THE ACTON FREE PRESS
THURSDAY, APRIL 11, 1902.
NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The proposals to put all municipal taxation on land, buildings and income, excepting personal property, which have been agitated in mercantile circles, and have been incorporated in bills introduced into the Ontario Legislature, will stand over for a year, as the Government thinks the matter demands further ventilation.

No time is to be lost in filling the vacancy in the representation of Toronto at the Legislative Assembly. The Bill of the nomination for April 22nd and the election for the 29th means that the campaign will follow immediately after prorogation and will be brief. The probable result does not admit of enough doubt to make the contest an exciting one.

The English Register-General's annual reports of births, deaths and marriages in 1901 shows that the birth rate in that year was 20.2 per 1000 living, and was the lowest for fifty years. So far as can be judged, however, from the figures at hand, 1891 will show an improvement on that year. The death rate was 10.3 per 1000 living, and in the preceding three years, but still comparatively low.

Mr. Greenway's redistribution bill proposes to increase the membership of the Ontario Legislature from thirty-eight to forty. One effect of the rearrangement of the constituencies will be to reduce the number of seats controlled by the French vote. The Winnipeg Tribune admits that the French representation will be reduced from six to four, which is an unfriendly criticism that the change will be greater.

A bill to regulate the use of Steam Engines has been introduced in the Legislature by Mr. Glancy. He proposes to compel owners of engines used for threshing or agricultural purposes, to provide an operator that will admit of his being operated at least 100 feet from any building or other structure combustible substance. A penalty of $25 to $25 per day is attached for violation—half to inform and half to local municipality.

It is rumored at Ottawa that Her Majesty will confer the honor of knighthood on Premier Abbott on the occasion of the seventy-third anniversary of her birthday, on May 24th next. Of course, no rumor of what Her Majesty may intend to do can be confirmed until the time for the event comes, but in this case there is some foundation for this rumor, and that the next birthday of Her Majesty's birthday will see the addition of another name to the list of Canadian knights.

An Act to amend the Assessment Act has been submitted to the Ontario Legislature by Mr. Kirkwood, by which he proposes that lands purchased from the Crown, and which have been merged to the Crown to secure payment, shall be assessed, and shall be declared to have been liable to be assessed to the extent of the interest of the owner. If the taxes are not paid thereon, the treasurer or sheriff selling the said lands for taxes shall only sell the equity right of the owner to redemption, and give a deed accordingly.

The experimental shipment of live cattle from the Northwest to Japan was made on the opening of a trade of enormous benefit to Canada. Should the East prove its ability to consume all the surplus animals which the Canadian prairie will soon produce a double advantage will be secured: Our western territories will secure a convenient market and Ontario cattle raisers will not be subject to the keen competition which will result from sending stock from there to Great Britain.

The result of the plebiscite taken recently in New Zealand, on the question of the length of the school holidays is worthy of note. The authorities had decided to cut down the holidays; but, on an appeal to the parents, a vote was taken, and the proposed reduction of holidays was overthrown by a vote of 245 to 76. This is significant. It means, we believe, that the majority of parents undoubtedly think that both scholars and teachers deserve a good holiday at the end of the year's work as is now required—New Zealand Schoolmaster.

The Dominion Government has decided to go to the Supreme Court, and, if necessary, to the Privy Council, on the question as to whether the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario has a right to exercise the pardoning power and commute and remit sentences for offences against Ontario law. Hon. Mr. Measles claims this right for Ontario. Extensive arguments had taken place for four months before, and counsel for the Dominion Government held that the prerogative of pardon was vested only in the Sovereign power of the country.

The Western Fair managers are said to be decidedly in favor of setting on the recommendation of the Canadian Fair Association and will probably only appoint one judge in each class at their next exhibition. It is thought by a good many exhibitors that one really competent man will give better satisfaction than three or four inferiorly selected—sometimes where three are chosen, two indifferent men over-ride the third, although an expert. If equal satisfaction can be secured, the one judge system will be a great saving of expense and extra work. It is worth considering, even for township and county shows.—Newmarket Era.

They Were Not Smokers.
A circumstance that is somewhat unusual occurred in the Basin House, Toronto, on Friday last. Twelve newspaper men, representing the executive of the Canadian Press Association, were there attending a meeting, when one member pulled out a well-filled cigar case, and offered it to each of the others in turn, but found that before the only smoker in the room—Clinton New Era.

