The Young Folks.

THE LITTLE MUSIC SCHOLAR.—Lives a little girl who is learning how to play. The events to be in earnest; for she sits at her desk, the piano and calls forth most piercing wails. And the task the teacher says she is practicing the cello. This is a real cold playing though I cannot tell what it is. From the stamp in the title, or whatever called like that. But I don't know what are practiced piano were made up. I am a friend of learning that eternal truth again. Now when this little maiden at the first began to play. Two needle-toothed teats that employ her all the time. I red and was quite happy when the fatal day had come. And she was then prompted to this awful tumult. It was first of needle-toothed, and thankful for the change. It showed the young musician was not limited to piano. But still my hopes were empty, it was three long months ago. And I hum-dum, tumba-tumba in all the seats to know. I don't know what to follow, but I know I shall be glad which set off my lungs. At this stage whatever, for it can't be half as bad. I come to this conclusion—you may know my awful grief. I'd welcome needle-toothed as a merciful punishment. With an earthenware unorthodox I hear this. And dream. Just underneath my study at the fearful tumult. I'll have a celebration when the glad day comes, and she is thought to be productive to essay a cure. —Harper's Young People.

Venom of a Toad.

A correspondent of the London Lancet maintains the scientific correctness of Shakespeare's assertion that the toad "sweats venom." He says that this venom is as a tolerably powerful nature and that instead of being secreted by the salivary glands, as in snakes, it is secreted by the skin so that the word "sweated" is most acceptably descriptive. This secretion, Dr. Gathorne states, also occurs in the toad through the parotid glands, the venom being a thick, milky fluid, like the juice of dandelion stalks in taste and appearance. When injected under the skin, it kills small birds in six minutes, and dogs and guinea pigs in half an hour to an hour and a half. The symptoms in birds are loss of coordination, followed by death; in guinea pigs convulsions, and in the dog depression, vomiting and intoxication.

Dr. Gathorne kept a small toad in a cage with some lizards, and one of them, having bitten the toad, became convulsed and died in less than two minutes. His dog having seized a toad, was attacked by instantaneous and profuse salivation, violent vomiting, and collapse. He states also that his hand was poisoned from handling a toad.

A Curious Calculation.

Professor Tyndall once illustrated the value of a single potato by supposing that every potato in the world had been destroyed; that one would contain within itself the possibility of again stocking the world with an invaluable article of food. If one potato would produce, when planted only a crop of ten acres, in ten years the total product of this one potato would be equal to 10,000,000,000, which would be sufficient to restock the whole world with the seed. The real value of that single potato, then, would be such that it would be better that the city of New York or Chicago (Philadelphia—not) should be totally blotted off the face of the world than that that tuber should be lost to man kind.—Philadelphia Press.

At Home and Abroad.

Physicians, travellers, pioneers, settlers, invalids and all classes of people of every degree, testify to the medicinal and tonic virtues of Burdock Blood Bitters, the most popular and effective medicine extant. It cures all diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and blood.

Big Joseph Hickstop has been elected president of the Bottling Commission.

The Long, Liver, Kidney, Bowel, Ac. act as so many gates for the escape of the fat matter and gases from the body.

The use of Northrop's Lyman's Vegetable Discovery helps them to discharge their duty. Mr. W. H. Lester, H. M. Customs, Toronto, writes: "I have personally tested the health giving properties of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery, and can certify as to its great value."

The Northwest colony of Russian Jews will be located at Whitehead, Man.

Cold Weather Trials.

DEAR SIR,—This fall and winter I suffered from neuralgia in my face and had the best medical advice without avail.

At last thought of trying B. B. and after using one bottle have not felt any symptoms of neuralgia since. I regard it as a fine family medicine.

J. T. Drast, Headspool, Man.

Mather Dawson was drowned some time ago in Wyoming. His life was insured for $127,000 and $15,000 was spent in search for the body.

Some Wonderful Echoes.

In a cave in the Pantheon the guide, by striking the flap of his coat, makes a noise similar to that produced by firing a twelve pound gun.

In the cave of Sinelli, near Vibio, finding a bone thrown down a certain abyss makes a reverberating echo which sounds like the dying of some wild animal. This, that rare old gossip, tells of a cave somewhere in Dalmatia where a stone thrown in, raised a regular din of noises. Fingal's Cave, on the Isle of Staffa, has an abnormally development echo.

Nature has provided

A remedy for every ache and pain, and science through ceaseless activity and experiment is constantly creating the secrets of her domain. A new and wonderful discovery has recently been made by means of which tens of thousands will be freed from pain. Nervine, or nerve pain, represents very concentrated form the most potent pain-relieving substitutes known to medical science, and strange to say, it is composed of substances solely vegetable in origin. Polson's Nervine is the most prompt, and pleasant pain remedy in the world. Try Nervine for toothache, neuralgic cramps, Ac., always safe and efficient.

Prince George of Wales will probably marry his cousin Princess Alice of Hesse. She is a charming girl of 30.

If you have a cough or cold do not neglect it, many without a trace of that hereditary disease have driven into a consumption grave by neglecting what was only a slight cold. Had they Bickie's Anti-Consumption Syrup before it was too late, all their lives would have been spared. Mr. W. H. Levy, Mitchell, writes: "I think Bickie's Anti-Consumption Syrup the best preparation on the market for coughs and severe colds." About six years ago I caught a severe cold which settled on my lungs, had for three months. I had a cough, I was afraid of becoming blind, but gradually grew stronger and I was on the verge of Consumption, and this gives me hope of being cured, when I was induced to try Bickie's Syrup. Before I had taken one bottle I found myself greatly relieved, and by the time I had finished the second bottle I was completely cured. I always recommend it for severe colds and consumption."

Sir Edward Watkin is about to wed the widow of Mr. Ingram, founder of the Illustrated London News. She is 83.

Cure for Hypothesis.

As is well known, this troublesome complaint arises from over-eating, the use of too much rich food, reflected constipation, lack of exercise, bad air, etc. The food should be thoroughly chewed and never bolted or swallowed raw, but stimulate must be avoided and exercise taken if possible. A remedy which has rarely failed to give prompt relief and effect permanent cure, even in the most obstinate cases, is Burdock Blood Bitters. It acts by regulating and toning the digestive organs, removing constipation, and increasing the appetite and restoring health and vigor to the system. As a case in point we quote from a doctor who has written a full article on this subject: "A woman of 45 years of age, who had been a burden, could not eat the simplest food without being in dreadful misery in my stomach, under my shoulders and across the back of my neck. Medical advice failed to procure relief and seeing B. B. advertised, I took two bottles of it, and have been entirely free from any symptoms of my complaint since."

This gives very conclusive proof of the efficiency of this wonderful remedy.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from practice having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption. Bronchitis, Cachex, Asthma, and all throat and Lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, plus having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has it done his duty to make it known to all his suffering fellowmen. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French and English with full directions for preparing and using.
