The Young Folks.

THE CHILDHOOD OF THE HEART.
Dorothy G. Lister, in Harper's Weekly.

Oh the new day! childhood.
How blithely they sped.
When not a cloud had vanished,
And the sun was up.
The year was full of promise then.
The tongue was full of prattle;
But I think the cup was sweetest now
Than in the childhood days.
Oh, the laughing world of childhood!
Of course, "all's well,"
The health of which could quicken.
And the least pleasure please;
Yet the upward path's dearer,
With all the thorns they bear.
Then a garble of hundred flowers
With a garble of hundred leaves.
On the bunting board of childhood—
That little host of snow.
That duchess has never entered,
Nor crown has brought low.
True, we're not all the rapture
In the world; but the heart
Can't shadow forth the present love
That warms the breast of man.

THE LATEST HYPNOTIC YARN.

The latest hypnotic yarn from the Charité Hospital, Paris, casts all its predecessors into the shade. Dr. Lays, it appears, has been making experiments in relation to what he calls the "extraordinary" of the human body, and it is asserted that he succeeded in transferring the sensibility of a hypnotized woman into a tumbler of water. When the water was touched the woman winced, and when it was swallowed she went into a deadly swoon. How the drinker felt with another person's sensibility in his vitals is not stated. Dr. Lays next undertook to transfer sensibility from the woman to her photograph. He succeeded admirably in that when he stuck a pin into the picture the woman screamed. Not only that, but the mark of a scratch appeared upon his hand in exactly the spot where the pin had been applied to the photograph. It is lucky for Dr. Lays that he is living in the nineteenth century, for many an old woman has been hanged and burned for doing this sort of thing. Before long, doubtless, base and football players will be able to transfer their sensibilities to the empire, which will be very convenient.

PETER WAS THE CAT.

A small boy had been taken out by his uncle for his first dinner in a hotel dining room. The little chap was enjoying himself, but the dinner was far beyond his capacity, although to his growing amazement his young uncle was able to eat it all. His cream was reached. The little boy, having eaten much more heartily than his host, had to go home, found to his regret, that he had left his feathered dinner to his youthful palates, not be crowded into his limited stomach, though the uncle was equal to mastering his portion. When the waiter came the child looked up sadly to him and said "Will you save this for me until I come again? I could not eat it all, but my uncle ate all his up as clean as Peter." The speech was delivered with a childish treble plainly audible to a wide circumference, and the hearers were doubly amused when the interested waiter asked, "Who is Peter?" and the boy answered, "Oh, Peter is our cat!"—Post-Horn Journal.

Begin at Home, a Good Idea.

Why do you begin to do good so far off? This is a ruling error. Begin at the centre, and work outward. If you do not love your wife, do not pretend to love people for the sake of the antipodes. If you let some family grudge, some peccadillo, some undesirable gesture, sour your visage toward a sister or daughter, pray cease to teach benefice on a large scale. Begin at the next door, but within your own door; then with your next neighbor, whether relative, servant, or servant. Account the man who meets the man you are to blame. Give him such things as you have. "How I make him or her happier?" This the question. If a dollar will do it, give it a dollar. If a cent will do it, give it a cent. It looks a smile, or a word, or a pat of the hand, or tear. But never forget that the happiness of our world is a mountain of golden sand, and that it is your part to cast some contributory atom every moment.

CULTIVATE A MEMORY FOR NAMES.

"As good a piece of advice as I could give a young man starting business" said an old successful merchant, "would be to get his customers' names right. Of course, everybody means to do this, but I don't think everybody attaches to it its full importance. The fact is that almost every man is proud of his name, whatever it may be, and he dislikes to see it misspelled or incorrectly written. There are plenty of names which sound alike, but which vary in spelling, perhaps by only a single letter; and, too, in taking a man's name it is not so difficult as one might imagine to make a mistake in the initials, for there are letters which sound very much alike. When you're a customer get his name right the first time. No man will like to receive a package or bill or a communication of any sort with his name misspelled, however modest and good natured he may be, he is pretty sure to be annoyed by it."

Now is a clock quiet of a misdeemeanor? —When it strikes one.

What river runs between two seas? The Thames, runs between Chelches and Battersea.

When is a soldier charitable? —When he presents arms.

The recording angel never strikes a balance on his books by what is said of a man on his gravestone.

Why should we shun the company of chandlers? —Because all their works are wicked.

What is the difference between the earth and the sea? —One is dirty, and the other is tidy.

SUNSHINE comes, no matter how dark the clouds are, when the sun goes down by woman's trouble turns to Dr. Hovey's Favorite Prescription. Life is made gloomy by the chronic weakness, dull painful disorders that afflict her sex, they are constantly fatigued, over-worked, nervous and tired down, she has new life and vigor. For every female complaint, there is a cure, it is the only remedy so sure and fulfilling that can be recommended. It is the best for you, you have your money back.

NOTES HERE AND THERE.

Items of General Interest to Free Press Readers.

Strongly Endorsed.

The advertising of Hood's Sarsaparilla appeals to the sober common sense of thinking people, because it is true; and it is always fully substantiated by endorsements which in the financial world would be accepted without a moment's hesitation. They tell the story—HOOD'S CURES.

