The Young Folks.

HOW I LOOKS AT IT.

'Ef yer rock'us for to go it jes precisely as yo please,
An' de Master from His girdle will onlatch de golden keys
When yo' step across de threshol' wi' de mighty howdy,
An' tell yo' yo' is welcome to de mansion in de sky,
Dar's a mistake somewhar.

Ef yo' scatter yo' wild oatses in the Maytime of the year,
Wid de notion dat October will fill yo barn, my honey dear;
Dat de cattor in de furrer's gole' to change to yaller corn,
Better hark to Mass'r Gabriel, who's a shoutin' from his horn,
Dar's a mistake somewhar.

An' yo' bettah listen careful, for its 'tended for yousef,
Ef yo' s'poses dat de angel what is making up yo' 'count,
Go's to mixify de figures so yo' wont par full amount,
Dar's a mistake somewhar.

Ef yo' foolsh, tumblin' flugahs grip de flugahs ob yo' Prien',
Ef yo' trebl' in de forse' to de clearin' at de en',
Ever lovin' like de lover dat is loyal an' is true,
Ever trustin' in His power for to see yo' safely troo;
No mistake dis time

HERE'S THE MAN OF IT.

"I can't for the life of me see how women can be so vain, nonsensical and fond of ornament—confound it!"

His train of thought was suddenly broken off by sticking his finger through the badge of the Dunk Social Club which he was fastening conspicuously on his vest before the mirror.

FIBBING CHILDREN.

A Chicago kindergarten teacher says that mothers come to her so often asking how they shall break their children from telling untruths that she has almost come to think that lying is a national evil. She divides children's falsehoods into four classes. The first is the lie of excessive imagination, and the treatment is inculcation of exactness of observation, either by precept or in play." The second is the lie of egotism, the remedy for which is objective work that will take thought from self. A third class of lies is evolved through fear of punishment, and sympathy is the cure. "In all such cases," the kindergartner adds "the child must be shown the justice of his punishment." The fourth division includes children addicted to the jealous lie, as saying that they have things which they have not, because the boy around the corner has them. The cure in this instance is love and appreciation, that the child may understand that he does not need these coveted possessions to gain or keep his friends. All mothers will be interested in this matter, as few are not called upon to meet these childish prevaricators

AN ENGLISH PHYSICIAN FROM THE TIGHT LITTLE ISLAND

He Is Pleased With Canada.

TALKS ABOUT CANADIAN PEOPLE.

He Says we Have Too Many Pale and Half-dead Women.

HIS EXPERIENCE WITH PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND.

Thinks it is the Right Medicine for Building up Weak and Sickly Women.

In the early part of January an English physician of high standing and considerable wealth, visited the principal cities and towns of Canada, after a tour in the United States.

He was exceedingly well pleased with what he saw in the Dominion, and spoke in glowing terms of the good nature and hospitality of our people.

When asked what he thought of Canadians from a physiological point of view, he replied:—

"Taken as a whole you have a fine sturdy population, but there is room for improvement. You have splendid specimens of manhood; your women generally look healthy and vigorous, but you have too many who are pale, listless and half-dead looking, such as I have met in the United States.

Oh, yes! I know something about Paine's Celery Compound, I have used it occasionally myself, and know of its being used in England. I have recommended it to pale, weak and run-down women and girls in England, and it has produced very satisfactory and pleasing results. From what I know of the formula of Paine's Celery Compound, I have no hesitation, as a physician, in prescribing it in cases of general debility, dyspepsia, nervous affections, kidney and liver complaints and general weakness.

Your pale, weak and half-dead women and girls have a true life-building agent in Paine's Celery Compound. There is no other preparation I know of that is so well adapted for the troubles of weak females.

I am pleased to know that Paine's Celery Compound is so popular in your midst, it really deserves every line of praise now received from the public."

Cannot Be Beat. W. D. Steinbach, Zurich, writes. "I have used Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil in my family for a number of years, and I can safely say that it cannot be beat for the cure of croup, fresh cuts and sprains. My little boy has had attacks of croup several times, and one dose of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil was sufficient for a perfect cure. I take great pleasure in recomending it as a family medicine, and I would not be without a bottle in my house."

Catarrh Relieved in 10 to 60 Minutes
One short puff of the breath through the Blower, supplied with each bottle of Dr Agnew's Catarrhal Powder, diffuses this Powder over the surface of the nasal passages. Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup stands at the head of the list for all diseases of the throat and lungs. It acts like magic in breaking up a cold. A cough is soon subdued, tightness of the chest is relieved, while in recent cases it may be said never to fail. It is a medicine prepared from the active principles or virtues of several medicinal herbs, and can be depended upon for all pulmonary complaints.

