NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Henry Clews & Co., the New York brokers, announce that in their opinion the industrial depression in the States has reached its lowest point and that there are many evidences of a recovering tendency

South Africa is coming to the front as a gold producing region. The mines now being worked yield about $35,000,000 a year. When railways render the gold-bearing region more accessible it will probably be the richest mining country in the world

Mr Henry Labouchere says that if the Queen's speech at the opening of the next session of Parliament does not contain a declaration that a reform of the House of Lords is necessary, he will move an amendment to the effect that the power of the hereditary peers in rejecting or altering bills passed by the Commons must cease.

Trade with great Britain is increasing at a very satisfactory rate The exports from Canada show a remarkable increase during the month of January They totalled up to £173,049, an increase of 135 per cent. as compared with the corresponding period of 1893. Wheat advanced £12,000, bacon, £15,000, cheese £21,000, fish £36,000 and wood $20,000 No, eggs or animals were entered during the month. The exports to Canada during January from Great Britain totalled £351,111, a decrease of ten per cent

Lord Derby is following the excellent example of his predecessors among Canada's ex-Governors General. The address which he delivered before the youths of the Liverpool Institute a couple of weeks since was eminently practical and to the point. He referred to the great resources of the Dominion and specially the advantages she offers to the farmer, whether accustomed to the life or just learning Put your pride in your pocket and work, is the excellent motto he gave for the young man going west.

The inter imperial conference will meet at Ottawa on Thursday, 21st June, to discuss the Pacific cable project and the question of trade between Canada and Australia. Invitations have been sent to the Governments of New South Wales, Victoria, Queensland, South Australia, Western Australia, New Zealand and Tasmania to send representatives to the conference. The crown colony of Fiji and the Imperial Government have also been asked to take part in the gathering, and it is not at all unlikely that the Hawaiian islands may be invited to send a delegate, the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce having already put itself upon record as in favor of such a step It is expected that beneficial results will follow from the assembly at Ottawa of gentlemen representing the different Governments, and that the cable scheme will take practical shape.

The speech from the throne at the opening of the provincial parliament last Thursday referred as follows to two important matters at present agitating the public mind "Much discussion having of late taken place in the province with respect to the mode of enumerating and appointing certain Provincial officials and with respect to the extent of their allowance it is my intention to issue a Commission forthwith to collect the facts bearing on various views which have been expressed on these subjects including the practice and experience of other countries the Commissioners to report thereon with all convenient speed The prohibition upon the question of Prohibition was in pursuance of the last Act of last session duly taken at the recent municipal elections, and a large majority pronounced in favor of Prohibition. The proceedings necessary for obtaining a final and conclusive judgment with respect to the jurisdiction to pass a prohibitory liquor law are being pressed forward with all practicable diligence

The Stratford Herald stacs up the new anti prohibitionist paper as follows The first number of the Advocate of Toronto, devoted to the sport wine and beer interests, and anti prohibitionist, has appeared, and it starts out under propitious auspices. No cold water paper could get such a send-off in the line of advertising as the Advocate can boast, its initial issue containing three wine and twelve half page brewery and distillery advertisements, besides a large number of more modest announcements of the sort The Advocate scores a point by printing a sermon by Rev R F Dixon, of Hamilton, an anti prohibition clergyman, scattered over four pages, the top halves of which are occupied by well displayed liquor advertisements The reverend gentleman's congregation will no doubt be pleased to see this proof of their pastor's popularity. Sporting matter receives great prominence, and it is announced that following the example of a famous English paper devoted to the liquor interest the Advocate will print in serial form histories of noted prize fights, beginning with that between Heenan and Sayers in 1860 The harmony between prize fighting and the liquor interests is frankly acknowledged by the Advocate. The editor, L. P. Kribs, would'n em welfgat out for the prize, and if he doesn't like his advertisements out in trade he ought to make money No cord wood or turnips will be received on subscription sales, the rate of which is $1 a year in hard cash.

THE GEORGETOWN P. O.

How Mr. Henderson Explains His Position in the New Appointment Thereto

SAYS HE COPIED SIR OLIVER.

