THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1895.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

This week's Ontario Gazette contains the following announcement:—"Provincial Secretary's Office, Toronto, 31st November, 1895. Thursday, the 21st day of November, instant, having been appointed by His Excellency the Governor General to be observed as a day of general thanksgiving to Almighty God for the bountiful harvest and other blessings with which Canada has been favored this year, public notice is hereby given that His Honor the Lieutenant Governor has been pleased to direct that all public offices be closed on that day. By command, J. M. Gibson, Provincial Secretary.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

It is announced that Premier Whiteway, of Newfoundland will shortly visit Ottawa, and the presumption is that his mission is to enter upon the negotiations for confederation.

From a report which was received last week by the Department of Trade and Commerce in Ottawa from Trinidad, the prospects of reciprocal trade arrangements between Canada and the West Indies are becoming more favorable.

The first instance of English Government intervention in a labour dispute is the appointment of Mr. Gerald Balfour, the Chief Secretary for Ireland, to use his influence to settle the trouble between the Belfast and Clydebuilders and their employes.

The Toronto Globe, whose editor was in Ottawa on Saturday, says:—"The Governor General will be back at Rideau Hall within a fortnight the six bye elections in Ontario and Quebec will be fixed as to their dates, the vacancies in the Senate will be filled and Parliament in all probability be in session within forty days.

For the first three months of the present fiscal year the increase in the export of manufactured goods has been most marked. During the corresponding period of 1894 we exported goods manufactured in Canada to the value of $1,925,197, whereas during the same period of the present year we exported manufactures $2,266,500.

One of the best evidences of the progress of Manitoba and the North west is to be had by the returns of the land sold by the Canadian Pacific Railway during the past month. There were nine thousand acres disposed of for an aggregate of $20,000 which is four times the quantity sold for the corresponding period of last year.

We are told we will ever have with us the evil of over indulgence in liquor and be asking, if the past is a question which we have no right to ask, for in the meantime there is no doubt that the temperance workers of the country can fairly report satisfactory progress and find in the fact inspiration to continue the struggle.—Hamilton Spectator.

The question of providing a shorter outlet for the trade of Canada, suggested by a deputation from St. John, N.B., is engaging the attention of the Government. The proposition at present is that the country pay a yearly subsidy of $25,000 for a fortnightly service between St. John, N.B., and Liverpool, the rates to be as low from the western points as are now offered from American ports.

The Hungarian Government's estimate of the world's wheat crop in 1895 is 2,402,000,000 bushels. Of this tremendous quantity Russia produced the greatest amount, 411,043,000 bushels. United States 400,000,000, France 301,500,000, India 237,456,000, Hungary 149,941,000, Italy 114,808,000, Great Britain produced only 76,811,000, and Canada 50,000,000 bushels. These estimates are generally accepted in commercial circles as reliable.

It is shown by an analysis of census returns that more than half the men in twenty-eight of the forty-nine States and Territories are engaged in agriculture and that farming is the leading pursuit of all of them except New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut and New Jersey, where manufacturing and mechanical arts take the lead. There are in the United States 6,740,000 men engaged in agriculture to 9,220,000 in other forms of business.

Quebec is to be the immigration movement to the west as soon as navigation opens. Large parties of people who were sent out by the Quebec Government are now settled in Manitoba and the North west. Eleven more Norwegian families from Minnesota to the Canadian Northwest. Twenty-five Norwegian families from Franklin, Minnesota, Connecticut Valley, Massachusetts, and fifteen families from New Norway, Minnesota, have settled in Manitoba. The Government of Ontario notices the movement, and is pretty much afraid.

THE MANITOBA SCHOOL QUESTION.

Separate Schools Will Be Established Without Interference.

