THE NEWS AT HOME.

Mostly of a Local Character, and Every Item Interesting.

Another Swindle.

Look out for the map peddlars. One scheme is, if the person importuned doesn't subscribe promptly for the map, the canvasser requests him to sign a certificate that the agent had visited his place, taken the statistics of the products, etc., and the certificate turns out to be an order for the map at a price far in excess of the value.

The Entrance Examinations.

The candidates who wrote at the recent entrance and leaving examinations are waiting as patiently as possible to hear the result of their work. The board of examiners have completed their work, but are not permitted to publish the names of the successful candidates until their admission has been confirmed or rejected by the central board at Toronto. It will probably be a week or ten days yet before any official information is given the public.

Painful Accident.

On Tuesday morning as Mr. Allan Mann was about to hitch his team to draw in hay he was passing behind the horses when one of them kicked him a terrible blow striking him on the chin. The jaw bone was broken, several teeth knocked out, an ugly gash sustained on the chin and a number of painful bruises. The accident is the more serious having occurred at the outset of the harvest. Friends and neighbors will not see his crops jeopardized, however. It is just three years this week since Mr. Mann had his ankle fractured, and that accident interfered with his farm work for six weeks or more.

Civic Holiday and Excursion.

Reeve Pearson has proclaimed Thursday, 2nd August, Civic Holiday for the present year. The United Societies' excursion to Orillia and Strawberry Island is the event which will attract our citizens that day. The fare to Orillia is only $1.10 for the return trip and 55 cents for children. This is only about one fourth the regular fare. Orillia is a delightful point to visit and the trip to Strawberry Island in Lake Simcoe will also be an attraction which citizens of any inland town can enjoy. The train will leave Acton at 7 a. m. for Orillia and returning will leave for home about 6 in the evening.

The Churches and Services.

Mr. Tovell, of Guelph, preached in the Disciple Church last Sunday. Rev. G. B. Cooke has secured the services of Rev. Canon Dumoulin, of Toronto, for the coming harvest festival sermons. Rev. C. A. Cook, of Bloomfield, N. Y., preached in the Baptist Church on Sunday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Farmer, of Racine, Wis., preached in the Methodist Church last Sunday morning and Rev. C. A. Cook in the evening, large congregations. Rev. Mr. St. Dalmas is attending the great Baptist Convention in Toronto this week. Rev. W. Bryers will occupy the pulpit of the Baptist Church on Sunday in his absence.

A Delightful Social Evening.

The annual lawn party given by the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church was held at the home of Mr. Archibald McNabb. Mrs. Little's fine residence on Monday evening. The evening was a very delightful one, the spacious grounds were prettily decorated with flags, while here and there was a dainty white refreshment booth, and numerous chinese lanterns shed their mellow light over the festive scene. The company was a large one, everyone seemed to contribute to an enjoyable evening. Acton Cornet Band rendered an excellent and varied programme. The members of the Ladies Aid were very materially assisted in making the proceedings a success by Mr. and Mrs. McNabb and family. The proceeds were $34.75.

The City Boarder in the Country.

Now the boarder from the city roams the fields a careless rover, trying hard to tell the difference between Indian corn and clover. For the turnip tree he searches, and he seeks with zeal divine for the rutabaga orchard and the spreading parsnip vine. Climbs the grape vine for bananas, and through fragrant fields he cuts, scanning elderberry bushes in his search for cocoanuts. And through swamps and tangled forests with unwearied feet he pushes, searching day by day in patience for the watermelon bushes, and he asks the startled farmer if he's through his nutmeg hoeing, how his chocolate trees are doing, how his lemon vines are growing. If he's dug his barley hay crop, if he's sowed his sweet potatoes, if his slippery elm is planted, if he's grafted his tomatoes. If he's trimmed his early grass trees, if he thinks there is more money in potato bugs than raising honeysuckle for its honey.

ERIN.

At the examination of S. S. No. 13 Erin, held recently, Herbert N. Ansley, the teacher, who gave up the school to attend the Normal, was presented with an address and a beautiful dressing case. The address was read by Flora Sinclair, and Emma Swackhammer made the presentation.

Some time ago Miss Bella Gordon, who has taught Limehouse School the past six and a half years most successfully, sent in her resignation, having decided to retire from the profession. At the close of the school for the summer holidays the friends of the children gave them an enjoyable treat. The occasion was made the opportunity of presenting Miss Gordon with a beautiful berry dish and spoon. Mrs. John Moore had charge of the proceedings. Miss Mamie Nickell read an appropriate address and Miss Alice LePoidevin made the presentation. Messrs. James Newton and John Moore, trustees, referred to the faithful and successful work performed by Miss Gordon during her term of service. Miss Gordon made a feeling reply thanking the donors for their handsome present and expressing the regret she felt at the severance of the ties which have been growing so long. She bade each scholar an affectionate farewell.

ROCKWOOD.

Last Saturday night an attempt was made to enter Mr. H. Bragg's house. Mr. Bragg was away from home and the would be thief evidently was aware of the fact. He secured a ladder and attempted three different times to enter by way of the upper windows. Mrs. Bragg heard the thief and aroused some of the neighbors who endeavored to capture the midnight prowler. He succeeded in escaping recognition and capture at the same time. This is the first attempt of the kind that has been made in the village for a long time and consequently is looked upon with a great deal of wonder and anxiety by the villagers.