The following interview which appeared in the Empire on Saturday gives Mr Henderson's version of the Georgetown Post Office appointment:—Mr. H. Henderson, M. P., was in the city yesterday, and was interviewed by the Empire Reporting the charges made by certain papers in connection with the recent Georgetown postmastership appointment Mr Henderson said:

"So far I have avoided replying in any way to what has been published in the newspapers, it being part of my duties to make recommendations in all cases of change in the postal service in the county of Halton. In the past few years I have submitted the names of 26 persons in Halton for postmasters, all of whom were appointed. I have had three new offices opened in the county, besides obtaining additional mail service in several instances. Under such circumstances it is no wonder that some friction should occur. It may be as well the public should know the facts of this case which has caused so much comment.

"In June, 1892, Mr. Goodenow became ill and was removed to the asylum. The impression became quite general that a new appointment would be made at once, the postmaster being quite unable to discharge the duties of his office. This impression was shared in by friends of the family, through whom I learned that Miss Goodenow, an assistant in the office, was anxious to remain in charge for a limited time, but that she neither desired or expected a permanent appointment a previous engagement elsewhere for an extended period rendering it impossible for her to continue in the office in any event. In consideration of the circumstances I counselled delay, for which I received the thanks of Miss Goodenow, as expressed in her letter, for the kindness and consideration I had shown toward them as a family, in allowing her to retain the office for the time being Matters remained this way for a year and a half, when, early in December last, Mr Goodenow still being in the asylum, I was requested by the Government to submit the name of a person to be appointed postmaster in his place."

"During this time were you further requested to use your influence in Miss Goodenow's behalf?"

"Not at all. I had numerous requests from leading Liberals as well as Conservatives both in and outside of Georgetown on behalf of others, but not a single requisition to give the position permanently to Miss Goodenow until after the appointment had been made. The reeve and councillors over a year ago unanimously petitioned me in behalf of another party."

"Is it customary to promote assistants when a vacancy occurs in a public office?"

"The opposite is the practice. When the late Thomas Racey, registrar of Halton, died, Mr. Ruthven, his deputy, a relative living with the family, was passed over in favor of Mr. Barclay, and, again, the present deputy registrar, a most efficient officer had to give way for Col Campbell Later, the clerkship for the Division Court at Campbellville, was refused Miss Lister, her father's assistant, by her own political friends, who then coolly asked me to give her the post-office, which I declined.

"Has Miss Goodenow been dismissed as stated in the newspaper reports?"

"She has not been dismissed or interfered with in any way whatever She still holds the same position she had when her father took ill, and I am quite sure she can continue to do so if she desires With any other appointment than the one made, I could not say so much a change of principal does not involve a change of assistant."

"What about the alleged offer of $400 to run the office?"

"Such a proposal would be absurd, and never was made by any one The Georgetown Herald says Miss Goodenow was appointed acting postmaster and furnished good and sufficient security. This report is absolutely false in every respect, as Miss Goodenow was never appointed acting postmaster, nor did she furnish security Not being an officer of the government she was not called on to do so."

"What was the nature of Mr Warren's petition recently presented to you?"

"In effect, it asked that Miss Goodenow hold the office under the same terms as other public officers, viz., for life, or during good conduct

"What about the appointment of your son?"

"That, no doubt, is regarded by many as objectionable but with so many applicants it was impossible to make an appointment to please all It must be a or been the influences of bad example in high places I think I have copied from Sir Oliver."

MANITOBA SCHOOL CASE

The Supreme Court says that Dominion Government has no Power to Disallow the School Bill

Ottawa, Feb 21 By a majority of one the Supreme Court today has expressed the opinion that no right of appeal on behalf of the Roman Catholic minority of Manitoba lies to the Governor General in council against the Manitoba School Act of 1890 Chief Justice Sir Henry Judges Gwynne and Taschereau took the view just stated while Judges Fournier and King held the opposite opinion

The decision of the court takes the matter out of the hands of the Federal administration but of course it will be competent for the Roman Catholic minority to ask permission to be allowed to appeal to the Imperial Privy Council The importance of the finding of the Supreme Court bench may be judged from the fact that of the one or the other were two Protestants and one Roman Catholic while on the other there was one Roman Catholic and one Protestant

WORK THAT WOMEN MAY DO

Social Questions Considered by Lady Aberdeen in Toronto

Toronto, Feb 20 Lady Aberdeen addressed as many ladies of this city as the pavilion would hold last evening on questions concerning women Her ladyship spoke under the auspices of the local branch of the National Council of Women, and she treated the great moral and social questions with which she dealt as questions for which apply and practical solution must be found. She dealt at length with the condition of working girls, and of the temptation to which they are subjected by reason of poor wages. She thought the women of Canada could easily remedy a state of things which at present exists the cry of mistresses for servants on one hand, and on the other of hundreds of girls working for starvation wages. The appointment of women factory inspectors was strongly urged, and purchasers of goods were advised to buy from those employers who considered the comfort and health of their employees, and thus help to discourage the race for cheap things that seems to obtain.