Ottawa, Nov. 11.—The Free Press has advices from the Manitoba school question. It says that the Manitoba Government has decided to obey the decision of the Ottawa Government and proceed with the passing of the Legislation necessary to the establishment of the Dual system of Public Schools. The course will be pursued by Premier Greenway and his colleagues with dignity and calmness. It will not be their fault if there is a protracted or embittering agitation in the Province. Premier Greenway and the Manitoba Government will not take the initiative in the matter of introducing the necessary legislation. The Government will not introduce the measure, but will pursue a policy of masterly inactivity. The Government will not take the initiative in the matter of introducing the necessary legislation. THE 51st ANNIVERSARY Eloquent Sermons Last Sunday in the Methodist Church, by Rev. Dr. Briggs, of Toronto.

LIBERAL FREE WILL OFFERINGS.

Rev. Wm. Briggs, D.D., of Toronto, the head of the Methodist Book and Publishing House, occupied the pulpit of the Methodist Church last Sunday, the occasion of the fifty first anniversary services, with much acceptance. The attendance in the morning was very large, while in the evening the church contained one of the largest congregations in its history, there being fully 800 present. In addition to outside visitors the congregation of Knox Church, with the pastor, who took part in the service, was present en masse.

Dr. Briggs based his morning discourse upon Rom 8. 28, "And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God." The divine side of this passage was first elaborated; then the human side was very lucidly presented. Relative to the first, two leading thoughts were presented. 1. To understand the true meaning of the text our life should be viewed as a whole, not as separate parts; 2. Our life unfolds according to the divine plan. Respecting these propositions he said, it is not some things, but all things, which work together for good. There is no qualification. In pain as well as in pleasure, in loss and in gain, during sickness as well as in health, in death as in life. With Jacob we are apt to say "All these things are against me," but Jacob eventually saw the restoration of Joseph and the salvation of his family from starvation. The natural tendency is not to view life as a whole. It is not by looking at a separate part that we see the beauty of the landscape, but by viewing the dark lines with the bright ones, the sunshine with the clouds. People often see truth and right driven to the wall and evil sheltered in palaces, but Paul assures us that "we know that all things work together for good to them that love God." There is a grandeur in this "we know." We are prone to forget these truths and are amazed to find that Paul with all his trying and painful experiences could carry his joy and confidence through all. But he trusted in God. Some regard it as incongruous with the dignity of the Great God to think that He will sympathize with us in our individual troubles. Grace Darling did a brave act of rescue, and, amid her multitude of subjects, our good, but human, Queen, recognized and rewarded it. Will not the infinite Father who recognizes each sparrow, regard us in all our experiences? Is exalts our thought of God to know that His great illimitable mind realizes all things, great and small, from the clods of the valley to the cherubim and seraphim. Great events often turn upon minutest details; God sometimes sends great blessings in very small baskets. Why then should we call them trifling and imagine they escape God's notice. What bad man stands through the ages? The good alone live in deathless renown, only those who serve God with a perfect heart and a willing mind. Turning to the human side of God's plan, the Dr asserted that the most of the divine ministrations are carried on through good men. We are laborers together with God. He sends the showers, man does the reaping. God works in you, it is yours to work out your own salvation. The thoughts of God often come through the hearts of men. The prayer that uplifts and the conversation that quiets the troubled soul are guided by God. The bounty of God comes through human help. Job was the medium of providence for his locality. He who sets a mill wheel in the stream, who gives by his manufactory employment to many hands, is a providence to his community. Man may be a providence to himself. The will is the throne of man and man is left to decide for himself. The speaker concluded with illustrations of the work of Christ in the heart of man and showed how through man others are benefitted. His discourse gave convincing proof that "All things work together for good, &c., and was most comforting to those who are striving to do the whole will of God.

