LITTLE LOCAL BRIEFLIES

Which Caught the Eyes or Ears of Free Press Reporters this Week.

- November next Wednesday.

- People are taking Indian summer now.

- The fall fairs are over. Ken completed the last last Thursday.

- The public school pupils will write on the monthly examinations-to-morrow.

- Knox Church, Mitchell, is to be furnished with a new pipe organ by the ladies of the congregation.

- Stony's tannery is shut down for a few days while steams pipes are being fitted through the new building.

- W. Hemistec secured price on his team of horses at Grand Valley on Friday against eight competitors.

- The Provincial Sunday School Convention has been in session in Toronto since Tuesday and will continue to day.

- A Good Templar Lodge is lately been started in Osgoode with over 20 of a membership. It is called "The Joy of Osgoode."

- The membership of Action Chariotists is increasing. Seven new members have been admitted since organization for 1893.

- Next Tuesday will be remembered by the boys as "All Hallows' Eve." Go slowly boys, the cops "Will get you, if ye don't watch out."

- The Stewartown tannery, of which Mr. E. B. Nicklin is manager and a member of the firm, is turning out fine glove leathers now.

- It is reported that a branch of the P.
A. was commenced at Action last week but the promoters have not favored the P.A. with any news.

- A man living in Narragansett, under took to ring the Milton fire bell last week during a entertainment for a joke. He was under the influence of liquor. He will be punished for his joke.

- Look here. Once a week we pay out wage bill—cash. Once a month we pay our paper bill cash. Once a year we ask our readers to pay their subscription—cash.
Isn't that fair and equitable?

- A witty reader, who has visited the World's Fair, sends us the following:
"Why is a flower like the Ferris wheel?
It's because she goes round with the fellow (she) as well as with the hub."

- Dr. Fraser of Orangeville has given notice that at the next meeting of the town council he will introduce by law provision that all children under a certain age shall be off the streets at nine o'clock at night.

- Burglar scares are almost nightly and the most daring mechanics are alleged to have made in effectual attempts to gain entrance to Joe Agnew's house on Friday night, and to Mrs. R. A. Seccor's on Saturday night.

- Mrs. Bridgerton, nee Miss Anna Tubby, of Brampton, last Friday filed a suit against Daniel E. Smith, a Brampton horseman, for $10,000 for the death of her husband Joseph, who was recently fatally killed by one of the defendant's horses.

- One of the young ladies in one of the glove factories, unable to get away for Erm last week celebrated the day at home with buns and sugar sticks. If they had added gingersnap their diet would have been similar to some of the girls who went to Erm.

- Last Thursday a couple of Milton's "most to type" were standing together on Main Street when a number of the plethora convention delegates passed.
"What is all the stir in town to day?" one of them was overheard to remark. was the reply. "It's the big plethora vote or some other infernal temperance business."

- One of the ex Mayors of Guelph was in town the other day and while here visited Fairview Cemetery. In conversation with the Free Press he said: "You have a beautiful cemetery. The soil is everything that could be desired, and better kept than cemetery in Guelph." Gautak Graham will no doubt appreciate the compliment.

- A week since at Jackson's Block Store, Guelph, a great slaughter sale commenced to reduce stock! The losses totalled and expense of moving. Prices were made so low as to create a run on many lines, which will last but a short time. The public realises that business is meant and are eager to secure some of the bargains offered. Any who have not availed themselves of this opportunity should do so at once. Remember that Jackson's Block Store will be removed to the Barclay Block shortly.

THE NEWS AT HOME.

Most of a Local Character; and Every Item Interesting.

Friends of the Widow and Orphans.
The members of the N. O. E. and the members of Action Banking Co. have interested themselves in Mrs. Baldwin, widow of the man who was killed at Toronto.
The widow has a large family and has been compelled to sell her home, but is secured to pay the passage of herself and children back to England. The family has now settled in the old country.

He Died Full of Years.

The remains of James Clarke one of the oldest residents of Erin, was carried to the grave on Tuesday last week.
He died full of years.
