PIERCE

THE PLAN OF BILLY'S RECOVERY...

The City of Hamilton Stirred Up.

An Interesting and Well-known Lad Taken Home from St. Joseph's Hospital To Die.

The Whole Staff of Physicians and Trained Nurses Declared His Case to Be a Hopeless One.

AT THE POINT OF DEATH, PAIN'S CELERY COMPOUND CURES HIM.

One of the Most Desperate Cases Ever Known Limits and Body Swollen An Unrecoverable Pinch of Humanity This Boy's Story is Told by Two Gallant and Skillful Fellers, Pain's Celery Compound Works Miraculously All Statements Vouched For by Geo. L. Richter, Esq., Late of J. Winsor & Co., and David Morton, Esq., Superintendent of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church Sunday School.

Young Alex McIntosh, interesting bright and good looking, as a lad in his teens, and reads with his parents at No. 77 (Catherine Street south, Hamilton, Ont.) The members of the family are well and favorably known, and attend St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, of which Rev. R. J. Laidlaw, L.L.D., is pastor.

Some months ago, to the great grief and consternation of Mr. and Mrs. McIntosh, their son Alex was stricken down with a terrible swelling of the limbs and throat. Notwithstanding the fact that the boy was under the care of an able and experienced doctor, his condition became more alarming.

At this juncture a consultation was held by three of the leading physicians of the city, and the result was that Alex was sent to the hospital, where he might have all the advantages of medical skill, and the constant attention of trained nurses.

At the end of four weeks Alex's condition was more alarming than ever, and his parents were assured that there was no possible chance of recovery for their dear boy. He lay on his hospital bed, perfectly helpless, and so swollen from head to foot that he was unrecognizable.

The sorrowing parents, feeling that there was no hope, and that the hand of death had securely grasped their loved boy, wished to have him in their home. As he was being taken from the hospital, those in charge expressed sorrow that nothing more could be done for the dying lad.

While at home, at the point of death, a little neighbor called, who had used Pain's Celery Compound successfully for an extreme case of neuralgia. Our friend and she would write and ask you if it would be advisable to use Pain's Celery Compound, even in this terrible case of kidney trouble, attended with such a swelling of the limbs and throat.

The boy lived, and the medicine was continued from day to day with results that gave joy and gladness. By the time the fourth bottle was finished, young Alex McIntosh was well, and all his troubles banished. He is as strong and robust as any boy of his age in the city.

All the physicians look upon the cure as a miracle, and the whole staff of St. Joseph's Hospital rejoice at the lad's restoration to health.

Scores of Hamilton's best people can vouch for every statement made in connection with this unparalleled case. The statements made by Mr. and Mrs. James McIntosh, the boy's parents, are fully supported by two of Hamilton's leading business men. Such sterling proof of the value of Pain's Celery Compound, should strongly convince every sufferer, and all those who desire to know the truth, that there is no other medicine known in the medical profession and the public, that can do what Pain's Celery Compound does.

It is a constructive food that promotes the making of healthy tissues, and is a grandly wonderful remedy for Emaciation, General Debility, Throat and Lung Complaints, Coughs, Colds, Anemia, Scrofula and Wasting Diseases of Children.

They were sitting in the little boat to gather, and she said, "Are you running on the wind now, George?" "No, no, no," he declared, "she's not least is suggesting the shore." "Ah," she exclaimed, "what a beautiful example you have here!"

Mr. Goldsack, I have come to ask for the hand of your daughter. "My daughter, sir?" "Yes, I can't live without her." "Well, sir, finish your sentence." "Finish my sentence?" "Yes, you were about to say you could not live without her, wasn't it?" "Yes, my dear sir."

For 12 years previous to the last few months I have been a sufferer of the most kind from St. Joseph's Hospital. I tried twelve different doctors, besides many patent medicines, but received no benefit, but gradually became worse. Last January I was advised to try Pain's Celery Compound. I was skeptical at first, but after taking only one bottle to make a complete cure. Edw. White, Victoria, B.C.

