is dishonest. We object because it is unfair to the straightforward advertiser, as it causes the public to undervalue all other advertisements of the paper, no matter how truthtul.

Our statement was, that a firm in the city who advertised Fibre Chamois at Lac sold Buckramette, or Buckskin instead. On the other hand if we prove our assertion, which we will do within an hour after the challenge is accepted, we stipulate that the guilty firm shall publicly acknowledge in their advertising space that our accusation was correct, and that they did advertise Fibre Chamois at 15c per yard and supplied their customers with a substitute which cost from 8 to 10c less

Now, as this is a most generous offer on our part, we having asked no monetary risk from them-so that they stand to lose nothing whatever- we may reasonably expect that our
