

The Young Folks.

THE SINGER AND THE SPINNER.

Two sat down in the morning time. One to sing and one to spin. Mrs. Hester sat with a droll look. But no one to the dill wheel's din.

The singer sang with a rouse in her hair, And all were listened to her sweet tone: The spinner spun on with a droll despair. Down in her heart as she sat alone.

But she did on the morrow no one said. Aught of the singer or what she said: Mrs. Hester said, "I don't think it's said: And lo! the rattle of the dill wheel's said."

The world has forgotten the singer's name— Her rose is faded, her roses are old: But far o'er the ocean the spinner's fame: Yet to blossom in lines of gold.

—Ella Wheeler.

CHILDREN'S CORNER.

"I never heard of anything so foolish," exclaimed Mrs. Baker, as she threw herself down on the sofa during her nap.

"What is so foolish?" asked Aunt Ruth. "Why, that little Willie Pecker has signed the pledge, and he is not much more than a baby. I think that might be left for older folks to do."

"Perhaps you don't think quite right," replied Aunt Ruth. "If you wanted to raise a very fine tree, would you allow it to grow cooked till about half-grown or would you let it to a stake when a small sapling, and train it to grow straight?"

"Ruth looked rather confused for a moment before answering. "Why I suppose I would let it to the stake."

"Just so. Now I think the pledge answers something the same purpose for a boy or girl. You think a pledge is not necessary for Willie Pecker, and he is only seven years old, yet at a birthday party near here, the other day, three little boys got up on wine and cider. One little fellow, five years old, they had to carry home drunk to his mother, and he is only a baby, as you say. I think little boys can understand the sacredness of the pledge as well as those older, if they are taught."

"I never thought of it in that way before," said Mrs. Baker. "I had heard other people talk of children signing the pledge, and I thought it was of no use. But I shall not think so any more, and I believe Aunt Ruth, I'll go and sign. I see I have been on the wrong side so far, and now I'll be on the right."

"To state your influence is always on the right side, my dear," said Aunt Ruth. —Band of Hope Review.

A YORKSHIRE COMPARISON.

During the winter, in a case of smallpox and measles, which had been thrown by the defendant, the following clear and conclusive evidence was drawn out of a Yorkshireman:

"Did you see the defendant throw the stone?" "I saw a stone, and I'm pretty sure the defendant threw it."

"Was it a large stone?" "I should say it was a largish stone."

"What was its size?" "I should say a stone's size."

"Can't you answer definitely how big it was?" "I should say it was a stone of some bigness."

"Can't you give the jury some idea of the stone?" "Why, as near as I recollect, it was something of a stone."

"Can't you compare it to some other object?" "Why, if I were to compare it as to give some notion of the stone, I should say it was as large as a lump of chalk."

Announced—Book-keeper—"If you are out when Mr. Owen comes in to-morrow to order a suit of clothes, what will I tell him?" Tailor—"How do you know he's coming?" Book-keeper—"He sent ten dollars to-day to apply on that old account."

Gavin—"Say, Grady, is there wet they make apple-sauce out of?" Grady—"Yes, sonny."

Gavin—"Then I'll give you inter partnership. You furnish the apples and I'll furnish the case?" Tremendous—"Is there any money in your business?" "We paid 50 per cent last year." "Then? How did you manage it?" "Our creditors saw that was all they could get, and they took it."

Consumption Cured. An old physician, retired from practice having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure after having tested the wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Admitted by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp naming this paper, W. A. Notz, 820 Powers Block, Rochester, N. Y.

It is generally conceded among army men that a cavalry attack is a trumped up charge. Queens are apt to have their trials. Just see how Queen Elizabeth used to get ruffled!

F. H. East West Bradford, P. Q., writes—"I have been troubled with Liver Complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit. I tried Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with this effect. No one should be without it. I have tried, on my horse in cases of cuts, wounds, etc., and I think it is equally as good for horse as for man."

Doctor to brother physician—Yes, sir, the sovereign remedy for all life is fresh air and plenty of it. People don't let enough air into their houses. Well, I must hurry; I'm on an errand. Brother Physician—Going far? "No, only down to the hardware store to get half a mile of wire stripping."

Don't Forget That to remove corns, warts, bunions in a few days, all that is required is to apply the old and well-tested corn cure—Pain-Expeller's Corn Extractor. Sure, safe, painless, Putnam's Corn Extractor makes no sore spots hard to heal, acts quickly and painlessly on hard and soft corns.

An Outrage.—A shabby-looking tramp was in the habit of calling at the office of a lawyer and receiving a small sum on account of former acquaintance. Last week the medicant called as usual, but the lawyer said: "I can't assist you any longer, as I've got a wife now, and need all the money I can lay my hands on."

Well, now, that's just coming it a little too strong. Here you actually go and get married at my expense," responded the indignant tramp.

It is hard for a man to face the world when he is out on his back.

The coughing and wheezing of persons troubled with bronchitis or the asthma is excessively irritating to themselves and annoying to others. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil obviates all this entirely, safely, and superior to any other previously imported.

Mr. Brown—"Bridget, I don't understand. You say you paid ten cents for a glass of soda water for Master Edward, and yet he tells me he did not have any."

"That's all right, mum; I bought it for him, but he was so warm, I thought it might hurt him, so I drank it myself, mum."

Mr. W. Thayer, Wright, P. Q., had dyspepsia for 20 years. Tried many remedies and doctors, but got no relief. His appetite was very poor, had a distressing pain in his side and stomach, and gradual wasting away of flesh, when he heard of, and immediately commenced taking, Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. The pains have left and he rejoices in the enjoyment of excellent health in fact he is quite a new man.

Giving Himself a Bad Name. Mr. Banks—"Ah, Mr. Ostrake, glad to see you! Don't you remember me—the doctor of your back when you were young?" Mr. Ostrake—"Really, boy? With I understood that your term at Sing Sing wasn't up for two years? How did you get out?"

Stanley Books. Stanley books are now as common as coughs and colds. To get rid of the latter use Hayard's Pectoral Balm, the best Canadian cough cure for children or adults.
