Trilby's Father

When quite a young man went to Paris and entered a shoe store. After being away from his native town for a number of years he had changed somewhat during the years of his absence, and was no longer the same boy he had been. His father, however, had not expressed this to the parent, and thus lost the parent to recognize his boy, and sent him home to live with his mother for food and lodging, she not recognizing her son, told him to go back to Paris again, thinking that perhaps he might be a robber, and she caused him to return home by the fire and gave him permission to sleep in the fire and go to bed.
