The Haptist Church Berrices. Although the attendance at the services in the Bapties Church has fluctuated between very large and very small congragations, there has been a steady growth in spiritual power. Evangelist Whyte reaches the Gospel with apostolic simplicity and power, quite unaffected by modern ideas and prevalent oustoms. Souls are being saved. The ordinance of baptism was administered on Monday and Tuesday nights and will be repeated every night as occasion may require. -- Cou.

The "At Home" given by the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church on Wednesday evening of last week | mandment " at the Parsonage was well attended. An informal programme was presented consisting of selections by the orchestra, interposed with a reading by Miss Clara Moore, a piano solo by Miss Mary Howell and which latter, especially, showed excellent taste in the selection and was very feelingly rendered. ## FURS.

come of our merchants have lately been teliting a una lun store cook giving you their reasons for being able to sell you luce the anybody else. The result was we felt a little vine, until we remembered how we bought our turs. This is the story :-

Last fall seventeen of the leading merchants of Canada, representing cities all the way from Montreal to Windson met in Toronto to discuss buying furs to the best advantage. Mr. Ryan was unanimously appointed to arrange for the best terms from the manufacturers. Accordingly last spring the seventeen merchants assembled at the Queen's Hotel, Toronto, where they were met by representatives of the five leading fur houses of Canada, and placed their combined order, amounting in all from twenty-five to thirty thousand dollars. Our firm was one of the seventeen, and the result is that we bought our furs as cheap as if we personally bought $30,000 worth for our own business. And while such attention was given to buying at close prices, quality was carefully consider. ed, with the result that we can, this fall, distance any past record
