NOTES AND COMMENTS:

The postal card system in France is about to be improved by the introduction of a new invention. The cards will be pasted into the form of a shock book, with stubs. The sender of the card can make up his envelope of its contents on the stub, and can have this stamped at the post office before it is detached, so that a verified record of the correspondence can be kept.

From the report of the loan and marine companies doing business in the Dominion it appears that the amount loaned during the year was $1,714,002 greater than in 1892; that the amount of principal and interest overdue and in default one more year than our share of the total and aggregate Spanish debt, and that our湘阳 provinces were taken last year upon mortgage aggregating $467,701.

The Foreign Trade Tribunal of Arbitration at Paris made their decision public Tuesday morning. Briefly stated, the five points in regard to jurisdiction are settled in favour of Great Britain, and the award of damages in favour of Canada is established, and a close settlement from May 1 to July 31 is ordered. The decision, it is thought, makes the United States liable for damages for the seizure of British and Canadian vessels.

The Inland Revenue Department has last fall secured convictions against manufacturers of threshing machines for dealing with the machine movement which would be injurious to the public. It is expected that weights and measures officers will now keep a sharp lookout for the measures used by the grain threshers. It will be remembered that in the test cases made by the Department, the courts held that what the manufacturers called boxes were, in reality, the weights and Measures Act, and that the grain threshers were "traders" and therefore subject to the provisions of that act.

The advantages of the Canadian banking system are now widely appreciated by the press on the other side of the line. Thus a hint that our system of branch banks is superior to their numerous small banks all over the country, acting independently, has been well received. The New York press, the bulk bank system of Canada is based upon the true principle that the banks' bills receivable shall provide for and redeem the circulating notes. The same journal advocates a banking system that will have more of Canadian conservatism and security.

The Canadian Government has extended a further invitation to absent farmers of the British Isles to come to Canada and take up the conditions of agriculture there. This invitation has created wide-spread attention, the note especially in view of the present state of farming there. There is considerable eagerness on the part of absent farmers to visit Canada and see for themselves how farming is conducted there and Sir Charles Tupper has received a great many applications. Only the most representative farmers are to be permitted to accompany the party however, and Sir Charles Tupper is now selecting twelve of the best men to represent the various districts.

A dispatch from Washington says: In regard to the suggestion of a treaty over the Bon I Blaine Newfoundlands treaty, it may be said that the British Government, and the Canadian, are more departmental proposition than the foundation would undoubtedly need to be entered into de novo with the Cleveland Administration. It is a matter of speculation only whether the Cleveland Administration would take up the threads of the Blaine reciprocity treaties. Last spring the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce was authorized to conduct an investigation over the Canadian railways. Nothing was done. It is not probable that anything will be done this fall unless such shall appear at the extra session. It will be merged into the regular session.

A report issued by the American Consul to the Canadian Consul a couple of weeks ago, showed that the condition of the national banks there was

Sounds fine, but the Standard Bank is more or less in a bind.

Sound in bonds of reserve.

Sound in bonds of bank accounts.

Sound in bonds of Canadian for a resumption.

Five of the 10 banks that failed were caused by the amount of $1,000,000 each, one at $800,000 and at $600,000, in at $1,000,000 and the remaining $1,000,000, $250,000 $100,000 and less, but more than $50,000, the greatest number, however, being from $100,000 to $150,000. The report in Canada is the suspension of one bank. Well known bankers say that the worst is now undoubtedly over, that the scarcity of currency seems to have ended in a few days, and that money will be had doubtless, but cannot be said that the large amount of sound that had already been recovered and the large amounts now on the way here.

The "Globe" for September has the following editorial note on Sunday closing: A great lesson is taught on large bodies and small bodies, and the smaller the body the more recently taught in regard to the Sunday opening of the World's Fair. The laboring masses of the people in whose name it was speedily pledged that on their forty holiday, the Sabbath, the preview of the exposition should be opened to them, while with a somewhat sneer when they refused to avail themselves of such privileges. In spite of all inducements offered, the attendance was so small as not to justify annually further Sabbath openings.

The influence of Gospel teaching on us often is apparently lost, is nevertheless constantly lifting the masses to higher ideals, and it occasionally leaves marks such deeply graven marks at high water level as to reflect to the world the Lord's day.

The American Sabbath is a fixed institution, anchored in the hearts of the people.
