LITTLE LOCAL BRIEFLETS

Which Caught the Eyes or Ears of Free Press Reporters this Week.

—Council meeting next Monday evening.

—The shade trees are pretty thoroughly denuded of leaves.

—The new checker club has about a dozen members.

—Rev. Mr. Edge will occupy his pulpit next Sunday.

—Guelph citizens are considerably exercised over the discharge from office of their City Engineer.

—Quite a large delegation from our local Sabbath Schools is attending the Provincial Convention at Guelph this week.

—Mr. A. L. Bissett, of Blenheim, has disposed of his Bradshaw mill property to Mr. Doty, of Oakville, the consideration being about $25,000.

—The grounds around the new school are being graded and drains are being put in from each corner to carry away all water from the roof.

—Mr. C. R. Orr, of Chicago, has our thanks for copies of Chicago papers giving illustrated and descriptive reports of the dedication of the World's Fair buildings last week.

—"De man dat prays for work, deah breddern, an' den sits down an' smokes a pipe, expectin' dat a job 'll fall right into his hands, ain't got no one but himself to blame ef de prayer ain't answered."

—Mr. J. E. Atger, who for the past 13 years has been identified with the Niagara Falls Review, has severed his connection with that paper, having sold out to Mr. J. B. Stephens, formerly of Walkerton.

—ACCTION SALE.—On Wednesday, 9th Nov., farm stock and implements, the property of John McLean, lot 32, con. 3, Esquesing, near Acton. Sale at one o'clock. Wm. Hemstreet, Auctioneer.

—Hunters will have to be careful how they dispose of their surplus game. The new law makes it an offence for anyone to sell or barter quail, snipe, wild turkey, woodcock, or partridge for a period of two years.

—Mr. Harrison, a student from Knox College, preached in Knox Church last Sunday in the absence of the pastor. His sermons were highly creditable to the young man. Rev. Mr. Ree is expected to occupy his pulpit next Sunday.

—Messrs. J. D. Williamson & Co., of the Lion, Guelph, have lately made extensive alterations in their ordered clothing department and in another column invite the public to call and inspect their fine stock of cloth and tweeds. Special values are offered in all lines.

—Autumn is much appreciated for the manner in which she is behaving herself this year. Her step is slow and lingering, and only occasionally does she give us a hint of the sharper days that draw nearer with the fluttering of each red and yellow leaf from the branches of the parent tree.

—Rev. J. W. Ree conducted an institute at a Sunday School Convention at Napanee last week. He remained over Sunday and supplied the pulpit of his brother Rev. J. J. Ree, in whose family was serious illness. He returned on Monday evening in order to be present at the Provincial Convention at Guelph.

—An experimental business man says:—In all towns where a newspaper is published every business man should advertise in it, even if not more than a card stating his name and the business he is engaged in. It pays the advertiser and it lets people at a distance know that the town you reside in is a community of enterprising business men. As the seed is sown so the harvest recompenses. Never pull down your sign while you expect to do business.

—It is prophesied that the following will be a true extract from a dime novel of the future:—"Then the pirate king shouted in excited accents, 'What ho! my lads! Here is the site of the buried treasure. Heave up you bedded plate of brass and look beneath!' The noble Donly Mackerel forced the bandits, and with one mighty swing of his sword clove the brazen ring in twain. There, carefully buried away in a jewelled casket, lay two scuttles of coal, full to the brim!"

—Buy your groceries, fresh and new, and Canadian and American Coal Oil at T. H. HARDING'S.

—If you want first-class Guelph sash and doors at Guelph prices, T. ELRAGE can fill your order, at his planing mill.

—Views of any building, residence or section of the town made at any time and kept on hand, for sale.—H. RAMSHAW.

—TO LET.—That small new building on Main Street, at present used as a law office. Possession 15th October. FOR SALE—Fancy Countess Coal Stove with oven, large and small Bibles, writing desks, grinding stone, wheelbarrow.—MRS. S. A. SECORD.

THE NEWS AT HOME.

Mostly of a Local Character and Every Item Interesting.

Very Acceptable Sermons.

