$4,500 SELLS FOR $5,105

Acton's Sound Financial Position Attracts Attention of Prominent Investors.

FIRE DEBENTURES WELL SOLD.
The citizens of this town were well pleased to learn that the $4,500 of fire debentures issued by the town of Acton, on Wednesday, Nov. 14, 1905, had been sold for $5,105.

The people who make the place have always felt a pride in the steady progress which characterized Acton over since its incorporation. There has been constant improvement year after year. Our borders have been enlarged by four new surveys; new streets have been opened; many fine new buildings have been erected; and our manufacturing, industrial, and commercial population, have been constantly increasing.

As the municipality has advanced in importance and in wealth the Council have from time to time effected such improvements in new building, park, streets, equipment, etc., as were best calculated to keep the town in a foremost position and render it attractive to visitors and prospective residents. These improvements have always been kept within the means of the municipality. Debenture coupons and interest have invariably been paid when due, and sinking funds are annually provided. As a result we have a town which the people take a just pride in; where public buildings and improvements are modern and up to the times, and where the annual rate of taxation is lower than that of most places of its population.

This result has not only commended itself to our own citizens and given them the highest confidence in Acton's solidity, but it has attracted the attention of the financial world, and whenever we have municipal debentures to place upon the market, they are eagerly sought for by the best financial operators.

No more satisfactory proof of this could be desired than that revealed at the Council on Monday evening at the opening of the tenders for the debentures for our latest advance in municipal equipment—the new steam fire engine and apparatus. No less than eleven tenders were received from well-known capitalists and financial institutions, and the successful tenderer agreed to pay the handsome rate of 113 1/4 for our $4,500, five per cent, twenty year debentures. This is equivalent to a premium of $605, and will pay the interest for nearly three years. This is certainly the highest standing that could be paid to the financial standing of any municipality. When critical financiers are so generous in their bids for our municipal paper surely there is no just reason for any scepticism of the high rate which comes before him. As a result, liquid selling on Sunday is now very carefully undertaken.

According to official returns, the 104 Indians now included within the United States number about a quarter of a million. Of these, about 75 per cent. are self-supporting, of whom over 18 per cent. live outside the reservations, pay taxes, and are counted in the general population. Last year the Indians raised over eleven million bushels of wheat, besides other products. After so many years of decline, the remainder of the once numerous race seems likely to survive.

The following significant clause appeared in the address from the throne, at the opening of the Quebec Parliament at Quebec last week: "It is the duty of the Government to have the law governing the sale of intoxicating liquors carried out still more vigorously and impartially, and it is your duty as good citizens to assist in the accomplishment of this task. It does not take long to learn how to evade laws enacted for the protection of society against the dangers of this traffic, therefore you will this year again be called upon to amend these laws."

A cable message has been received by the Department of Trade and Commerce direct from New Zealand, to the effect that the bill introduced into the Legislature by the Hon. J. G. Ward, providing for reciprocity as to Customs duties between that colony and other British colonies, with special reference to Canada, failed to pass when it came up for its second reading on Tuesday last. Opinions seem to have been pretty evenly divided on the bill, so that it may be that the proposed reciprocity agreement, which was an outcome of the Colonial Conference last year, has not been wholly defeated, but merely postponed.

The London Times, the most influential newspaper in England, is supposed to voice public sentiment in that country. "It would be impossible," says the Times, "to find anything that stands for so much as to soul, body, and estate as the public house. Even if we accept the fact that it is made for it in principle, the fact is it still a huge nuisance and misery there is not a vice, or disease, or disorder, or a calamity of any kind that has not its frequent root in the public house." Again: "The public house degrades, ruins and brutalizes a large fraction of the British people." It would tax the ingenuity of a prohibition fanatic to put the case in stronger terms than these.

THE HYAMS TWINS ON TRIAL.
A Jury Selected without Difficulty and the Trial now in Progress.
Toronto, Nov. 6.—Two good men and true were sworn at 2:30 o'clock last evening to determine upon the guilt or innocence of the twins, Harry and William Hyams, charged with the murder of William Chubbuck Walk, in the warehouse of the accused in Colborne street in this city on the morning of Jan. 10, 1903.

