THE NEWS AT HOME.

Mostly of a Local Character, and Every Item Interesting.

ACTON AS THE HUB.

The Oat Crop Affected.

A number of the farmers in this section complain that the oat crop gives signs of failure, or only a small crop. In general appearance the plant is dwarfed, and the leaves, especially the lower ones, are brown and red and the stalk has the appearance of being rusted.

Boat Racing, The Rage.

The boat race between J. A. McMillan and George Wilds, on Monday evening attracted several hundred spectators to Fairy Lake. A hotly contested race was rowed in which the contestants were pretty evenly matched, but owing to a dispute as to where the finishing line was the referee declared the race off and decided that it should be rowed again on Friday evening.

A Little Boy Broke his Arm.

Little Josey Bingham, the eight-year-old son of Mr. Robt. Bingham, had a painful termination to his sport on Monday morning. He, with a number of other children, was playing in the yard and while jumping from an apple tree fell and broke his right arm between the wrist and elbow. He is a brave little chap and is doing well. A little over a year ago he had the misfortune to break his leg.

Practical Economic Cooking.

The editor of the Parkhill Review in asking his readers to pay up subscriptions eloquently remarks: "When the 'free breezes of heaven waft over your fields of promising grain, along with the dimples of itsgladsome laughter which chase one another in quick succession, as steam after steam bore its bounty laden head in giving assent to the promise of a good harvest, remember those whose constant and unremitting duty is to record the incidents of life in the surroundings.'

St. Alban's Garden Party.

The lawn social held last Thursday evening on St. Alban's parsonage grounds was largely attended. The evening was pleasant and the large company thoroughly enjoyed themselves. Acton Cornet Band discoursed lively and entertaining music; the ladies dispensed the season's delicacies and Rev. and Mrs. Cooke exerted themselves to secure pleasure to their many guests. The grounds were illuminated with Japanese lanterns. The proceeds amounted to over $40.

The Twelfth at Milton.

A large number of the lodges, of the Orange Order visited Milton on Saturday last, the 200th anniversary of the Battle of Boyne. The town was en fete, and the sports and speech-making passed off without a hitch. The Lady Tree Blues of Guelph were given the post of honor in the procession. The speakers of the day were Mr. A. F. Campbell, M.P.P., for West Algoma, Mr. D. Henderson, ex-M.P., Acton, and Col. Kerns, M.P.P. There were a good many bibulous visitors on the occasion.

Runaway Casualty.

On Saturday an exciting runaway occurred at the farm of Mr. Andrew Croe, of the sixth line Erin. His son and daughter were coming to town with their usual consignment of farm produce and the son was in the act of getting into the rig when the raising of a parasol frightened the horse and he bolted through a narrow gateway smashing the buggy and rendering unmarketable the produce. The young lady was thrown out and had her wrist dislocated while the brother received several severe bruises.

The Waving Grain Reminder.

The Free Press is in receipt of a copy of the Prize Essay on "Practical Sanitary and Economic Cooking adapted to persons of Moderate and Small Means," by Mrs. Mary Hinman Abel; from the American Public Health Association. To this essay was awarded the first prize among seventy competitors, and the unanimous opinion of the able Judges of Award, and testimonials from members of the American Public Health Association prove that it is a work of great practical value, and that it would in many cases assist in securing to families health, comfort, and happiness in life, if it could be placed in their hands.

A Painful Mower Accident.

An eight year old son of Mrs. Coleman, widow, had his right foot badly injured while at the residence of his uncle, Mr. J. Stevenson, near Crewson's Corners, last week. The little fellow went out to the hay field with his uncle who had just commenced haying. He was on the first round of the field, and the boy, unseen by the driver of mower, stood in the hay out of the way of the horses, but in the way of the mower cutting bar. The mower knive caught his left foot at the ankle joint and cut half way through before it was stopped. The wound is a very serious one. Dr. Lowry dressed it but says it is hard at present to say whether or not the poor little fellow will have any further use of his foot.

Serious Runaway Accident.

Last Wednesday evening Mr. Henry Cole, Jun., had an experience which he will ever remember. He was driving up Church street and was just turning the corner at Maria street when a large dog sprang out and frightened his horse. He was thrown out and the animal continued with his two little daughters in the buggy. At Guelph street they were thrown out upon the barbed wire fence surrounding the G. T. R. grounds. At the eastern crossing a train was standing and the horse wheeled down the track, and continued its course over the cattle-guards and down as far as the semaphore. Here it was stopped in front of an approaching train. Mr. Cole hit his shoulder dislocated, and the upper part of the shoulder blade broken. The little girls, who were out for the first time after a severe attack of whooping cough, were considerably scratched by the barbed wire. The buggy was badly wrecked. The injured father and daughters were taken into the residence of Mr. A. Laing, where their wounds were dressed.

—The usual trip of the Canadian Press Association has been declared off, this year owing to the fact that a representative number of members failed to signify their willingness to participate.

To every customer buying a pair of $5.00 pants they give the privilege of guessing the number of pieces in a composite cane, and to every purchaser of a suit three guesses. On the 15th September an uninterested committee of gentlemen will count the pieces in the cane and the person who has guessed the correct number of pieces it contains will be awarded a selection from any piece of cloth in the shop of a fine pair of pants.

