The Young Folks.

A RHYME FOR LITTLE FOLKS.
Mr. H. D. tells a story that nobody knows,
Of a little girl named Little Anna,
Who had a round nose and a little nose,
And where they all went one day.

Oh, the little round nose smelled something sweet,

Because it must surely be nice to eat,

And nature gave her little feet.

Out of the room one day.

Two little toes climbed up a chair,

Two eyes peeped over a big book,

Lay a lovely cake all frostied and fair,

Made by mamma that day.

Then two ears and two hands grew long,

At last the nose, that little nose,

And ten little fingers went dig, dig,

Into the earth.

And when mamma blushed a curly head,

Curdled it softly up in bed,

"I wonder where those ears are," she said,

"Out on the roof, I suppose."

"Oh, mamma, yes," and a laugh of glee,

"Like fairy bells ringing merrily."

"But the little bit of a mouse was out,

Out of the shelf to day!"

LIBERAL GIVERS ENDOWED.

It is remarkable how often liberal divers

are blessed of God. He endows with grace and gifts those who can be trusted to do good in illustration.

He said that in Austria there was a mona-stry noted for its gifts to the poor.

The monastery prospered and was famous for its wealth. But the monks began to

to hoard the money, instead of giving it to the poor. Soon the monastery became poor. One day, a saint, in the guise of a mendicant, went to the monastery, and said for alms. The monk told him they had nothing to give. "Do you know why the treasury is empty?" he asked. "It is because the real reason is the real reason," said the saint. "You

once had two brothers in your monastery

named Date and Dabitur. You thrust out

Date, and then, when Dabitur left lonely

without his brother, he left of his own accord." The monks protested that they had never had such inmates. "Have you forgotten your Latin, too?" asked the saint. "Date must give and Dabitur will be given to you. When Date is again

an inmate of your house, Dabitur will be turn, and your treasury will no longer be empty."

GOOD ROADS.

The Objects of the Provincial Association in Detail.

1. To unite, as far as practicable,

the efforts of all provinces engaged in the work

for road reform.

2. To awaken interest in the subject among the people at large.

3. To receive, publish and discuss any well-considered plans for local, provincial or national action or legislation.

4. To aid in providing for a proper road exhibit and instruction in roadmaking at all Farmers' Institutes, county, dairymen's, creamery, cheese-men's and other associations meeting.

5. To establish the association on the broadest possible basis throughout the country, so that its influence may be of weight in any direction in which it may ultimately be thrown.

6. To obtain and spread among the local associations full information regarding recent legislation for road improvement.

7. To obtain and publish full information regarding methods of road building as practiced in various parts of Canada, the United States and other countries.

8. To establish and furnish to local associations, at reduced rates, all valuable publications on the subject of roads and road legislation.

HIS REASON.

A city broker, whose home is in New Jersey, was obliged to Illinois to lose a day from his business, so he sent word to his clerk at the office to let him know by telegram something of the day's transactions. The firm's private code was to use 10 words. The hours were over, but no telegram appeared, and the broker began to be mystified, not to say provoked, at the inaccurate negligence of his faithful clerk. The telegraph office was a mile from his home, and there was no time to be lost but to wait for the messenger, who didn't come. Next morning the subscriber stopped his way to the station to make inquiries at the telegraph office for his missing telegram. The operator was an old town sot up, with an interest in everybody's affairs, and he greeted his visitor in neighborly fashion.

"Good morning, sir! All well, I hope?

"Very, sir; all right. I say, didn't you get a telegram for me yesterday?"

"Telegram for you? Well, let me see. Why, yes, I believed I did. But I couldn't make nothing out of it, so I didn't think it was worth while to send it up!"

The Prize May Be Yours.

Dyspepsia and Debility Easily Banished.

PAINES CLOVER COMPOUND MEETS THE WANTS OF ALL.

No troubles are more common and present in our minds than dyspepsia and debility.

The medical admen make life miserable for those who have many die every year because they have received improper treatment and bad care.

Hundreds of lives during the past year have been saved by Paine's Celery Compound, that wonderful medicine that copes so successfully with dyspepsia, indigestion and all nervous affections.

Mr. H. O. Porter, merchant, of Bell-

dine, N. B. writes as follows:

"Good morning, sir: All well, I hope?

"Very, sir; all right. I say, didn't you get a telegram for me yesterday?"

"Telegram for you? Well, let me see.

Why, yes, I believed I did. But I couldn't make nothing out of it, so I didn't think it was worth while to send it up!"

Scott's Emulsion.

The Crown of God-Liver Oil and Hypophysis.

It is palatable and gay on the stomach.

Physicians, this world over, endorse it.

Not to be deceived by Substitutes!

Buy Scott's Emulsion.

The man who advised people to think twice before speaking once was suggested to in vain attempt to stop conversation in the opera boxes.

On What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning? The most

Young Minister I've been pressing for you a long time, Mrs. Davis (astomach).

Why didn't you let us know? I'd have been here after the first prayer.

Why suffer from weak nerves, want of appetite, and general debility? Letting the loss of sleep and rest impoverish the system and thin the blood, when such a really magistrus remedy as Northrop & Lyman's

Quinine Wine may be had at any drug store. This article is recommended by the highest members of the medical faculty

in case of indigestion, general debility,

loss of appetite and nervous affections of all kinds. It is also specially beneficial to children and delicate females, and to those in regular order, and on able to successfully grapple with the work you have to do. It is pleasant to the taste, and contains nothing injurious to the most delicate constitutions. Remember to ask for the Quinine Wine, prepared by Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, and we are sure you will be satisfied that you have all value for your money. Draggle sell it.

I know of nothing that can strongly recommend itself to you.

If it is faithfully used it will give you a new and enjoyable life instead of misery and woe.

I cannot say too much in its favor

and would urge all to give it a trial at once."

For Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, Grippe, Colic, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, and Summer Complaints Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is a prompt, safe and sure cure that has been a popular favorite for over 10 years.