A SOCIETY'S NOBLE WORK

HOW THE ANCIENT ORDER OF FORESTERS SAVED A BROTHER.

The Startling Experience of Mr. Isaac Briggs of London A Sufferer for Four Years His Lodge Came to the Rescue After Doctors Had Failed He is Again Able to be Out.

From the London Free Press.

The home of Mr. Isaac Briggs, 81 Charlotte St., in this city, is one of the most prettily situated and best kept of the many homes of the workingmen of London. The front is carefully bordered, and at the side and rear of the cottage home is a lattice work covered with vines, and there is also a garden. Within view are fields and woods, and in fact there was nothing needed upon the occasion of an autumn afternoon visit to make the lot of a sick man amid such surroundings as pleasant as possible.

And so it was not to be wondered at that Mr. Briggs was found in a cheerful mood. But a conversation with the gentleman revealed the fact that there was very good reasons why any man under the same circumstances, and enjoying the same bright hope, could not but allow his face to beam forth with what he felt. The story as told will be found most interesting, and that it is absolutely correct there are many of the friends of Mr. Briggs will testify, should such testimony be needed. Mr. Briggs has been an invalid for four years and has been unwell and under medical treatment for eight years. It was in 1885 that he first felt the twinges, the aches and the pains that foretold trouble. He secured medical attendance, and learned that his liver was out of order, his kidneys were bad and that he suffered from dyspepsia. However he worked along for nearly four years, when the terrible malady affected his system in a way painful to relate. It came directly after an attack of "the grip." Mr. Briggs was yet in his "fifties" and to all appearances was a well preserved and strong man. But almost without warning the joints in every part of his body were as solid and immovable as though they had been padlocked, and the strong man became as helpless as a baby. Many doctors were consulted, and they all promised relief and occasionally a slight relief did come. But it was only temporary, and the unfortunate man, in consequence of these relapses, was gradually loosening his hold upon hope. The days were long and weary that he had to spend on his bed, with the dismal prospect ahead of being held a close prisoner, to be released only by death

The family, too, began to lose faith in medical skill. They had given a trial to some of the foremost practitioners of the city but always with the same unhappy result. Patent medicines of various descriptions were likewise tried, but in vain Then about Christmas tide came news that had almost been expected Mr Briggs had not long to live, the doctors said Gradually he grew weaker until early in the spring so seriously ill did he appear to be that the end was daily looked for

Court Forest City, A. O. F., of which Mr. Briggs is a member, proved just at this juncture to be a friend indeed During all his illness the brethren had looked carefully after his wants, and had been very attentive. And no one regretted more than they the unhappy prospect. One night the court was discussing the case when it was suggested that Pink Pills should be tried Stories had been told of what they had effected in other cases Then why not in this? Finally the court agreed to send one dozen boxes of the pills to Mr Briggs The attending doctor told his patient that the pills were only good for cases of paralysis but he consented to their being given a trial as it last hope Accordingly Mr Briggs began taking them Very soon a change was noticed He grew more cheerful and suffered much less His whole system seemed to be awakened to new life, just as was the world outside, for it was the glad spring time of the year

With renewed strength came renewed hope, and the invalid began to look upon Pink Pills as his deliverer He used them faithfully, taking six a day In a month he was able to leave his bed, and he did so with a thankful heart Only those who have been forced to undergo long confinement between bedclothes can realize the pleasure and joy there were in that first day spent in the neat little parlor seated in a big arm chair beside the window where the sun sent in its warm bright rays Since then Mr Briggs has been out daily He uses crutches yet, but grows stronger every day Now he can use his hands and eat with a knife and fork, and the joints continue to grow more and more pliable giving only a faint idea of the terrible knots into which those of the hands and feet were tied Here was one solace of the pains has a most pleasing fact to the invalid and the blood seems that had become lost is now said to be up and good healthy color.

Mr Briggs has used [illegible] of the pills at a cost of $5.00 Certainly his bill for medicine although a large one was a marked decrease

Mr J. W. Bain, Secretary of Court Forest City, was also interviewed with respect to the case and his statements were in confirmation of what Mr Briggs had said He said he had had a tremendous sale of Pink Pills for Pale People of late, and that the sale was entirely owing to the fact that they were curing people. He had no hesitation in recommending them to any one suffering from any trouble arising from a disordered condition of the blood or nervous system.

