NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Minnesota drinkers are now handled under a law which makes it compulsory for a court to imprison a person convicted of drunkenness for the third time. It has decreased drunkenness in that state 50 per cent. in a year, and has considerably diminished the sale of liquor.

An exchange says:—Calculating on the basis of the voted cast, in the past four years, it would take just about two years, to secure a majority of the British House of Commons in favor of disestablishment. In the time to come there will be complete separation of church and state everywhere.

The Toronto Telegram (Conservative) says:—“Of all the small-sized laws ever imported into Ontario protect the com plant about the Ontario Government's dealing with the Parliament Buildings is the smallest. There is absolutely nothing in it. From beginning to end the Government has acted in the best interests of the country in this matter.”

The Fielding Administration seems to have won a complete victory in Nova Scotia last week. At the last provincial election they carried thirty-two of the thirty-eight seats, and their majority on this occasion is nearly as large. Their platform in 1890 was Secession from Confederation and Reciprocity with the United States. They dropped the Secession cry in the campaign just closed, and had little to say about the other question.

The Dominion railway subsidies this session are quite extensive. The total for Ontario is $1,483,000. Quebec gets $1,272,000, granted to sixteen enterprises; New Brunswick, $367,000, to seven new roads; Nova Scotia, $490,000 to two roads; British Columbia, $112,000, to the Kootenay railway; and Prince Edward Island, $9,600 to one road. The grand total is $3,855,000. The roads are all to be commenced within two years from the time of July next.

The worst symptom of corruption in the body politic of Canada is not that men like Mr. Ryker should be found ready to subvert their positions as members of Parliament in order to enrich themselves at the country's expense, but that contumacious like Lincoln should be found to condone such practices. For the Conservative party the re-election of Mr. Ryker is a doubtful victory. It may not be claimed as a victory at all, it may be agreed that his party disowned him when he consented to the vote of censure, but it will hardly be claimed that had the Government wanted very badly to beat Mr. Ryker in Lincoln, it could not have done so—Montreal Star.

Henry M. Stanley has been telling the Government and people of Great Britain some very plain truths. With the directness of a man who is sure of his ground and knows whereof he speaks, he has pointed out how golden opportunities have been lost by the English in Africa. As a matter of fact, it seems that Englishmen have not fully realized the kind of German policy in the dark continent. The Germans are an amiable people and their Government has conceived the idea that instead of allowing their people to go to the building up of the United States, they should be turned into colonies of their own. Africa being the only part of the world open to colonization, and eastern Africa being the best part of it for European, either the German Government has directed its energies on this new path of national enterprise. England of late years has grown somewhat indifferent to her colonies, and to this indifference may be attributed the dilatoriness of which Mr. Stanley complains.

“Canada will,” says Mr. Ahn, of the Dominion Gold & Silver Reduction Co., of Almonte, “develop in the course of a year or two, into a great mining country.” The mineral belt starts at Nova Scotia, traverses the Quebec district where there are numerous phosphates, and then continues its course to the silver belt at Port Arthur, where there is a mighty hidden wealth that was dreamt of in Old Mexico. Going westward still you get to the gold-bearing lodes in the neighborhood of the Lake of the Woods. Then it seems to break off, and northward, near Winnipeg, you get into the arid regions of the prairies. “In Sudbury,” added Mr. Ahn, “there is, I believe, a greater combination of metals than there is any part of the world. The quantity of platinum there is absolutely fabulous, and is a mineral of great value now, for it has doubled itself within the past few years. There are auriferous deposits at Thessalon, 40 or 50 miles west of Sudbury, worth thousands of dollars to the ton. New finds are continually reported and copper is to be found in great abundance.”—Chicago Canadian-American.

Saftey With a Pocket Knife.

GUY, May 27.—Thomas E. Fisher, aged about 40 years, was found in his own house last night stabbed in the left breast, over the heart. Dr. Wardlaw was summoned but found it impossible to save the man's life. An open pocket knife was discovered under the table. It is considered a case of suicide, although no reason for such an act are known, except that the deceased is said to have a violent temper and was under the influence of liquor yesterday. The dead man leaves a widow and four young children.

Two Horses Killed by Lightning.

REV. GARTHWAITE, May 27.—During the heavy lightning and thunder storm that passed over here on Saturday night, Mr. W. C. Batch, who lives a few miles out, had two valuable horses killed by lightning. The horses were found dead under a tree without a mark on either of them.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

The Board Organized and Prepared to carry out the Provisions of the Health Act.

The members of the Local Board of Health met on Monday evening for organization.

Members present: W. H. Storey, Reeve, T. Moore, Clerk, Dr. Halsted, Medical Health Officer, W. R. Kenney, James McLam and H. P. Moore.

Upon motion of Rev. Storey and W. R. Kenney H. P. Moore was elected chairman.

Arrangements were made for the annual house to house inspection to take place commencing next week.

Citizens will do well to note that prompt measures will be taken to rid the municipality of any nuisance dangerous to public health.

Section 99 of the Public Health Act says:—Any Medical Health Officer or Sanitary Inspector may at all reasonable times inspect or examine any animal, carcass, meat, poultry, game, fish, flesh, fruit, vegetables, grain, bread, flour or milk exposed for sale or preparation for sale and intended for food for man, and if any such animal, etc., appears to such Medical Health Officer or Inspector to be diseased or unsound or unwholesome or unfit for food he may seize and carry away to be destroyed or disposed of so as to prevent it from being exposed for sale or used for food.

The person to whom the same belongs, or did belong at the time of exposure for sale, or in whose possession or premises it was found, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding $100 for every offence, or at the discretion of the convicting justice or magistrate, without the infliction of a fine, to imprisonment for a term not more than three months.

Any person who prevents the Sanitary Inspector or Medical Health Officer from entering his premises for the purpose of inspection shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding $25.

The public will do well to take note of these provisions. They are not calculated to harass dealers in the foods referred to, but for the preservation as far as possible of the public health.

Upon motion of Messrs. Storey and McLam the Board adjourned to meet on Wednesday, 14th June.

A FEELER FROM FRANCE.

LONDON, May 27.—The Paris Figaro, in an article analyzing the relations between France and England, advances the suggestion that Lord Salisbury fix a date when England will evacuate Egypt. Such action on the part of Great Britain, the Figaro assures its readers, would be the beginning of a speedy settlement of the existing difference between the two countries, over which there has been so much fruitless controversy. In return for England's withdrawal from Egypt, France would consent to relinquish her rights in Ferdinandland, and thus the only part of the world open to colonization, and eastern Africa being the best part of it for European, either the German Government has directed its energies on this new path of national enterprise. England of late years has grown somewhat indifferent to her colonies, and to this indifference may be attributed the dilatoriness of which Mr. Stanley complains.
