THE LITTLE LAD'S ANSWER

Our little lad came in one day With dusty shoes and tired feet. His playtime had been hard and long. Out in the summer's noontide heat. "I'm glad I'm bome," he cried, and hung His torn straw hat up in the hall,

He put away his bat and ball. "I wonder why," his aunty said. "This little lad always comes here, When there are many other bomes, As nice as this and quite as near?" He stood a moment, deep in thought.

While in the corner by the door

Then with the love-light in his eye, He pointed where his mother sat, And said : " She lives here, that is why !" With beaming face the mother board ; Her mother-heart was very glad. A true, sweet answer he had given-That thoughtful, loving, little lad.

We tender our hearty thanks to our many patrons for the patient consideration they have shown during the last few weeks when it has been impossible to do justice either to them or ourselves, owing to the confusion inseparable from the alterations we have been making. Under these circumstances, it is highly gratifying to see that the increase in our business which goes on from month to month, and year to year, has been in no way retarded by the changes we have been making.

With the improvements we have been making, we will be able to show our Goods to much better advantage. We will also now have the best lighted, as well as the largest store in the city

We think we may safely say without any appearance of boasting that we have the Largest, Choicest and Cheapest Stock of Dry Goods and Clothing in the city. Our Spring Importations have been nuprecedently large. The usual comment on our Goods is that they were never so beautiful any former season. Especially do we excel in our .

MANUFACTURING DEPARTMENT. Millinery, Mantle, Dressmaking, Clothing.

In all these Departments me have the very best talent, and in each there is a large per centage of increase from season to season in the volume of business done, showing that the public appreciate our efforts to give them the very best work at the least possible price. It is always an easy matter to get the price down by reducing the standard of work, but our effort is to raise the standard of work and still keep the price as low or lower than those who produce inferior work. This can only be done by means of large capital to take cash discounts, access to the best markets, economy in business and close attention to the same, (getting to work at 10 a.m. won't do, we could not give our customers the best results in that way.) Good judgment in buying, selling only for cash and a large turn over in proportion to expenses. In all these things we are pre-eminent and claim to sell from 10 to 20 per cent, under other houses in the same line.
