overy Item Interesting. Acquitted by the Judde. The Queen vs. Worden. This case was heard before Judge Hamilton at the Court House, Millon, on Monday. The case took a considerable contingent of citizens to the county town. Bix wit nessor were heard for the prosecution and eight for the defence. Worden was

An Impressive Temperance Sermon. The members of Acton Temperence I ion attended service in the Mothedist Church Sunday evening. Rev. J. Howell, M. A. who is a member of the society, preached a stirring sermon, one estoulated to induce deep thought and active measures to overcome the sylla for the drink treffic. He pointed out the goot work such societies are doing, but exhorted the members to pursue their ifforts further giving themselves entirely to God, through Jesus Christ. There was a very large congregation. Acton Steam Laundry.

Our citizens have again the luxury of first c'ass laundry in town. Mr. Adam Cook has his steam laundry now in operation and is turning out work in every respool equal to that of the cities. The machinery and appliances are modern and specially adapted to all requirements for family and general laundry work. The management is in experienced hands and complete satisfaction is assured to every customer. A great advantage over the sending of work to the city laundries is that customers may have their work at any time during the week. Too Far Advanced in her Studies. The best efforts of our/educators are not always received kindly, and the reasons for criticisms are sometimes startling The following story has just come out. little girl, who is a pupil of the - public eachtly taken up the study of physiology A fow-weeks' study into the mysteries of the human machine resulted in bringing to the teacher the following note from the little girl's anxious mother :- "Dear tea oher: Don't leach Mary any more about her mendes. It ain't nice, anyhow, and it Township Council Courtesies.

At the last meeting of the Esqueein Township Council the closing hour was very pleasantly spent. It was something after the fashion of a "Mutual Admiration Bociety" and Reeve Webster started the ball rolling by saying kind things of all his colleagues, as well as of the clerk and other municipal officers. Councillor Stalker made a very neat speech, concluding with saying that at one time he thought he wouldn't like to be a Councillor. He had an idea is meant a great deat of fighting. Ac. But he had found it wery deferent from this. He had liked the work and thought he would like to go back again.

An Ingenious Window Attraction. The scene in one of the show windows of E. R. Bollert & Co., Guelph, was th cause of considerable excitement and am usement during the past few days. The sidewalk in front of their store was com plotely blocked the day through. The scene in the window is a bodroom with the drapings artistically done and the room fittings nicely arranged. There is a fire place and a fire as if burning. Great excitement it caused when Santa Claus makes his appearance with his pack and goes through the task of picking out his presents for the two children in bed. Then he leaves and the chlildren get up, go to their stockings and amuse themselves with what Santa brought them. It has made a great hit and shows the skill and imaginative ideas of a skilful window dresser. The Pulpit on Rumors of War. Rev. J. W. Rae made President Cloveland's message to Congress on the Venezuelau boundary question the basis of a very able discourse in Knox Church on Sunday morning. His text was 2 Chron. 13: 1.5. A number of the important points were : God's saveignty'; there should be no war between Christian nations; the evil influence upon beathen nations, if such were allowed to take place; the fact that the two nations are largely people of the same blood and freely intermarried should evert it; there are many people of the

Mr. Allan sr., purchased from the Canada Company the mill property on the banks of the River Speed. A small frame building stood there then. Immediately on acquiring the property, Mr. Allan set to work to establish the milis, which in his hands afterwards grow to such immense proportions. Mr. Allan was 88 years of age at the time of his death. He was personally a fine old gentleman, free, warmhearted and generous. He married Miss Edington, of Paslinch, in 1838. From Far Off India.

G. B. RYAN & CO. have laid the most distant lands under contribution for the curious and boautiful articles they are showing for Christmas gifts. Probably the most interesting of the large collection now on sale are the Hammered Brass Goods from Benares, Iudia. These consist of Vases and Ornaments of fanciful Eastern designs and patterns, Trays, Jardin ierce, Bowls, &c., all made by hand, and hammered into these odd and characteristic shapes from the rough motal, by the clever but poorly paid artificers of the sacred city of the Hindoos, Benares on the Ganges. They are distinctly Oriental in character, their very quaintness suggesting the slow-moving methods peculiar to the far East. A more interesting Christmas present could hardly be imagined than one of these beautiful ornaments, bringing with them as they do, an atmosphere suggestive of a civilization which was already old when our forefathers were barbarians. You will be greatly

Those Benares Brates are out; one of the many departments of Christmas goods we are showing to-day. MANTLES, JACKETS AND CAPES. I houk what a twenty per cent. reduction means in a store like ours where there is UNLY ONE PRICE. It was a in a me hand you back, spot cash, 20c. on every dollar you invest in this department. Would it mean that in any other dry good; store in Guelph? Not much! Why? Because no other dry goods store in Guelph conducts its business BIRICTLY ON THE ONE PRICE BYSTEM, so that, if you were offered this, or even a greater reduction, in a store where the prices vary, sliding easily up or down to suit the emergency, it would mean little or no advantage to you, as, the chances are, it would be only what you could have bought the same article at any time. We have sold this season up to date one hundred and five MORE MANTLES THAN LAST SEASON, AND NOT