Hood's Pills cure liver ills, jaundice, biliousness, sick headache, constipation.

Men waste little here below, and he can count himself uncommonly lucky if he gets it.

How can I get rid?

Of my tormenting coughs; getrid of them without pain; get rid of them quickly and effectively, without possibility of return? The answer is, use Patman's Painless Cure, and Ward's Cure, the great cure. Always sure, safe, reliable. Patman's Extractor. Use it and no other—Frauds are in the market. Don't run the risk of spending your money with such exotic applications.

Did you ever notice how quickly the world gets out of joint when it ceases to run?

Harmless Pills possess the power of acting specifically upon the diseased organs stimulating to action the dormant energies of the system, thereby removing diseases in fact, so great is the power of the medicine to cleanse and purify, that diseases of almost every nature and source are driven from the body. Mr. D. Carroll, Carroll P. O., writes: "I have tried Patman's Pills and find them an excellent medicine, and one that will sell well."

It is time to repeat when you have tried the patience of a just God to the extremest limit.

Open as Day.

It is given to every physician, the formula of which is being so secret, but no unscrupulous initiation has ever been offered to the public. Only years of experience and study can produce the best.

Courtesy is a sort of silence that leads you to believe that our friends have not told us of their little private misfortunes.

Mr. J. R. Allen, Upholsterer, Toronto, sends the following: "For six or seven years my wife suffered with Diplopia, Costiveness, Inward Pains and Kidney Complaints. We visited two physicians and any number of medicines without getting any relief, until we got a bottle of Northrop and Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. This was the first relief she got, and before one bottle was used the benefit she derived from it was beyond our expectation."

SCOTT'S EMULSION

of pure Cpd Liver Oil, with the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda. A feeble stomach takes kindly to it, and its continued use adds flesh, and makes one feel strong and well.

A CAUTION.—Do not substitute Scott's Emulsion for a hair-dressing.

Mr. McLean.

This thing of mistaking a torpid liver for what is leading the fool of every family into the newspaper business.

C. C. RICHARD & CO.

GENTLEMEN.—In driving over the mountains I took a severe cold which settled in my back and kidneys, causing me many sleepless nights of pain. The first application of MINARUD LINIMENT so relieved me that I fell into a deep sleep and complete recovery shortly followed.

Jones S. McLean.

The Power of Nature.

For every ill nature has a cure. In the healing virtues of the Norway Pine lies the cure for colds, coughs, colds, asthma bronchitis, hoarseness, bronchitis, tightness of the chest, and all diseases of the throat and lungs. Price 25c.

The diamond has the most sparkle, but window glass does the most good.

Free and easy expectoration immediately relieves and frees the throat and lungs from viscid phlegm, and a medicine that promotes this is the best medicine to use for coughs, colds, inflammation of the lungs, and all diseases of the respiratory organs.

This is precisely what Bickie's Anti-Consumptive Syrup is a specific for, and wherever used it has given unbound satisfaction.

Children like it because it is pleasant, and adults like it because it relieves and cures the disease.

The trouble with people who can talk is that they are apt to say too much.

Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is pleasant to take; and is effective in destroying worms. Many have tried it with best results.

Why is a professional thief very comfortable? —Because he takes things easily.

Virtue may be its own reward all right enough, but is this such poor pay for it?

It is not so difficult as one might imagine to make a mistake in the initials, for those letters which sound very much alike.

If the tongue could kill not many would it?

Thousands Like Her.—Tessa McLeod, Servant Bridge, writes: "I owe a debt of gratitude to Dr. Thomas' Electroic Oil, for curing me of a severe cold that troubled me daily last winter." In order to give a quick to a hacking cough, take a dose of Dr. Thomas' Electroic Oil thrice a day, or if the cough spells render it necessary.

Fortune favours the brave because the brave compel her favors.

The great results which have attended the regular use of Quinine Wine, by people of delicate constitution and those affected with a general prostration of the system, speak more than all the words that we can say in this behalf. This article is a true medicine and a life-giving principle—a perfect restorer of the whole system—and a perfect restorer of the entire body and mind. Its medicinal properties are a digestive tonic and anti-perspirant. Small doses frequently repeated, strengthen the palate, create an appetite, enable you to obtain a refreshing sleep, and to feel and know that every fibre and tissue of your system is being freed and remodeled. In the fine Quinine Wine, prepared by Northrop & Lyons, Toronto, we have the exact tonic required; and to persons of weak and nervous constitutions we would say, Never be without a bottle in the house. It is sold by all druggists.

They know in heaven how much the rich have by the way they treat poor folks.

The Doctor, this author, the doctor and I were sitting at table in a far foreign land, talking and laughing, after a long conversation on health, and the doctor told this story. In the Spanish-American countries it is customary for servants and young people to go about in the hot weather almost literally naked, although they usually wear hats on account of the glaring sun.

One day a Costa Rica grocer sent his boy to deliver some goods purchased by a family newly arrived from a more inclement latitude. The boy was wearing a score and a blouse and a smile. When he returned he brought the grocer a note, vigorously objecting to his attire, or lack of it.

"Carumba!" said the grocer.

"You young villain, don't you ever go to that house again without putting on your hat."