Dr. Briggs preached in the evening from the following words, "And the Lord went before them by day in a pillar of a cloud, to lead them the way, and by night in a pillar of fire, to give them light, to go by day and night. He took not away the pillar of the cloud by day, nor the pillar of fire by night, from before the people." Ex 13. 21, 22. "In all their afflictions he was afflicted, and the angel of His presence saved them in his love and his pity he redeemed them, and he bore them and carried them all the days of old." Isaiah, 63, 9. From the above selections of scripture the preacher delivered an eloquent, logical and masterly discourse. In his own inimitable way he profoundly set forth the glorious fact of an ever living Savior. Not only was Christ present in the olden time to support, sustain and provide for the well being of the old time Israel, but only was He present during the days of his incarnation to succor the needy, support the weak, give eyesight to the blind, to raise the dead, but he is also present now to meet the demands and wants of a sin cursed world. To many a home to day to which the Savior has come, many a heart which he now saves and comforts, many a bereft family to which He ministers consolation and grace, many a dying saint whose mortal life is fast going out, yet in the spiritual is gloriously sustained by a Christ crucified, but now risen and ascended Savior, fails irrefutably and unmistakably of an ever present and everliving Savior. His presence and work in the times of scripture incidents tell of a Savior that was, His presence and support at the present time tell of a Savior that is. The entire discourse convincing in argument, touching in pathos, comforting in sentiment and beautiful with choice diction as well as apt illustrations and simile was listened to with rapt attention. We can assure Dr. Briggs of a hearty welcome and a crowded church whenever he may in future accept an invitation to Acton.

The financial proceeds of the day were very satisfactory being sufficient to meet all present requirements of the Ladies Aid, under whose auspices the services were held.

The choir of the church furnished very appropriate music which was rendered with much credit to themselves and was fully appreciated by the congregation.

The floral decorations by the Epworth League were principally of chrysanthemums, and gave the pulpit and surrounding platform an air of beauty and fragrance.

It is likely that the site for the proposed national sanatorium for consumptives will be on the Robinson property, in Muskoka township, nearly two miles from Gravenhurst. It is composed of about fifty acres of very choice bush land.

John Phillips, who shot Mr Crutch shanks, the lawyer, at Cobourg, last week was found beside his daughter's grave in the cemetery, having blown his brains out. His victim died Friday evening. The motive for the crime appears to have arisen out of a law suit.

THE HYAMS TRIAL.

The Case Proceeding Slowly Subsequent Insurance Ruled Out.

Toronto, Nov. 13th.—It was with much of focus on which fear and hope were contending for the mastery, that the Hyams brothers listened yesterday to the argument for the admission of evidence regarding the attempt to place $20,000 insurance on the life of Mrs. Harry Hyams, subsequent to the death of Wilbur Wells. The whole crowd in the court room indeed listened to the addresses of counsel, and especially to the ruling of his Lordship with breathless attention, and when the announcement was made that the evidence would not be accepted the sudden stir among the auditors occasioned by the relaxing of their fixed regard to the Judge's words was not sufficient to drown the sob of relief, which was forced from the accused. The faces of both immediately became suffused with color and irradiated smiles, which lingered to the time of adjournment. When the ruling was pronounced Mr. Osler made a motion for a reserve case, which, however his Lordship was not prepared without further consideration to grant or refuse. He accordingly stated that before the close of the case he would rule on that point.

CONQUERS CONSUMPTION

A. P. E. ISLAND LADY RESTORED TO HEALTH.

Attacked With a Hacking Cough, Loss of Appetite and General Feeling of Lassitude. Pink Pills Restored Her Health After Doctors Failed.

From the Charlottetown Patriot.

