Every one must see daily instances of people who complain from a mere habit of complaining. Graves.

There are so many things that appear unnecessary, and which for the life of us we can see neither purpose nor end. It may be said that these things are necessary in the flesh, the way and the whereof which we cannot see. Nevertheless they are of the kind that are easily removed.

Letters Come.

Letters come day by day telling us that this person has been cured of dyspepsia, that person of Bad Blood, and another of Head-ache, still another of Biliousness, and yet others of various complaints of the Stomach, Liver, Bowels or Blood, all through the intelligent use of Burdock Blood Bitters.

Perfect Wisdom. Would give us perfect health. Because men and women are not perfectly well, they must take medicine to keep them alive perfectly healthy.

HUMILITY.

Humility is the foundation of character. The desire for distinction is deeply implanted in all men, but human nature is so constituted that it is impossible that if these become visible this desire could not be gratified.
