The Young Folks.

WHY SHOULDN'T I?

BY HELEN M. WINSLOW.

My canary bird sings the whole day long
Behind his gold bars
Glad to front all that Gods enjoy
Under the sun and stars.
The breed on grace and action fine
Of wild birds he foregoes,
But spite of that, with happiness
His little heart o'erflows
The world is wide, and birds outside
In happy cheer always abide —
Why shouldn't I?

I too, must dwell behind the bars
Of toil and sacrifice,
Point heavy heart and weary brain
My prayers or songs arise.
But all around sad hearts abound,
And troubles worse than mine,
If aught of comfort I can bring
To them, shall I repine?
God's world is wide, if I can hide
The regretful tears and sing beside,
Why shouldn't I?

DIDN'T LIKE YANKEE TRICKS.

An Englishman riding in a train out West went into the dining room car for dinner. He was told by the waiter that the price of the dinner was $1.

"Yes, sir," said the waiter, volunteering this further information, "$1, and you can eat all you want, sir."

The Englishman had a good appetite and he ate a large dinner, paying his dollar cheerfully, and giving the waiter a "tip."

The next day he entered the dining car of another train for luncheon. He was then in Canada. Picking up the menu card, the Englishman of large appetite gave an order that made the waiter open his eyes in astonishment, but it is the business of waiters to supply the appetites of people, not to criticize them, and he began to serve the luncheon. The Englishman ate steadily and industriously and with evident relish. When he had finished his meal his face wore a look of great content. He felted in his pocket for a dollar, looked at the check and gasped.

"What a this!" he asked. "Seven dollars and fifty cents. Why man this is a mistake. Meals are only $1 and you eat all you want.

"Not on dis-yah sub," said the waiter, who was black as ebony and possessed a smile of amplitude. "Y a order by de card, sub, sir, pay fuh what y a eat. Yas, sub; y'u order a la carte, sub."

The Englishman picked up the menu card and studied it carefully, his face getting redder as he scrutinized it.

"It's an outrage," he said.

"It's the rules, sub," said the waiter respectfully. "Yas, sub."

"My friend," said a passenger who had a twinkle in his eye, "I think I can explain. On the roads in the United States you pay for your meal, whether you eat only a bite or not. But, sir, we are now in Her Majesty's dominion."

"Ah," said the Englishman in a more hopeful voice.

"Yes, sir, and in Her Majesty's dominion every precaution is taken to protect the patrons of a railroad from imposition. So you see sir here you only pay for what you order and eat."

The Englishman seemed to run over in his own mind a long list of dishes which he had ordered, for his face fell.

"Yes, it is a very good arrangement," said the other softly. "It protects the traveller you see."

"But see here," said the Englishman indignantly, "they have the dishes on this card in prominent letters and away off on the side in small letters the prices. Now, sir, he cried hotly, "I'm near sighted, and over in the states they told me the price of a meal was $1, and of course I was not on the lookout for swindlers among the employes of this company."

"But you see, sir," said the other, "the purpose of this arrangement is a good one."

"Eh?" said the Englishman wrathfully. "How do I know," he thundered, "that this an t one of those sharp Yankee tricks, got up in the states and sent over here into Canada to swindle innocent people. I've heard all about these Yankees," he added in a tone of disgust. He laid some money down on the check. It was the even amount. There was no "tip."

"It protects the dinner car, too," said the other passenger to himself with a soft smile.

Mr Thomas Ballard, Syracuse, N Y writes. "I have been afflicted for nearly a year with that most to be dreaded disease Dyspepsia, and at times worn out with pain and want of sleep, and after trying almost everything recommended, I tried one box of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. A HAPPY CHOICE.

AFTER 25 YEARS.

A Wise Mother Chooses the Right Medicine, and Her Son Tells of its Wonderful Effects.

GENTLEMEN,—In the spring of 1891 I got a bottle of B.B.B. for my mother, who had been troubled for 25 years with sick headache. I got it from Mr. H. Paxton Baird, of Woodstock, N.B., who gave me two other medicines to take home, and let my mother take her choice. Fortunately she chose B.B.B., and I returned the other bottles. She used it for three months and has had no headache since. We are sure it was B.B.B. cured her as she took no other medicine.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND MAKES THEM WELL.

After Suffering for 18 Years the Great Spring Medicine Cures Mrs. G. H. Parker.

Eighteen years of intense suffering, disappointment and anxiety!

Failure after failure with doctors and worthless medicines made life sad and dreary for Mrs. G. H. Parker, Wmona, Ont.

After some persuasion, Mrs. Parker was induced to give Paine's Celery Compound a fair and honest trial.

What happy grand results! Such a victory over suffering! Complete cure and renewed health!

The following is Mrs Parker's unsolicited testimony:

"I have been a great sufferer from neuralgia for nearly eighteen years, these sufferings at times were so bad that words would fail to describe them. After having tried every known remedy, and different physicians, and receiving no help I was persuaded to try your Paine's Celery Compound, which I have been using for the past four months. I am happy to say I am now a different woman and completely cured. I can recommend your Paine's Celery Compound to all my friends for it has been worth hundreds of dollars to me."

AGREED WITH HIS CROSS EXAMINER.

Mr James Hyde, once a lawyer in a town on Long Island, tells a good story about himself. He says:

"It was when I used to practice law in a small town near the centre of the state. A farmer had one of his neighbors arrested for stealing ducks, and I was employed by the accused to endeavor to convince the court that such was not the case. The plaintiff was positive that his neighbor was guilty because he had seen the ducks in the defendant's yard.

"How do you know they were your ducks?" I asked.

"Oh, I should know my own ducks anywhere," replied the farmer, and he gave a description of their various peculiarities whereby he could readily distinguish them from others.

"Why," said I, "those ducks can't be of such rare breed! I have some just like them in my own yard."

"That is not at all unlikely," replied the farmer, "they are not the only ducks I have had stolen lately."
