TRY THIS:

A great many people have an erroneou ides as to the force of water. At a recent entertainment in Leavenworth a wager was made that the strongest man present could not stand a quart of water dropped into his open hand, drop by drop from a beight of three feet. A strong, manly fellow accepted the bet, thinking that, to stand the force of such a small quantity of water, was mere child's play. Before 500 drops had fallen into his hand he almost cried with pain and said he had enough. After a little water had fallen each drop seemed to crush his hand, and a blister in the centre of it was the result. This is a very me about it. I began using it both in- Centra word each insertion, or Twenty the constant dropping weers away stones.