—Great Semi-Annual Sale now going on. G. B. RYAN & Co.

The prisoner pleaded not guilty, but the offence was proved and he was sentenced to two months in jail. A dose of the cat would have done him no harm.—Champion.

A party of Bulgarians with two tame bears gave our town a call last week but failing to rake in many shekels they left for more inviting localities.

The Herald of last week, in reporting a shoot by our local Gun Club, gives one of the shootists the credit of performing a feat accomplished only twice in the annals of trap shooting in Canada, viz: breaking 30 straights. Surely the Herald's sporting editor could not have fully recovered from the effects of the aqua fortis which the Reformer suggested had been taken on board before reporting the recent lacrosse match. We would like to see him prove his statement. We fear the Herald's reports of sporting events are akin to his editorials, containing little of the reliable and less of anything.

That was a heavy storm you had in Acton last week and we just got the tail end of it in the shape of a 'Cain Break.' Dec. says the Deacon must take the census again.

The latest, and perhaps the most reliable report about local railroad matters is that the N. & N. W. station and the Junction will be done away with entirely and all trains will run down to the old G. T. R. station. The N. & N. W. bridges will be dispensed with and the N. & N. W. road will strike north for the old station.—Herald.

BURLINGTON.

The Budget is already firing at delinquent subscribers. It has issued but five editions.

ROCKWOOD.

The St. Paul Dispatch gives the following account of an attack by a tramp upon Conductor Tom Sullivan, of the Chicago, Burlington & Northern R. R. Mr. Sullivan is an old Rockwood boy and was for a number of years an employee of the G. T. R.:—

"Conductor Tom Sullivan, of the Chicago, Burlington & Northern, was badly cut this morning by a tramp at Fountain City, Wis. He had put two tramps off the train at the railroad crossing and was attending to the passengers at the depot, a few rods further on, when one of the men reappeared from beneath the train and made for him with a knife. Raising his hand to protect his face he received, three ugly gashes on his arm and hand one of them nearly severing his middle finger. The engineer jumped from his engine, followed the villain down the track, overtaking him, and, with a well-directed blow, floored him, when several passengers came up and helped secure the rascal. They tied him up with a rope and kept him till Alma was reached, where the city marshal took charge of him. A gentleman on the train improvised a tourniquet and checked the flow of blood from Sullivan's wound until Dr. Baker, of Alma, boarded the train, tied the severed arteries and sewed up the wounds. It will be a month before Sullivan can use his right hand again."

The sunburnt Hallelujah Lassies (Misses Jones) are announced to hold an Hosanna meeting here on July the 22nd.

The A. O. U. W. Lodge attended service at the Methodist church on Sunday evening. The church was packed to its utmost capacity and crowds were obliged to turn away. Rev. W. Harvey of Guelph preached a very impressive sermon from the text "If ye fulfill the royal law according to the scripture, thou shall love thy neighbor as thyself, ye do well"—James 2:8. NOW LOOK OUT for the generous merchant. His time for dealing out with a free and open hand has come. Watch his advertisements. He assures you of his undying devotion to your welfare. He is ready and aching to load you up free of charge. He wants no money, all he requires is Room! Room! ROOM! The cost of the Goods is not taken into consideration, that don't matter. Money is simply out of the question. He wants to get rid of his wares, and he wants you to get them. His invitations are printed in the biggest of type and with the blackest of ink. His eloquence and rhetoric are worthy of a showman. He exerts himself, excites himself, talks and labors all for the purpose of putting his wares into your hands, almost with money and without price. Generous man—a great benefactor—working for the good of humanity—harming himself. Alas! that he should meet with so little appreciation.

Tell you what we are doing just now. We are letting the people we buy from make the sacrifice. We are just as foolishly anxious as anybody else to get 'out our goods, and we are selling them in many cases at unheard of prices, but we are doing it at a profit. A small profit, its true, but nevertheless a profit. And we never showed such genuine attractions in seasonable goods. The fact is through careful buying and increased selling we had our stock in such excellent condition, that when the time for unloading in the wholesale centres came, we were ready to pick up a line here and there, to gain a bargain here and a sacrifice there, to take advantage of every favorable opportunity to secure nice fresh goods at prices away down. The wholesale people have had to lose the money, and we are able to sell choice fresh goods, in many cases at half their usual price. Not goods that have been sticking on the retailer's shelves, and on which the price had to be cut in two to get them out at all, but choice New Goods, just the right lines for the season. These remarks apply to

Summer Millinery,
Parasols in Black and Fancies,
Summer Silks in Plain and Fancies,
Embroidery Flouncings all widths,
Black Lace Flouncings,
Challies and Light Dress Goods,
Prints of every description.
Lawns and Muslins in Whites and Colors.
Ginghams and Chambreys,
Satteens in elegant styles,
Staple Cottons and Linens,
Summer Tweeds and Serges,
Gent's Summer Underclothing,
Ladies' and Children's Hosiery,
Ladies' and Children's Gloves.

And so on right through our vast and immense stock.

SPECIAL.—We have just received 10 shades of Felting—a very nice quality at a very low price.

Rest assured of one thing. That we never let anybody who pays 100 cents on the dollar undersell us, and no matter at what time of the year and whatever fit of generosity strikes the mercantile community at large, you will always get the nicest goods, the most reliable goods, at the most advantageous prices at
