terms.

The Easterner, number of Harper's Magazine, published March 17th, contains three complete short stories. "A Distinction and a Difference," by Marion Harland, illustrated by L. W. Hitchcock. "Easter Hats," by Kate Upon Clark, illustrated by W.
H. Hyatt. "The Man Who Would Not Marry," by Mrs. Wilder McElroy. Another sketch and essay will be "Courting-up in Marriage," by James Henri Bronge, and "The Care of the Aged," by Helen Everdon Smith. The suggestions for Easter, furnished by various popular writers, will be unusually attractive.

THE NEWS AT HOME.

Monty of a Local Character, and Every Item (interesting).

4 New Expressmen.

The express business is great. It is now a number of years less disposed of but still and still well to ex-Governor John Harvey. The change still be effected the 15 of April. Mr. Grant has been obliged and attending to the requirements of the business more in town and has successfully conducted the express business since he took charge. The public will be well served by ex-Governor Harvey, his successor.
Mr. Grant will go into farming at home.

Montgomery Court.

There was a large attendance at the sitting of Division Court last Thursday but the docket was small. Only two cases were heard by Judge Shaffer. Matthews v. Walter, was a suit for $12 for pasture.
Defendant alleged that while his cattle had several times strayed into the plaintiff's pasture lands, he had repeatedly driven them out and did not intend they should pasture there. Judgment for plaintiff allowing half amount of claim and costs. Mr. John Murray, the plaintiff, had been retained for a small amount for pasture. An offset of considerably larger amount was paid him Judgment for defendant with costs.

Removal of a Reverend Landmark.

Exactly thirty-seven years from the month in which its erection was commenced the Roman Catholic church on the first line, Esquinton, familiarly known as "Dublin" was torn down. Since the church was built in 1864 it was the only church in the parish.
Business masters are looking more lively here now. The fine kiln commence the season's operations last week and men are getting to work again.

KNOWLEDGE.

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better, longer and enjoy life more, with less expense, are those who have adapted the world's best products to the value of physical being. Will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laevative principles embodied in the product.
