood Bitters is a medicine made from roots, bark and herbs, and is the best known remedy for dyspepsia, constipation and biliousness, and will cure blood diseases from a common pure to the worst scrofulous sore.

Quick Relief For Headache.

Headache suffered with relief, and tried everything I could think of without effect

until I used Burdock Blood Bitters, which relieved me right away, and I am now remarkably well.

ANNIE TORRANCE, Glen Almond, Que.

"MAY BEEN MANY MEN" but all men

and all mind are due to the merits of Burdock Pills, small and sugar-coated.

Hayard's Doctoral Balsam loosens the phlegm, curing coughs, colds, hoarseness, asthma, bronchitis and all affections of the throat and lungs.

One Little Plague.

I owned a litter of pigs. They thrived

well until a month old, when their throats

swelled, and spite of all remedies they all died except one, which was nearly dead.

Langhingly I said I would try Yellow Oil and gave it a thorough application. He improved at once, and soon was all right.

WILLIAM WATSON.

Brinsley, Ont.

"When the spring-time comes," we usually find ourselves drowsy and exhausted

owing to the impure and stagnant state of the blood. To remedy this specific, take

Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the most powerful, yet safe and economical, blood-purifier in existence.

The supposition of the blood is caused by the iron in it. Supply the iron when lacking by using Mithern's Beef, Iron and Wine.

Special Announcements.

We have made arrangements with Dr.

B. J. Kendall Co., publishers of "A Treatise on the Horse and His Diseases," which will enable all our subscribers to obtain a copy of that valuable work free by sending their address (and enclosing a two-cent stamp for mailing the same) to B. J.

Kendall Co., Edinburgh Falls, Vt. This book is now recognized as standard authority upon all diseases of the horse, as its phenomenal sales attest—over four million

copies having been sold in the past few years, a sale and success which is a testimony to the value of the work. We feel confident that our patrons will appreciate the work, and be glad to avail themselves of this opportunity of obtaining a valuable work.

It is necessary that you mention this page in sending for the "Treatise." This offer will remain open for only a short time.

A Traveller's Experience.

Mr. William Leavitt, representing Messrs

James Holden & Co., Montreal, states:—

Nasal Balm is the best preparation on earth

for catarrh, my own case being of the worst kind; and after trying every remedy

offered without relief, I was induced to try

Nasal Balm, which afforded immediate relief. The rapid manner in which it stopped the droppings of poisonous secretion

from the head and throat, is truly wonderful, and should be known to every sufferer

from catarrh or cold in the head.

It is necessary that you mention this

page in sending for the "Treatise." This

offer will remain open for only a short time.

Mr. Jacob D. Miller, Newbury, writes:

"I was troubled with inflammation of the Eyes, so that during nearly the whole of the summer of 1882 I could not work; I took several bottles of Northrop & Lyman's

Vegetable Discovery, and it gave me great pleasure to state that it cured me of my affliction. It is an excellent medicine for catarrhs."