Times without number have we read of the wonderful cures effected by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, but generally the testimonials telling the tale had laid the scene in some of the other provinces. This time, however, the matter is brought directly home, and the testimony comes from a much respected and Christian woman. Mrs. Sarah Strickland, now residing in the suburbs of Charlottetown, has been married many years, and blessed with a large family and although never enjoying a robust constitution had, until a year ago, been in comparatively good health. About that time she began to feel "run down," her blood became thin and a general feeling of lassitude took possession of both her mind and body. Her family and friends viewed with alarm the gradual development of her illness, and when a cough at first incipent, but afterwards almost constant, especially at nights set in, doctors were summoned and everything that loving, tender care and medical skill could do was resorted to in order to save the affectionate wife and mother, whose days appeared to be numbered. Her appetite was almost completely gone. Food was partaken of without relish, and Mrs. Strickland was unable to do even the ordinary lighter work of the household. She became greatly emaciated and in order to partake of even the most dainty nourishment a stimulant had at first to be administered. While the gloom hung over the home and the mother sorrowfully thought of how soon she would have to say farewell to her young family, she was induced by a friend to try Dr. Williams Pink Pills. Though utterly discouraged, and almost disgusted with medicine she yielded more in a friendly way than in a hopeful spirit. After using the pills for a short time a gleam of hope, a wish to eat well again took possession of her and the treatment was cheerfully continued. It was no false feeling but a genuine effort nature was making to re assert itself, and before many boxes were used the family were joking their mother on her appetite, her disappearing cough and the fright she had given them. The use of the Pink Pills was continued for some time longer and now Mrs. Strickland a elastic step and general, excellent health, would lead you to imagine that you were gazing upon a different woman, but one who had been snatched from the very jaws of death. She was never in better health and spirits, and no matter what others say she is firm in her belief that Pink Pills saved her life and restored her to her wonted health and strength.

Taking their mother on her appetite

Dr. Williams Pink Pills are an unfailing cure for all troubles resulting from poverty of the blood or shattered nerves and where given a fair trial they never fail in cases like the above related. Sold by all dealers or sent postpaid at 50c. a box or six boxes for $2.50 by addressing the Dr. Williams Medicine Co. Brockville, Ont. or Schenectady, N.Y. THE COMPANION CALENDAR FOR 1896

The publishers of The Youth's Companion are sending to their subscribers free an art Calendar which will be highly appreciated. Four elegant water color paintings are reproduced in all the beauty of color and design of the originals, and of such size (14 x 10 inches) that they may be framed with fine effect.

The first two pictures offer a striking contrast, a blustering March day in the sugar orchard, and a peaceful scene in midsummer. Then follows the noonday rest in the harvest field, a charming bit of color with a foreground of goldenrod and brilliant autumn foliage. The winter walk to church over the snow covered fields is the last of the series.

To all new subscribers to the paper who send their name and address and $1.75 at once, the publishers offer to send free this handsome Calendar, lithographed in nine colors, the retail price of which is 50 cents, the Companion free every week to January 1, 1896, including the Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's double numbers, and the Youth's Companion fifty-two weeks, a full year to January 1, 1897. Address, The Youth's Companion, 195 Columbus Avenue, Boston.

A MOUTHFUL OF PEARLS

The tooth perhaps more than any other feature, enhance or destroy that intangible beauty complexity, thing we call beauty. What more repellant than ill kept, discolored teeth? What unsightliness more needless and more awful? Hence it is delightful, whether as a chemist or in the property of imparting to the teeth that dazzling white ness so much desired and a finished, and as efficiently does it render the breath sweet and fragrant. Ivorine is simply incomparable as a toilet requisite, which accounts for its recommendation and use by leading dentists.

CAN HEART FAILURE BE PREVENTED?

Startling and brief the announcement, "Sudden death caused by Heart Failure." Such is the stereotyped announcement of coroners, juries, and reporters arousing the fore bodings of those victims of indigestion and mal-nutrition, who so frequently disturb themselves upon the manifestation in palpitation or fluttering, of functional disturbance of the heart: symptoms which they are foolishly prone to accept as the signs of an incurable, and speedily fatal malady. Maltine with Cocoa Wine is potent in restoring conditions that no longer render possible such alarming disturbing symptoms. Maltine with Cocoa Wine, through its remedial influence upon the nervous system, soothes into calmness the disorganized nerves. The heart, in response to increased nerve force, no longer plunges and beats as if to break.

Maltine with Cocoa Wine has long been recognized as the most pleasant and efficient remedy for all those functional derangements that find manifestation in insomnia, sleeplessness, despondency and loss of appetite and digestive power. A nerve tonic, a body builder, a nutrient and digestive agent of inestimable value. All druggists sell it.