Rev. James Harris, of Guelph, occupied the pulpit of the Methodist Church last Sunday in the absence of Rev. Mr. Edge, who was attending his father's funeral at Durham. Both his discourses were able expositions and gave evidence of very careful thought and study. Mr. Harris has reached a ripe old age and is now resting from active work. He is, however, a preacher of power, and acceptable in any pulpit. Mr. Harris preached in the old Methodist church here about twenty-five years ago during the pastorate of the late Rev. Joel Briggs.

How Would it be in Acton.

The Renfrew Mercury says:—The town juveniles were badly scared one night recently when the Chief marched one of their number into magistrate Eady's office because he was smoking. The youngsters crowded into the office to see if their playmate would be beheaded or hung. But when the Chief said he thought he would search every boy in the room, to see if they had tobacco about their persons, there was a sudden and general rush for the door. The young offender was allowed to depart with a warning, on his solemn promise that he wouldn't smoke any more till he was old enough to do it "according to law."

Lorne Patrons' Concert.

The concert under the auspices of the Lorne Patrons' of Industry took place last Thursday evening at Lorne school when the place was crowded to the doors. The programme consisted of selections by Bannockburn Glee Club, which were rendered in their usual pleasing manner; Violin duette by Messrs. Leichman and Lamb, were loudly applauded; Solos by Mrs. Leslie, of Nassagaweya, duett by Misses McMillan and Watkins; Reading by Mr. John M. Warren; solos by Mr. Harry Gibbons; A song by eight little girls was probably the best of the programme and received a good encore. The entertainment passed off well except for the misbehavior of a number of boys who seemed to do all they could to disturb the proceedings by loud yelling and stamping of feet. The proceeds were quite satisfactory.

Passed to her Rest.

Death released the spirit of Catherine, beloved wife of Donald Robertson, Esq., at their home, lot 25, Con. 7, Nassagaweya, last Friday afternoon, after a short illness. She had reached the ripe old age of 81 years. It is somewhat remarkable that Mrs. Robertson's death is the first break in the family circle, and her husband, four sons and four daughters will miss the love and cheerful spirit of a christian wife and mother. Deceased was born in Perthshire, Lochtayside, Scotland, in 1811, and came to Canada in early life. She was subsequently married to Mr. Robertson and for many years they and their family have been the highly respected residents of their present homestead in Nassagaweya, about two and a half miles from Acton. Mrs. Robertson was a member of the Disciples' Church, and the funeral services last Sunday were conducted by Rev. P. Haker, of Everton, in the presence of a large concourse of friends and neighbors. "Let me die the death of the just and let my last end be like her's."

A Very Interesting Lecture.

The lecture in the Methodist Church on Tuesday evening, under the auspices of the Epworth League, by Rev. James Livingstone, of Listowel, was highly entertaining and instructive. After an eloquent introduction, couched in chaste and beautiful language, the lecturer proceeded to illustrate the power of the human voice in its various relations. To do so the physical construction and adaptation of the mouth, nose and throat were minutely described, and the audience was entrusted with pointers for the prevention of the usual affection of these organs. The lecture abounded in apt illustrations both amusing and instructive. With his naturally rich full-toned and carefully cultivated voice Rev. Mr. Livingstone is an elocutionist of merit and his rendition of "The Church Bells," Clarence's Dream" from Shakspeare, the old time school children's style of reading, Poe's "Raven," reproductions of Dr. Talmage and Josh Billings was much enjoyed by all present. The lecture was thoroughly appreciated and a future visit will attract a larger audience.

Rev. Jos. Edge Sadly Bereaved.

Last Friday afternoon Rev. J. Edge received a telegraphic message of the following sorrowful import:—"Your father was killed this afternoon by horses running away." He left by the first train for his father's home, near Durham, and arriving there found that after completing threshing at his own farm his father had started to drive the engine to a neighbor's when the horses became unmanageable and running away upset the engine, instantly killing him. His legs, arms and back were broken. He was an upright, honest christian man, and highly esteemed in the neighborhood where he lived. The terrible accident causes feelings of sorrow in all hearts and the most heartfelt sympathy is felt by everyone for Rev. Mr. Edge and his family in their sore affliction. Bereavements have fallen in rapid succession upon them during the past year or so. A few months before coming to Acton Mrs. Edge's mother was called to her eternal home. A year ago last week the parsonage here was visited by death and a bright little two-year-old son was taken; the following week Mrs. Edge's brother was instantly killed on his farm near Owen Sound, and last Friday the sad fatality above recorded was added to the long list. It is indeed hard to understand such frequently recurring occasions for mourning the loss of loved ones but the allwise Father knows and we shall understand hereafter.

