The Young Folks.

JUST FOR TO-DAY.
Lord for to knowe and his needs.
I do not pray.
Keep me from state of sin.
Just for to-day.
Let me both diligently work,
And duly pray.
Let me be both poor and dead,
Just for to-day.
Let me be slow to do my will,
Prompt to obey.
Help me to sacrifice myself,
Just for to-day.
Let me be a fool or a worm,
Unthinking say,
Not thou a son to my love,
Just for to-day.
Let no evil come near me,
Within my heart stay,
But keep my thoughts pure Lord,
Just for to-day.
So far to-morrow and its needs,
I do not pray.
But keep me guide, bold me, Lord,
Just for to-day.

GRINOLINE.

Rumor whispers, so we please
From the papers, there have been
Thoughts of bringing on the scene
This mad, monstrous, metal mean,
Hiding woman's graceful mein,
Blest Jeviths gerhardine,
Then, there swelled out, astio's sheer!
Vilest garment ever seen!
Form unknown in things terrene;
Even monsters pliocene,
Were not so ill-shaped, I ween.
Women wearing this machine,
Were they fat or were they lean—
Gone as Wordsworth's solitude,
Large as a whale's called latene—
Simply swept the world clean,
Hypocrite man was crushed with fist
At any lined sarcasm.
Thing to rouse a bairn's spleen,
Mate a canon or a dean.
Speak in language not serene,
We must all be very green,
And our sense not too keen,
If we can't say what we mean,
Write in paper, magazine,
Send petitions to the Queen,
Get the House to intervene,
Paris fashion's traumrine—
Let us sue to guarantee
Catastrophic Crinoline!

—London Punch.

THIS AND THAT.

No man has any right to wish he had never been. Let other people do that for him.

The man who has confidence in himself is often taken at just that kind of a game.

God gave us hearts to love with. He never meant us to use a mark in the expression of our best feelings.

More people grow apart just for the absence of honest expression more than from honest expression.

Tenderness costs so little, and yet, given here and there as we journey along, is invaluable in the cost it may do—Jenner Miller.

Sel-knowledge is of loving deeds' the child.

Sow kindly acts and thou shalt reap their fruition.

There is more power in a soft answer than there is in a ton of gunpowder.

He was not provoked when opinions differ from your own.

If the earth was covered with flowers all the year round the bees would get lazy.

An atmosphere of white and worry does not tend to lighten life's burdens.

How to cure a Husband.

A woman, whom her husband used frequently to scold, went to a cunning man to inquire how the might curse him of his fault. The sagacious neighbor heard his complaint; and after pronouncing some hard words, and using various epithets, while he filled a phial with colored liquid, desired her, whenever her husband was in a passion, to take a mouthful of the liquor, and drop it in her mouth, for five minutes. The woman, quite overjoyed at so simple a remedy, exactly followed the counsel which was given her; but by her silence escaped the usual reprimand. The contents of the bottle being at last exposed, she returned to the cunning man and again begged to have another phial of the same virtue. "Daughter," he said, "there was nothing in the bottle but water and sugar. When your husband is in a passion hold your tongue, and, my life on, I will not scold you in future."

AT WHAT DID THEY LAUGH.

"In an art exhibition of London," wrote the Shah of Persia in the journal he kept during his fast visit to Europe, "we were looking at a painting representing an ass. I asked: 'What is the price of this picture?' The director of the exhibition, who was a corpulent man with a white beard, took off his spectacles and said: 'One hundred English pounds,' which are equal to 250 Persian. I answered: 'The price of a live ass is at the most five pounds; why should he be so dear?' The director replied: 'Because it cannot wear out.' I said: 'Although it cannot wear out, it can run on the other hand, neither carry burdens nor give a man a ride.' We both laughed."

The Longest Words.

Here are the four longest words in the English language at the present writing: Entomophilous, Philopaternal, Incomprehensibility, Disproportionateness, Honorable-mindedness, Velocipedemotism, Transubstantiation, Pro-antibioticism, Autophagousness.

Little men and little women sometimes suffer from worms. Low's Worm Syrup is very highly recommended as a cure.

Nevada has only 23 papers.

Canada boasts a "jester."

IN GLASS.

That's the way Dr. Piercy's Pleasant Pectoral comes.

It's a more important point

to have a pleasant pectoral

than the best cold cream.

It keeps away the chills and fever.

It's a great help to those who suffer from worms.

They're too tiny, sugar-coated granules,

a compound of aromatic and concentrated vegetable extracts—the taste is delicious.

It's like tea, and the cheapest pill you can buy.

It gives a great deal of satisfaction,

or your money is refunded. You pay only for the good you get.

There's nothing like it to "just as good."

Hood's Sarapearl stands at the head in the medical world; admired in prosperity and envied in merit by thousands of would-be competitors. It has a larger sale than any other medicine. Such success could not be won without positive merit.

Hood's Cure cures constipation by restoring the peristaltic action of the alimentary canal.

The captain with the most wrinkles record is the favorite of vessel owners on the lakes.

When the mercury goes good things are considered, it only requires a good look if the following to confirm and settle any doubt:

Constance, Mich., U. S., Feb. 10, 1887.—Was troubled 30 years with pain in the back from strain; in bed for weeks at a time; no relief from other remedies. About 8 years ago I bought St. Jacob Oil and made 14 applications; have been well and strong ever since. Have done all kinds of work since and can lift as much as ever. No return of pain in years.

D. M. Rance.

As long as a woman retains her maiden name, her maiden name is to change.

This is Meant for You.

The marked excess of Hood's Sarapearl certainly seems to justify urging the use of this excellent medicine by all who know that their blood is disordered.

Every claim in behalf of Hood's Sarapearl is fully backed up by what the medicine does and is still doing, and when its proprietors urge its merits and its use upon all who are weak from anemia, blood, or fever, I am sure that it is a good medicine.

Shiloh's Cured.

Gentlemen—I suffered from a sore throat for five years from Bronchitis and a severe hacking cough and could get nothing to do me good. A friend told me to get Haygarth's Pectoral Balsam, and I did so with good results. Two bottles cured me and I hardly thought what a cold is.

ARTHUR DIXON, Guelph.

What is that which everyone wishes to get, and which everyone wishes to get as soon as possible?

TRY IT.—It would be a gross injustice to confound that standard healing agent—Dr. Thomas' Electrol Oil with the ordinary ointments, lotions and salves. They are oftentimes inflammatory and astrigent.

The oil, on the contrary, eminently cooling and soothing when applied externally to relieve pain, and powerfully remedial when swallowed.

A French author says: "When I lost my wife every family in town offered me another; but when I lost my horse, no one offered to make me a new one.
