DOLLY'S LESSON.

Come here, you ignoramus!
I'm ashamed to have to 'fess
You don't know any letter
'Cept just your coffee b

Now, listen, and I'll tell you.
This round hole's nought or O,
And when you put a tail to
It makes it Q, you know

And if it has a front door
To walk in at it's C
Then make a seat right here
To sit on, and it's G

And this tall letter, dolly,
Is I, and stands for me.
And when it puts a hat on
It makes a cap of T

And curly I is J, dear,
And half of B is P,
And E without his slippers on
Is only F, you see.

You turn A upside down,
And people call it V,
And if it's twins, like this one,
W they'll be.

Now, dolly, when you learn 'em
You'll know a great big heap
Most much's I—oh, dolly!
I believe you're gone asleep!

HE "DIDN'T DO NOTHING."

Everybody who has read Dickens' Bleak House, of course remembers "Poor Joe," the persecuted little crossing-sweeper, who "knew nothing," and was continually being ordered by the police to "move on." The other day, while examining a copy of the London Times, of January, 1850, for a very different purpose, we happened upon the report of a police case, which, in all human probability, suggested to the novelist the character in question. A ragged lad, about twelve years old, having been placed in the witness-box, the presiding magistrate asked him if he knew who the devil was.

"No, I don't," was the reply.

The justice was amazed.

"What do you know, my poor lad?" said he.

"I don't know nothink," replied the urchin, "only how to sweep a crossing."

"And is that all?" rejoined the magistrate.

"That's all, sir. I sweeps a crossing."

There can be little doubt, we think, that the wretched little waif who knew nothink—only how to sweep a crossing—was the original of Dickens' "Poor Joe."

A Member of the Peary North Pole Expedition.

He Makes Some Interesting Statements.

Paine's Celery Compound Used in the Frozen Regions

Mr. James W. Davidson, who went with Lieut Peary to the Arctic regions, was recently interviewed, and made the following interesting statement

"Yes, indeed, I have not only heard of Paine's Celery Compound, but have used it and have every reason to remember it. When I was selected by Lieutenant Peary to accompany him on his trip to the arctic regions to try and find the North Pole, it was partly because of my strong, healthy constitution, and his belief that I could endure the fatigue and danger incident to the trip. I had associated with him as his business manager on his lecturing tour, and was on terms of the greatest intimacy with him.

"When the ship Falcon left New York on her trip northward it had among the stores, several cases of Paine's Celery Compound. The reputation of that medicine was so well established that it was the most natural thing in the world that the members of the party, and they comprised men from nearly every walk in life, from common sailors to men of science, should desire to use it.

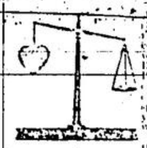
"The record of our perilous trip to Camp Anniversary is too well known to need repetition. Once in camp we naturally took an inventory of our possessions, and I was exceedingly glad to find the Celery Compound. The medicine chest was open to all, and we were free to take from it what we thought was advisable I, in company with several others, selected some of the Compound, taking a bottle of it to the cabin, knowing it would be handy when wanted. Nor was I mistaken, for the excessive cold weather soon had its effects, and I began to be troubled in a number of ways. In every case whenever I felt the slightest indisposition, I used the Compound, and of course found relief.

One thing noticeable in the Arctic region was that the cold weather made us all exceedingly nervous We became irritable and cross. The slightest thing would cause angry words to spring to our lips, and it required the greatest care to guard against our ill temper getting the best of us. We had to watch one another to avoid getting into a passion Our nerves were all unstrung and naturally it affected our health I talked the matter over with some of the others, and made up my mind that possibly the Celery Compound would be beneficial, for I knew that it was used for nervous disorders at home. Well, sir, we tried it, and I must say, that it helped every one of us, so much so that I might say it was a peace-maker among us.

When the long night of six months came on and we were in darkness, we found that the effects were very depressing. Imagine, if you can, living six months in darkness, such as occurs here every night, and you can readily understand how we were situated. It is a wonder that some of us did not go mad. We had not much to divert our attention, and the effect was something like solitary confinement in a dark cell.

I have used Paine's Celery Compound for a dozen fits such as a person is liable to have at any time, and especially in the desolate country. It has always helped me and I should be pleased to have more of it should I go North again.

I do not know of any one thing that I can speak more highly of than Celery Compound. It certainly is a great medicine, and I am an advocate of it."



AT THE HEART'S CORE lies the cause of most diseases. Dyspepsia is confined to no one part of the system, but sympathizes with all. The cause of Dyspepsia is generally found in the blood. The "Prescription" relieves every such condition. It builds up your general health, too, better than any ordinary tonic

ELECTRIC POWER IMPROVEMENTS IN ENGLAND.

Large water powers are rather scarce in England, and most of them are important to be found in the mountainous districts, distant of the port and place. The fall of water at the southern end of Lake Windermere will develop, it is said, about 10,000 horse power, and there is now some serious talk of utilizing part of it. A company has been formed to attack and install turbines and dynamos, and will then negotiate the current at high pressure for conveyance at a number of points within ten miles, including Kendal and Ulleswater. An electric railway is also projected, to be run from the same source, and there can be no doubt it will be highly used, as free from many of the objections that Ruskin and others have so vehemently urged against the steam railroads in that romantic and quiet region.

THE SIZE OF SIZES.

When you speak of a size, what do you understand by it? This question was asked of a clothier the other day, and the answer was that a size in a coat is one inch; in underwear, two inches; in a sock an inch, in a collar, half an inch; in shoes one-sixth of an inch, in trousers, one inch, in gloves, a quarter of an inch, and in hats one eighth. Paste this in your scrap book.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know that Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for Children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine produce stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in many countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labelling them poison?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation; and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of Dr. Samuel Pitcher, That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for Children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have to-day exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria has been proved to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.