Mr. Justice Ferguson was on the Bench. The counsel engaged on the case are from among the most brilliant legal minds on the American continent and their presence will have much to do with the interest which will follow the prosecution of the accused young men during the next few weeks. Deputy Attorney General (Carter), Mr. B. D. (Tiler), G.C., and Crown Attorney Stewart and Giffey, represent the Crown, while W. Lounsbury, C., and Mr. W. C. Murdoch, represent Harry Hyams, and Mr. E. F. Johnson, G.C., and Mr. T. Horn, represent William Hyams. Associated with these counsel are Mr. Francis L. Williams and Mr. W. W. Gooch of New York. As to the fact of the case, the American lawyers will have no voice in the proceedings, being merely permitted to consult with and advise the local barristers in their conduct of the defendant's case.

Mr. Frank J. Nicholson, a well known editor of the Toronto Daily Star, was Thursday accidentally shot by his companion, Mr. Yates, a merchant of Cornwall, while duck shooting on Lake St. Francis. Mr. Nicholson died when about half a mile from the shore.

ALMOST DEAD.

PITIFUL CONDITION OF A YOUNG GIRL IN TORONTO.

A mysterious illness—doctors would attribute to Chloroform Poisoning—has been the subject of a good deal of talk among the residents in the neighborhood of Bloor street and Brantford street. As it was a very rapidly fatal case, it was all but dead, when suddenly she began to rally, and in a short time was out on the street with the color restored to her cheeks and the brightness to her eyes.

Learning of the case a News reporter called on her mother, Alpha Langens, who is the proprietor of the Bloor street store, at the corner of Brantford street, and with whom she has lived almost from infancy. On learning that his visitor was a reporter he was somewhat loth to speak of the case.

"Everybody about her knew of the case," he said, "and I will be glad to tell you all about it, but I would rather not have it published."

When the reporter pointed out that he was in a position to tell thousands and probably the means of giving them information that would lead to their recovery, he began to hesitate, and finally he gave a brief account of the girl's mysterious restoration. He said:

"My niece is more like a daughter to me. She has been in my care since she was a child, and when she was taken sick a few months ago I was heart-broken. I got two of the best doctors and every day I gave her, but their medicines made her worse instead of better. She laid in bed week after week, looking like a corpse, eating nothing, and apparently wasting away to a skeleton. Her throat and every day was thin and poor, and almost every day there was a change for the worse. She could not take the doctor's prescriptions, for she sickened at taste of them. While she was in this state of worry and anxiety I came across one day delivering pamphlets and he threw one into my shop. I picked it up and read an exact description of the illness with which my niece was suffering. The remedy prescribed for the cure of the disease described was Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I sent for a box and she took them in a mechanical kind of a way. Well, sir, when she had taken them four days a change came over her. She began to eat with a relish, and every day she seemed to gain in strength. She adhered faithfully to the directions and took four boxes. By that time the roses had returned to her cheeks and she was a different looking girl. She discontinued taking the pills and later the same languid feeling began to creep over her, so she bought another box and it was as bright and well as ever she was."

"That is the whole story," added Mr. Langens. "There may not be anything in it for others, but I believe these pills saved my niece's life, and while I am not anxious for publicity on her account, it may be that other sufferers will be benefited by hearing of this remedy. I cannot speak too highly of Pink Pills. I recommend them to everyone I know, and I take them myself."

THE DAYS OF AULD LANGSYNE.

This is the title of a new book, by Tom Maclean, just put upon the shelves of the publishing house of the Fleming H. Rowell Company, Toronto, at $1.25. As is well known, Tom Maclean is the author of "The Country Doctor," and the "Hobnob" and "The Bonnie Brier Bush," one of the most popular books of the present time. Respecting the latter work Mr. Maclean says: "There has never been anything of the kind before than the sketch of 'The Country Doctor,' and the 'Hobnob' and 'The Bonnie Brier Bush' are a collection of connected tales, that for humor, pathos, and a rare intermingling of comedy deserve to rank among the classics."

"The Days of Auld Langsyne" is a sequel to the "Bonnie Brier Bush" and continues the several characters previously introduced with a number of new ones. The sketches are equally charming, the character delineations just as true to life, the pathos as fresh and the humor as mellow as in the previous writings of this gifted author. The dialect sketches, true to the Drum-tolled folk, are simple and inimitable. The book throughout is powerful and impressive and is destined to be as popular as the producer's.
