THE CHAUTAUQUA SALUTE.

We find this item in several of our exchanges:—

"The Chautauqua salute, waving a white handkerchief, was first given at the request of Chancellor Vincent, as a greeting to a deaf-mute.

The "deaf-mute" referred to was the late S. T. Greene, for twenty years a teacher in Belleville. The incident occurred about twelve years ago. Prof. Greene was spending a day at Chautauqua, and there met Mr. J. L. Hughes, Public School Inspector for the city of Toronto, and a prominent member of the society. Mr. Hughes was well acquainted with the genial and accomplished sign-maker, and is also able to converse freely with the manual alphabet. He insisted on Prof. Greene entertaining the vast company present with one of his masterly pantomimic exhibitions and gaining his consent had it duly announced for the afternoon meeting. The two then retired to a secluded spot and Mr. Greene gave his friend leading notes on the subjects to be rendered in signs. Mr. Hughes was soon able to follow him with an intelligent interpretation. Those who knew Mr. Greene and his powers as the most accomplished natural sign-maker then living, can estimate the success of the performance. At the close there was a general clapping of hands and other tokens of appreciation, at Dr. Vincent suggested that, as Mr. Greene was a deaf man, they should give him some other and more tangible expression of their approval. He asked all present to get their pocket handkerchiefs ready and when he gave the signal to flutter them vigorously. Mr Hughes has assured us that the scene was one long to be remembered, and thus originated the "Chautauqua Salute." The man to whom it was first given was worthy of such a distinction and for such a purpose.—The Canadian Mute.

HE WISHED FOR HER.

They were dining off fowl in a restaurant.

"You see," he explained as he showed her the wishbone, "you take hold here. Then we must both make a wish and pull, and when it breaks the one who has the bigger part of it will have his or her wish gratified."

"But I don't know what to wish for," she protested.

"Oh, you can think of something," he said.

"No, I can't," she replied. "I can't think of anything I want very much."

"Well, I'll wish for you," he exclaimed.

"Will you really?" she asked.

"Yes."

"Well, then, there's no use fooling with the old wishbone," she interrupted, with a glad smile, "you can have me."

THE MONARCH STILL A MAN.

Who forgets the anecdote of Napoleon and the village bells of Brienz? He was riding late one day over a battlefield, gazing stern and unmoved on the dying and the dead that strewed the ground by thousands about him, when suddenly "those evening bells" struck up a merry peal. The emperor paused to listen, his heart had softened, memory was busy with the past, he was no longer the conqueror of Austerlitz, but the innocent happy schoolboy at Brienz, and, dismounting from his horse, he seated himself on the stump of an old tree, and, to the astonishment of Rapp, who relates the circumstance, burst into tears. The rock was smitten, and the living waters came gushing from it.

NOT SO NONSENSICAL AFTER ALL.

Canon Wilberforce, in Exeter Hall, after a most thrilling passage, in which he described the subtle dangers of moderate drinking and the hold it gets before the victim dreams how great is his bondage, said: "This reminds me of the old nursery rhyme in the book of Nonsense:—

"There was an old woman of Niger
Who went for a ride on a tiger;
But they came from the ride with the lady inside,
And a smile on the face of the tiger."

The revulsion of feeling was electric, and the responsive audience made the old hall ring with their cheers and their hearty "Hear, hear."

That's because they cure permanently, and do it pleasantly. They're tiny, sugar-coated, and easy to take. There's no disturbance to the system, diet, or occupation. Satisfaction guaranteed, or money refunded.

Dr. R. V. PIERCE: Dear Sir—I could tell of a number of cases where Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines have cured. A friend of mine, Mr. Williams, was about used up with liver trouble; now he says that "Pleasant Pellets" have helped him more than any on all the medicines that he has ever taken.

Few are the remedies whose beneficial qualities and real merits have made them so popular with the public and increased from year their consumption, which, whilst possessing the most valuable remedial properties, are yet so simple in their compound, and as easily to take, as the Quinine Wine, prepared by Northrop & Lyman, of Toronto. This article is prepared from the pure Sulphate of Quinine, combined with fine Sherry Wine, and choice aromatics, which relieves the Quinine of its bitter taste, and does not impair in the least degree the efficacy of its action upon the patient, while small doses, frequently repeated, strengthen the pulse, increase muscular force, and invigorate the tone of the nervous system, and thus, by the general vigor which it imparts, creates an appetite, which gives the stomach tone and energy, and fortifies the system against all infectious diseases. Ask for Northrop & Lyman's Quinine Wine; sold by all druggists.