An officer is said to have arrived in Montreal with a warrant for Merley and two of his late colleagues.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.
No Deficit This Year.—Prohibition Petitions.—Cash Against the Budget.—Matters of the Day.

ADJOURNED FOR EASTER.
Ottawa, April 11.—The proceedings in the House of Commons yesterday consisted of a discussion upon Sir John Thompson's motion to authorize the evidence taken last session before the Privileges and Elections Committee, to be used in the courts in the prosecutions against contractors and others for defrauding the Government. The resolution passed. In the evening Sir John Thompson moved the second reading of the original law amendment measure, which is to go to a special committee of both Houses. Col. Despard took up and disposed of the Somerville charges, and the member for North Brant was placed in rather an undesirable position. Before the Speaker left the Chair at 6 o'clock the House adjourned for a year, as the Easter holidays would be at 6 o'clock to enable members to leave the capital on the evening trains for home.

RAILWAY MATTERS TO MEMBERS.
An open letter has been addressed by the Ottawa Journal to the members of Parliament who accept railway passes. The writer states that it is currently reported that the majority of them do so. These favors are not given for fun, but in the expectation of substantial returns. Nearly every man who holds a pass saves thereby several hundred dollars a year, and these favors are consequently equal to a substantial gift of money which if given in any other form would be repaid as an installment. Some years ago a Senator introduced a bill making it compulsory for railways to give passes to legislators, but it was laughed out of Parliament. Yet many of those who repudiated the theory adopt the practice. Dr. Wilson, of Alberta, is the only man who has so far given the intimation a denial. It will be interesting to note how many denials will be brought out by the Journal's charges.

NO DEFICIT THIS YEAR.
The statement of revenues and expenditures for nine months ended March 31st shows revenue $30,732,946, expenditure $23,583,460, a surplus of $7,149,486, which indicates that after the interest due on June 30th is paid there will not be much surplus but there will be no deficit. Statement of debt on March 31st shows net debt $236,770,163, which is a reduction of $1,537,869 since June 30th last.

PROHIBITION PETITIONS.
The great bulk of the petitions presented to Parliament each session is usually made up of petitions for a prohibitory liquor law. During the present session the petitions for closing on Sundays of the Canadian section of the World's Fair in Chicago in 1903 have greatly outnumbered all others. But still the prohibitory petitions have come in quite a considerable flood. The idea of the number of these petitions may be formed from the statement which was laid on the table of the House Monday afternoon, showing the total number of petitions received from each province and the total number of signatures to each petition praying for a prohibitory liquor law. During last session of Parliament there were in all 2,026 petitions, with the sum total of 504,806 signatures. Ontario led with 1,576 petitions, having 191,737 signatures. Nova Scotia came second with 156 petitions, having 43,758 signatures, and Quebec third with 197 petitions, having 17,159 signatures. Several of the petitions were over seventy feet long.

CIVIL SERVICE AGAINST THE BUDGET.
The April session, at which the criminal case of Nicholas R. Connelly and Thomas McGraw, John R. Arnold, Horace Talbot, and A. C. Larose come up, will begin a week from next Tuesday. Sir John Thompson is proceeding, too, in the civil cases. As Minister of Justice, on behalf of Her Majesty, he has filed in the Exchequer Court a statement of claim against Patrick Larkin, Nicholas R. Connelly, Michael Connelly, Owen E. Murphy and Robert McGraw. The total amount which Sir John claims from these gentlemen is $520,064.51.

THE DEBT QUESTION.
The Divorce Committee of the Senate on Friday morning granted J. A. H. Alkins, a divorce from his wife, the daughter of the late Lieut. Governor of Nova Scotia. Mr. B. B. Oiler, Q. C., appeared for Mr. Alkins and proved a bigamous marriage in New York between Mrs. Alkins and one Blanche.

THE DEBILITATED.
The first Royal assent during the present session was given yesterday to bills which have passed both Houses of Parliament and are ready for that august formality in the Senate Chamber which will make them law. Chief Justice Sir William Ritchie, of the Supreme Court, as Deputy Governor, appeared for His Excellency the Governor-General and gave the Royal assent.

