Death of Mrs. W. E. Smith. The illness of Mrs. W. E. Smith referred to previously in the Fare Passs, terminated last Thorsday evening in her death A second operation was performed do Thursday afternoon by Drs. Temple, o Toronto, Howitt, of Gaelph, and Uren of Acton, but owing to her extreme weakness During all her illness Mrs. Smith was most patient sufferer. | Christian fortitude characterized the tedious weeks of suffering and her quiet resignation to the will of the Master whom she served was manifest to all .. Everything that human skill could do was brought into service and the ministrations of kind relatives and friends were freely given, but without avail. Mrs Smith was the daughter of Anson Smith, Esq. and eister of Mrs. W. H. Storey She leaves a corrowing husband and three sons who keenly feel the sad loss. She was highly esteemed by all, an affectionate wife and tender mother. The funeral took place on Saturday afternoon, when a large concourse of friends was present to pay the last tribute of respect. A memor ial service was held in the Methodist Church and the occasion improved by ap-