Pink Pills for Pale People are manufactured by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., and are sold in boxes (never in bulk or by the dozen or hundred, and any dealer who offers substitutes in this form is trying to defraud you and should be avoided Ask your dealer for Dr Williams Pink Pills for Pale People and refuse all imitations and substitutes.

Dr Williams' Pink Pills may be had of all druggists, or direct by mail from Dr Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y., at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 The price at which these pills are sold makes a course of treatment comparatively inexpensive as compared with other remedies or medical treatment.

The Manitoba School question has been settled as far as the Courts of this country are concerned The Supreme Court has decided that the Governor in Council has no power to interfere with or modify the legislation of the province of Manitoba with respect to education Manitoba is consequently free by the constitution and the decision of the courts to regulate her own school affairs.

LIEUT.-GOV. CARVELL DEAD.

Sudden Death of the Lieutenant-Governor of Prince Edward Island.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I., Feb. 15 Lieutenant Governor Carvell died yesterday morning, aged 61 He went to bed as usual on the 13th About 2:30 he called for his son, who had no sooner come than his father expired before the other members of the family could be summoned.

Hon. L. C. Owen, Senator Howlan and Judge Hensley are spoken of as successors.

Jeliah Shaw Carvell was born at Newcastle, N. B., March 16, 1833, and went into mercantile pursuits He became Mayor of Charlottetown in 1877. He married a daughter of Thomas Hanford, St. John. He was appointed a senator in December, 1879, retaining that position until Sept. 9, 1889, when he was made Lieutenant Governor.

He took a leading part in the agitation for the Prince Edward Island Railway. In the session of 1892 he received a bill brought in and passed by his own administration.

NASSAGAWEYA.

Friday afternoon a four year old daughter of Richard Service, who lives near Robinson's lime kilns, in Nassagaweya, narrowly escaped death In the absence of her mother, who was getting a pail of water, the child was engaged playing with some rags near the fire place. Some of the rags became ignited and soon the blaze spread to the little one's pinafore and dress The mother arrived in time, by the exercise of judgment and promptitude to extinguish the blaze, but not before the little one was burned badly about the arms and face

The will of Archibald Campbell, of East Flamboro', farmer, has been entered for probate by Peter Campbell, of Nassagaweya. The estate is valued at $7,162, and is left to the children

TO THOSE WHOSE SUBSCRIPTIONS EXPIRE.

A considerable number of subscriptions to the Free Press expire this month Some have been subscribers for a number of years, some for a year some for six months

Now, whether you be a yearly, a six months' or a three months' subscriber, we ask this: Have you ever had cause to regret that your favored us with your subscription to the Free Press Has not the paper been all and more than we engaged it should be all that you could wish or desire? Have you not been repaid many times over for the small expense up the local and general news of the day in entertainment and instruction and in the useful hints and helps you have found in our columns? We can hardly see how it can be otherwise in either case for we have a conscientious of giving to the public a very great return for the money we ask of them

If the paper has pleased and benefitted you in the past, will you not continue your subscription and renew at once. The cost but the trifling sum to single subscribers are only $1.00 a year Isn't it worth that small sum to insure the regular receipt of this paper in your home for an entire year to come? Could you invest $1.00 in any other way to so good an advantage? If you will get one friend to join you in subscribing the two copies will be sent for $1.75

We hope that no single one of our present subscribers will fail to renew The success of our cash in advance plan adopted a year ago, leads us to believe that our list of prompt paying subscribers will continue to grow every week We appreciate the evidences of friendship toward the Free Press manifested in the continuance of hundreds of subscriptions year after year and the constant additions we are receiving In return for those favors it will be our unceasing effort to make the Free Press more and more interesting and keep it in every respect up to the times

An Odd Thing.

About a rain storm is, that the harder it rains the more soft water falls, and another thing is, that the more water falls the faster the water falls go And speaking about rains, no matter how low you buy an umbrella, it always goes up when it rains Some men only need a few 'drops' to raise a storm (when they get home). One way to make a short a jacket a fashionable shape is, to wear it a little longer, but a more practical way is, to buy one of the Lion's latest styles at just half price The purse need not be longer because the Jacket is longer We will not linger longer on this subject, or the longing for our Jackets will become so intense that we will not be able to supply the demand.