Doctors say it is the best medicine for the lungs and it is the best for the throat. I was very weak and could not speak above a whisper. Dr. Lawson, of Hamilton, attended me and sent a bottle of Pain's Celery Compound. My voice returned to me and my health. Alf. Smith, Wheatlands, Man.

AN IMPORTANT INCIDENT AT A COUNTRY AUCTION SALE.

Quite recently a country store stock, was sold off by auction in lots to suit purchasers.

The sale, which had been well advertised by circulars distributed throughout the country, drew a large crowd of farmers and their good wives, and the bidding was fast and brisk, and good prices were realized for all useful and staple goods.

Amongst the vast variety of articles put up for sale were two lots of package dyes for household dyeing. The auctioneer announced that he would first dispose of the Diamond Dyes, and that every farmer and farmer's wife would be well and favorably pleased with the results.

The other dyes were then brought for sale and introduced by some typical name. The auctioneer said: "I give you the name of these dyes, but I know little about their manufacturer or quality; come give me a bid, my price."

There was no response - not a bid to encourage the auctioneer's heart. Seeing that time was being lost, and anxious to get rid of these dyes at any price, the auctioneer, in a joking way, said: "You are, I want your garden fence and barn painted. The dyes are not good enough to color your dresses, shawls, jackets, silk and ribbons, they will surely do for common house painting."

The idea was a novel one - it was a revelation, and always reliable. They will favor of a few dollars for a small price, an entire stock of worthless dyes were sold to one farmer, who was heartily laughed at.

This is a most important moral to be deduced from the results of the auction sale just referred to. The moral taught is, that poor and worthless dyes, wherever sold, are dear at any price even when used for common house painting.

The Diamond Dyes are well known, popular and always reliable. They will everywhere and under all circumstances, and give wonderful results in restoring to beauty and usefulness old faded articles of wearing apparel. Diamond Dyes cost many dollars each year in every farmer's house.

If you don't want dull thoughts to come, you must keep 'em away as I keep the weeds out of my garden. I fill the beds so full of flowers that there isn't any room for weeds. - Dainty Queen

It may be only a trifling ailment, but neglect it and it will fasten its fangs in your lungs and you will soon be carried to an untimely grave. In this country we have sudden changes and must expect to have coughs and colds. We cannot avoid them, but we can effect a cure by using Kendall's Asthma Remedy. It has been known to cure colds, coughs, bronchitis and all affections of the throat, lungs and chest.

The reason some folks can't get any rest is that they have so little religion, they are ashamed of it.

An Important Question. The health and life of the mother is directly dependent upon the proper performance of the functions of the stomach and no other organ is subject to such gross abuse when everything that the patient craves of the eye is craved in indulgent eating, this abused receptacle, and indigestion ensues. Get a box of Haggard's Liver Laxatives for 25 cents and remedy the evil at once.

There were some old news will be, a universal panacea in some remedy for all the ills to which flesh is heir, the very nature of many curative being such that were the genius of other and differently mental diseases related to the system of the patient, which would relieve one ill, in fact would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, which obtains its name from its medicinal value, a remedy for many and various ills. By its use, the chronic and the most intractable cases are led into convalescence and are cured by the influence which Quinine exerts on Nature's own restorative. It cures the digestive system of those with whom a chronic state of indigestion has set in, and leads to a life of ease and joy by tranquillizing the nerves, disposing to sound and refreshing sleep, supports vigor to the action of the blood, which, being strengthened by the healthy normal functions of the system, thereby making activity a result, strengthening the frame, and giving life to the digestive organs, which naturally demand increased sustenance, result in improved appetite. Northrup & Layman, of Toronto, has given to the public their superior Quinine Wine at the usual rate, and, guided by the opinions of "scientists," this wine approaches perfect perfection of any in the market.