Death of a Native of Acton.

In response to repeated enquiries concerning the sudden death of Mr. Herbert Farmer, of Dawn, near Florence, son of Mr. John Farmer, formerly of Acton, we publish the following:—"Mr. Farmer was seized with inflammation of the bowels and after only five days' illness succumbed on the 14th October. The funeral was held the following Sunday and was the largest ever seen in the community, over 160 conveyances being in attendance. The service was held in the Shetland Methodist church, on Florence Circuit, and was conducted by Rev. Daniel Martin, of Sarnia, a former pastor, assisted by Revs. E. E. Scott, R. L. Wilson, and Rev. John Morrison, of the Presbyterian Church. The floral tributes as well as the large concourse of people indicated the esteem in which the deceased was held by the community. Among those who attended from a distance were Rev. Dr. Farmer, of Racine, Wis. brother of deceased; Thomas C. Moore, Acton; Mrs. Martha Erwin, Georgetown; Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Paisley, Alvinston; Mr. and Mrs. Gage, Newbury. Mr. Farmer was a prominent member and official of the Patrons of Industry of his township, and his fellow-members arranged with Mr. C. Lendon, undertaker, to frame a neat emblem in memoriam and his badge of office to be presented to Mrs. Farmer. He left a wife and two children to mourn the loss of a loving husband and father. The family is comfortably provided for.

NELSON.

A Columbus celebration, in which two of the adjacent schools in addition to the Nelson public school took part, was held in the town hall here on Friday evening. There was a very large attendance. Mr. Deacon, public school inspector for Halton, presided. The programme consisted of choruses, essays, recitations, songs and addresses. Dr. Thomas O'Hagan, the well known Canadian litterateur and elocutionist, gave a brilliant address, exhorting the boys and girls present to be true to Canada. Appropriate speeches were made by Rev. Mr. Ferguson and Mr. Boynton, of Waterdown. The celebration was eminently successful.

OSPRINGE.

Rev. Bro. Fowlie, of Burns' Church, Erin, preached the anniversary services of the A. O. U. W. in the Presbyterian Church here, on Sabbath at half past two o'clock, in the afternoon. The brethern of the order met in the old church half an hour before the service commenced and marched in procession to the church. The Acton, Rockwood, Hillsburg and Cataract Lodges were present in considerable numbers. Sixteen members were here from Acton. A collection was taken in behalf of the Guelph General Hospital.

It is but just you should meet with a slight mark, the esteem in which you are held by all. We therefore ask you to accept this small gift and we also desire to express the wish that God may spare you to see your Golden Wedding day, and we may be spared to celebrate the event. Mr. and Mrs. Webb, then made suitable replies thanking the friends for their valuable gifts. The Ladies then opened their baskets and an enjoyable evening was spent in vocal and instrumental music, games etc.

D., of Guelph, to the pastorate at the close of the present conference year, when the present pastor's term expires, subject to the approval of transfer and stationing committees.

NEW VICTORIA AT TORONTO.

The Handsome University Building Opened and Dedicated.

On Sunday afternoon the ceremonies attendant on the dedication and formal opening of the new home in Queen's park of Victoria University were inaugurated. The great edifice, with its handsome exterior and spacious and commodious interior is one of the city's noblest buildings.

Rev. Dr. Potts presided and on the platform were many divines. Music was furnished by members of leading Methodist choirs of the city under the direction of Mr. Torrington.

Rev. Dr. Carman, who, at the invitation of the senate, delivered the dedication sermon, chose for his text the words of Isaiah: "And wisdom and knowledge shall be the stability of thy time, and strength of salvation."

The clergy, at the conclusion of the sermon, engaged in a responsive dedicatory service.

The Alumni dinner in connection with the dedication ceremonies in Queen's Park was held Monday night in the corridor of the structure. It was a splendid success. The intense pride which was plainly pictured in the faces of graduates, young old, and indeed of the undergraduates who were present, was most pardonable under the circumstances. Two hundred graduates were present.

