NOTES AND COMMENTS.

"Read the local newspapers and pay for them," is one of the suggestions given by a correspondent to the Bureau of Industries, as a means of preventing the farmer from being the victim of the innumerable frauds to which be is daily exposed.

The American journals rejoice over the news that the Weldon Extradition Act is to be proclaimed, and that " Canada will no longer be a haven for American boodlers." The United States will still remain a haven for Canadian boodlers, however.

Notwithstanding that the write for the local elections were recalled the dates remain as at first announced-nominations May 29th, polling June 5th. Hundreds of minis ters and laymen of the Methodist, Disciple and other religious bodies are consequently disfranchised owing to the fact that their annual meetings are arranged to open on the 4th and 5th of June.

A noticeable feature in the pending Ontario elections is the number of young men who have been put in the field. The reason cessity in the Legislature. -Star.