CAPITAL NOTES.
An order in Council has been passed amending the general fishery regulations for the province of Quebec as follows:—In the province of Quebec no one shall fish for catch, kill, sell, or possess any speckled trout between the 1st day of October and the 30th day of April, both days inclusive, in each year.

MR. H. METCALFE, M. P. for Kingston, is on the road to recovery.
Mr. H. B. Beard, Q. C., of Woodstock, Ont., has been appointed deputy judge of Oxford county during the leave of absence of Judge Fink.

The appointment of Judge Hamilton has been gazetted.
It is intended to follow up the recent abolition of the franking privileges hitherto enjoyed by the members of the Civil Service by abolishing the unlimited franking privileges of members of the House of Commons, who will be paid each session a fixed sum for the defraying of their postage expenses.

Four new census bulletins will be issued in about three weeks. They will be taken up with the classification of the population of the Dominion according to religion and according to the nationality of each person's father, with the manufacturers of the Dominion, and with its area, which will be brought down accurately to the smallest sub-divisions.

The Baroness Macdonald proposes to return to Ottawa immediately after the session for a visit. She intends to spend a part of the summer at her seaside residence Les Rochers, St. Estérick, near Rivière du Loup.

The Upper House adjourned to-day until Wednesday, April 17th. This will be the last lengthy adjournment, as by the day mentioned a considerable amount of business will have gone to the Senate for the Commons.

CLOSURE OF SESSION'S BUSINESS.
The Ontario Legislature will be prorogued to-day.
Toronto, April 11.—The last session of the old Parliament buildings closed in the afternoon on Tuesday with "God Save the Queen," and three cheers for everybody. Prorogation will take place on Thursday at 8 p.m.

Power to Hold Her Audiences.
Prof. M. T. Brown, principal of the Boston School of Oratory says of Sarah Lord Bailey, who is to give a recital in the Methodist Church next Tuesday evening:—Sarah Lord Bailey's entertainments are fine art representations of the humor, pathos and passion of her best English and American authors. She has the true temperament in voice, action and power to hold her audiences. She has few superiors now before the public. Our graduating classes have averaged sixteen in number; some of whom have made very credible reputations as public readers, but no one has met with so great popular success as Mrs. Bailey. I am certain that she will fill with entire success any appointments made for her.

Lost His Arm.
DUNKIN, Ont., April 9.—James McDonald, employed at Preston & Jordan's, was working near a shingle saw, and while his back was toward the saw proceeded to pull off the bark of a shingle block, when his left arm was thrown in contact with the saw and in an instant the shingle joint was severed, leaving the arm hanging by only a little of the flesh on the inner side. Doctors subsequently amputated it.

EDITOR'S TABLE.
Fourteen years ago a book was published which caused an instant sensation among the reading public, and made its author, a young Brooklyn girl, one of the foremost of living American writers. That book was "The Leavenworth Case," and since writing it Anne Katharine Green has been preparing her literary methods for a story, "Cynthia Wakeham's Money," which, she believes, will even exceed "The Leavenworth Case" in popularity, and which will begin in the New York Ledger's Easter Number, dated April 9th. The same number of the Ledger contains a vigorous sketch entitled "Easter, 1892," a complete novella, "The Fate of the Great Bell," by Amelia E. Barr; timely articles on "Easter Bonnets," "Spring Styles" and "Spring House-Cleaning;" two exciting short stories, "My Crystal Easter Egg" and "Korobonk;" by Anne Katharine Green; and "Fashions of the Future;" a sketch, "When Did Columbus Discover America?" and a valuable article on Alaskan exploration and adventures by Lieutenant Schwatka. The number has beautifully colored covers, twenty pages and six large illustrations, and is sold for five cents.

The nature of the northern part of the new British empire that Mr. Cecil Rhodes is establishing in South Africa is well described in an article in the Review of Reviews for April, entitled, "With Mr. Rhodes Through the Bushes." It gives an account of a long journey inland that Mr. Rhodes, the Premier of Cape Colony, has just taken to inspect the wonderful new gold fields, over which there is so great an excitement. The article is illustrated with several portraits, including a full-page picture of "Mr. Rhodes as Hero."

Many other noteworthy and valuable features will be contained in the same number of the Weekly. Among these will be an article on "The Heekony," written by A. J.