The road to heaven would be crowded if it were carpeted with velvet.

Reasons For Success

The success of Norway Pine Syrup as a cure for coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis, and all throat and lung troubles is due to the fact that it is the best and pleasantest remedy ever discovered, and because its action is prompt and certain.

There is a great difference between serving the world and being the servant of the world.

At first success makes a name, afterward the name makes the success.

The medicine for Liver and Kidney Complaint Mr Victor Auger, Ottawa, writes. "I take great pleasure in recommending to the general public Parmelee's Pills, as a cure for Liver and Kidney Complaint. I have doctored for the last three years with leading physicians, and have taken many medicines which were recommended to me without relief, but after taking eight of Parmelee's Pills I was quite relieved, and now I feel as free from the disease as before I was troubled."

Agitation in the world of homœopathic medicine has been its very soul of progress as in politics and religion the difficulties of opinion and the individuality of men have been parent to the disagreements by which the standard of these bodies have elevated. So with most of our famous preparations foremost in illustration of which truth stands the world famous remedy to general debility and languor Quinine Wine, and which, when obtainable in its genuine strength, is a miraculous creator of appetite, vitality and stimulant, to the general fertility of the system. Quinin Wine, and its improvement, has, from the first discovery of the virtues of Quinine as a medical agent, been one of the most thoroughly discussed remedies ever offered to the public. It is one of the great tonics and life giving stimulants which the medical profession have been compelled to recognize and prescribe. Messrs. Northrop & Lyman, of Toronto, have given to the preparation of their pure Quinine Wine the great care due to its importance, and the standard excellence of the article which they offer to the public comes into the market purged of all the defects which skillful observation and scientific opinion has pointed out in the less perfect preparations of the paste. All druggists sell it.

They never fail to please.
Hurrah! hurrah! for Diamond Dyes,

To house wives pleasure bring.
Long may these Diamonds live to bless
With recreating powers,
Fond may they shine their perfulness
In this Canada of ours.

HOLDING FUNERALS AT NIGHT.

The custom of holding funeral services at night is steadily growing in New York City. Its growth dates from about five years ago. There were eight funerals in New York before that but they were comparatively few. The growth of the custom is due to several causes. The night funeral is less expensive, and it meets the convenience of a much greater number of friends of the dead. With the increase of societies and their growth in membership the loss of a day or half a day in attendance at the funeral of a member has come to be a serious tax, and in this respect the night funeral makes a saving of time. In line with this economy of time is a decided change, within five or six years in the custom with regard to pallbearers. There are now perhaps twenty funerals without pallbearers to one with them. Some of the night funerals are held at home, some at church. If at church, the body is taken, after the services, to the undertaker's, and there kept until the burial. If at the house, the body may be taken to the undertaker's or it may remain in the house over night. The morning service, a prayer by the clergyman, would be attended by only the immediate members of the family who would take leave of the dead alone. The interment would be without further service at the grave. The number of funeral services held at undertakers is also increasing. No charge is made for the use of the shop for this purpose. It is in some respects more economical than a funeral at home or church, and, with larger space than within a house, it brings all attending together instead of separating them in various rooms.

FOR FAINT HEARTS.

Don't get discouraged, young man. A farm may be necessities, but boarding houses are not. Homes are a luxury and you do well to try to start one. There will be obstacles enough to your purpose without inventing any for you or your thinking up any for yourself. No matter if your spelling is a little weak kneed and your rhymes need tuning, if you have something to express express it, or try anyway, and when you have done your best a postage stamp on it, and away it goes, and may the blessing of St. Valentine go with it. Even if you should fail to affect the adamantine heart of this particular lady, you will at least have taken a step in the art of expression and learned something perhaps that will be of use to you some other time. There are a good many girls in the world these days, and you know bulls-eyes are not made by the young chap who stands with his hands in his pockets gaping at the target. Take a good shot. The custom of Valentine's day invites it.

POWERFUL AGENTS OF PROGRESS.

Yes, everybody needs to read the newspapers. They may not be perfect nothing is, but they are powerful agents in the progress of intelligence and education, they contain the best thinkers, and are quite as well gotten up, good friends as you could get them up, no matter what you may think to the contrary.

They solace our weary hours, they amuse our idle moments, we look for them as we look for our breakfast, and whatever else we dispense with we will not dispense with our newspaper. And we will pay for it and let every body else do the same, if he wants an easy conscience.

The path of the newspaper editor is a hard one to travel. He gives generous notices and says pleasant things about people and societies for years and nobody ever sees them. Then perchance, he unintentionally treads on some one's toes and how quickly it spreads, and verily he is the meanest man on earth. But the newspaper man mindeth it not for he is used to such things.—Wilson Star.