On Tuesday afternoon Victoria College was formally dedicated to the great cause of education. The proceedings were of a very interesting and enthusiastic character. Addresses were delivered by the Lieutenant Governor, Hon. R. Harcourt, President Louden, Vice Chancellor Mulock, Mr. Goldwin Smith and other distinguished gentlemen. The incident of the day was the announcement of Dr. Potts that he had received a check from Mr. H. A. Massey to be used in the endowment of a chair in theology in the new college.

A Solar Eclipse Visible Here.

A partial eclipse of the sun, clearly visible in this section of the country, and almost total in Quebec, occurred last Friday. Though the day was cloudy at times there were bright stretches in between, and many a glass was smoked to enable citizens to view the phenomenon. The eclipse began at 11.35 o'clock a.m., at which time and for over half an hour afterwards the sky was very clear. The first contact was very plainly visible, and for a while, between 1 and 1.30 o'clock, during a clear space of time, the eclipse was seen at its best, the sun being about two-thirds obscured and resembling the moon when past its last quarter. The eclipse was visible to North America (excepting California and the western half of Mexico), to the West Indies, and to the larger portion of the North Atlantic Ocean. The children of the public school were particularly interested in viewing the eclipse.

A Missionary Tea.

Mrs. Thomas Easton, President of the Women's Missionary Society, entertained the members, their husbands and a few friends at a "Missionary Tea" at the family residence on River Street last Wednesday evening. After the tea Rev. Mr. Edge, was made master of ceremonies, and a pleasant evening was spent in consideration of Missionary enterprises, music, readings and short addresses.

Afternoons' Ease.

What a comfort to be able to get through the week's washing in the forenoon and have the afternoon to one's self. "Sunlight Soap" enables you to do this. No hard work; lovely white clothes; nice soft hands! What can be more desirable? Try Sunlight."

A DOSE OF

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has saved many a precious life. Croup and Pneumonia are diseases that must be treated promptly, if at all. While you are preparing to call the doctor for your child, your neighbor has cured his little one with a dose or two of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. This medicine should be in every household, especially where there are young children. Taken at the first symptoms, it checks the progress of disease, and cure soon follows.

The Great Emergency Medicine

"From repeated tests in my own family, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has proved itself a very efficient remedy for colds, and the various disorders of the throat and lungs. It cures when ordinary medicines fail."—A. W. Bartlett, Pittsfield, N. H.

"Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has had a wonderful effect in curing my brother's children of a severe and dangerous cold. It was truly astonishing how speedily they found relief after taking this preparation."—Mrs. Annette N. Moen, Fountain, Minn.

"I was cured of a sudden and dangerous cough last fall, by the use of one bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, procured of Mr. V. Allen, of this place. It is the most popular cough-cure in this country."—Agapit Robichenaud, Caraquet, N. B.

"I am never without a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house. It is the best remedy for croup that can be had."—Mrs. J. M. Bohn, Red Bluff, Cal.

The Tarbox PILLOW-SHAM HOLDER

"I almost hate to put up these pretty pillow-shams, for the very first time they are turned up for the night they get so badly creased." Such was the moan of a careful young housewife with whom I was staying a few days ago, and I asked her why she had not invested in one of the new sham holders that have lately come out, by which the shams are raised from the pillows without being folded. She had not had not heard of them, and (the description I gave her of this invention interested her so much that I think many of my readers will like to hear of it. We all know how annoying it is to see our pretty lace-edged shams crumpled across the middle, the frill on the upper edge hanging dejectedly downwards, and yet, though we have worried about this all these years, we have,—oh, shame upon us!—left it to a man to help us out the difficulty. And although we did not think it for ourselves I am sure we shall be none the less pleased with it. My two illustrations will, I think, make the working of it quite clear. To raise the shams it is necessary only to push up the little lift till it is above the spring (like that on an umbrella), which is near the top of the wooden standard. I think my sketch will show this more clearly than any further description. Now we have a wide field before us in the way of pillow sham decoration, for we can put careful work upon them and make them of rich materials, knowing that they will not be crumpled or spoilt for a very long time. I give some designs for working two sets of shams, which may be acceptable to my readers."
