NEXT DOOR TO YOU.

We've hundreds of employees, three-score separate departments, and sales are counted by the hundred thousand. Our business is dry goods and home outfitting; that is, everything for personal and home use.

You and we may be quite a distance apart, measured by miles; yet, by reason of our mail order facilities, we're virtually next door to you. Nothing in the entire establishment that you can't have precisely as if you stood in person before any counter; and at exactly the same price.

We send samples of all our available merchandise, free of course. If you want a household of carpets or draperies, a new bonnet, or a tooth-brush, we expect you to buy in person. But you don't know what a help shopping by mail is till you have tried it.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The York County Council, representing the leading municipality in the Dominion, unanimously voted the other day in favor of a Federal law making the maximum railway passenger rate two cents a mile. Other counties will follow the example of York, and members of Parliament who are in doubt as to their position on the matter will be no longer in doubt as to the views of their constituents. We'll all be riding at two cents a mile before another general election.—Toronto Herald.

It is noteworthy that in all newspaper comments on Sir John's death, there is no reference to any kindly act or generous deed committed by this man who was a millionaire a hundred times over, and who might have been a tremendous power for good in the world had it not been that he elected to be a tremendous power for evil. His whole life was devoted to the aggrandizement of himself and the piling up of paltry dollars. Money was his only god. Wealth his only standard of excellence. He went down to history as one of the most heartless men of whom the world has knowledge, and humanity has not been benefited by his grasping, envious life and example. We have yet to see or hear an expression of regret at his death.

Newspapers all over the country are commenting on Sir John's death. In Toronto the other evening in announcing his allegiance to Sir Oliver Mowat because of Sir Oliver's stand on the blyalty question. The opinion seems to be that the member for Simcoe will be more of a free lance than ever in the House next session, hanging away at both parties when there is good cause for it. It is refreshing to see men of Mr. McCarty's standing and ability taking an independent view of matters, and the only pity is that he has not so far followed. Too many men go to Ottawa to become mere servile followers of party. They seem to think that they owe their party everything, and that the country nothing. Mr. McCarty has a higher ideal of his mission there, and the country is grateful to him for it.—Hamilton Herald.

Electricity is rapidly coming to the aid of the farmer. Permission has been given by the County Council of York to run trolley cars on a part of the Kingston road. Special railways will soon be running all over the country. The enterprising physicians in several parts of the province have telephone connections at central points among the farmers, and in one of the farming districts of Michigan the farmers have provided themselves with a telegraph line which connects the scattered farms within a circuit of eight miles with the village store. The whole cost of the enterprise was only $250, and the expense of maintenance and service, which is incidentally assessed on the farmers who use the wire. The village storekeeper, who is also postmaster and express agent, acts as telegraph operator, and finds the increased business brought to him in this way an ample compensation for his labor.

An act was passed at the last session of the Ontario Parliament in reference to bees and spraying fruit trees. The Act states that no person, in spraying or applying fruit trees during the period within which such trees are full bloom, shall use, or cause to be used, any poisonous or caustic substance, or any other substance injurious to bees. This Act comes in force next January. Among insects which lay largely in this interesting process go class is more useful than bees. Where imperfect fertilization has taken place fruit is incompletely developed in size and form, so that the quantity and quality are affected. Careful investigation has shown that the fruitfulness of many plants is largely influenced by bees and such insects as search for the nectar and pollen of flowers. Scientific investigation indicates more and more, as the question of fertilization is considered, that bees are important factors in the production of fruit, and this becomes a workers' and fruit-growers.

The following dispatch from Duluth states the value of the Ontario Great Westway by our neighbors, over the line—Secretary Thompson, of the Chamber of Commerce, has prepared his letter calling for a convention to consider the construction of a ship canal through American territory, from the Great Lakes to the Hudson river, and thence to the sea. It is his: "Commercial considerations sink into insignificance in comparison with the importance of this waterway as an essential portion of national defence and a means to national honor. Inside of five years Canada will have a waterway 100 feet deep through her own territory, all the way from Lake Superior to the sea. Her vessels and her commerce can then go on hundreds of feet from the coast of the continent over all oceans to the markets of the world, while there are more than 100 waterways in the English which are a depth of 10 feet would suffice to bring into the lakes from the sea. Is it not best that a convention should be held after the Christmas holidays in Washington, so that the attention of Congress may be directly and forcibly called to the necessity for immediate action and needed legislation secured before the present Congress expires by limitation?"

Extradition of C. E. Davidson
Toronto, Dec. 5.—Some weeks ago Chas. E. Davidson of Burlington was arrested in Mexico on a charge of obtaining about $10,000 from the Bank of Hamilton at Hamilton by discounting forged orders for the currency stock. Detective Murray, who is trying to get him back, has written to the provincial authorities complaining of what he considers unnecessary delay in the extradition proceedings. The Lieut.-Governor of Ontario represented the matter to the Governor General and on Saturday Sir John, British Minister to Mexico, asking him to use his good offices to expedite the extradition so far as it was proper to do so.
