Mostly of a Local Character, and

Every Item Interesting. Grave Offences. A number of the youth in town have laid themselves open to a very serious chargo.

Last Sunday the new school was visited, window releed and the desks in all the de pastmente rapsacked. Perfoile, knives and other school regulates were stolen and the floore and woodow sills disfigured with mud. This conduct is repeshentible and the authorities are determined to put a stop to it. The constables have the names of half a dozen or so of the boys believed to be concerned in the matter and an example may be made of the guilty ones. It is reported that other boys have lately been amusing themselves by throwing stones through the windows on the south side of the old school.
