

The Young Folks.

THEY'RE DIFFICULT.
Kind grandpa who lives in the country The best of all apples was The same day he came a letter, Which said that the apples were sweet, Delicious from the top to the bottom.
For his dear little granddaughter, too, And also his best love he sent to Sweet Butte, his own little pet.

WHERE INDEPENDENCE EXISTS.
No nobler career is open to young men than the Canadian "agriculture" offers. The man who is a good farmer, who pays his debts, raises and educates a family, state and national affairs, and faithfully executes the political, social or religious trust reposed in him by his peers—that man's life is full of all that is best in this world. He may not acquire millions, but he does obtain a most excellent competence upon which to live in comfort.

A KNOWING MERCHANT.
Rush Strong, one of the big merchants of Tennessee, with money to burn, got his start in life by a neat trick that advertised his business all over the south. He was an exchange. The county was about to hold a fair, and each merchant offered a prize for the best of something in his line. A offered $10 for the best pound of butter; B offered $10 for the finest dozen of eggs, etc. When it came Strong's turn he had to wait until he had all the prizes in his line. He had waited all night to think it over, as he felt very poor. The next morning he sent to the committee this proposition:

"Rush Strong will give half the entire stock in the store to the man or woman who will buy the most of his goods in the county. It was published in the pamphlet of the Fair Association and caused a laugh all over the state. One day the president said to Strong: "Look here, Strong, we've been fooling about this thing long enough, and now it's getting serious. Let had better stop this right now and let everybody who was only joking, because there's a chap down here in Boone County who is going to take you up, and he's got a half dozen neighbors ready to swear that he is absolutely convinced with his offer. He made out a good case, and the committee were about to decide in his favor, when Strong arose and asked quietly:

"Gentlemen, if this man is open-tended with his lot in life, what on earth does he want with half of my stock?"

THE GIRLS AND THE PRINCE.

When the Prince of Wales was in America, in 1860, he was a young man of nineteen and unmarried. Naturally, the American girls were deeply interested in him, and a period of the most romantic extremity existed in the matter. Every subterfuge to dance with the young Prince was resorted to, and members of his party were bribed to arrange a waltz with the "His Appearance" the most unadorned apparent were resorted to by girls. His guard was placed at the Prince's side, and when he left a hotel room women would rush in and carry away in bottles the water in which he had washed his face.
Church people forgot themselves and stood on the cushions of the pews in order to see the Royal visitor. On every hand was a season of excitement, and balls, dinners, feasts and receptions ruled. One of the Prince's party was Stephen Fiske, the journalist, who was delegated by the elder James Gordon Bennett, of the New York Herald, to remain with the Prince while he was in America. Naturally, Mr. Fiske saw all the incidents of His Royal Highness' tour. Taking a liking to the American journalist the young Prince saw that he was present upon all occasions. Now Mr. Fiske has written out the whole story, and it will form the January installment of the "Ladies' Home Journal's" series of "Great Personal Events." Illustrations of some of the great scenes have been made, and these will be given with the article in the January Journal.

CITY AND COUNTRY.

A gentleman whose business keeps him in a large city the year round, excepting a week in September, said to me: "I'm afraid you people do not fully appreciate the many blessings you enjoy in the country, and have the purest air, the best of water, sunshine and shade, fresh fruits and vegetables and entire freedom from the stenches and annoyances constantly met with in the city. It is true you have to work in the hot sun a great deal, but really that is not so prejudicial to health as the steaming heat of the city streets. Then how different are your surroundings from ours after a shower. Your lawns, trees, gardens and growing crops, fresh and beautiful, the air purified and cooled, and birds made merry, while from our streets and alleys arises a stench of nasty mud and decaying matter. And your September and October nights, especially when the "harvest moon" lights the country, what could be lovelier? How merrily the crickets chirp! How the music of the katydids rings through the orchards and grove! Bless you, this music of autumn nights is the music of peace, of freedom, of rest, and to a weary city man it is a thousand times sweeter than the clang and shriek of the siren!"

THEY LIVED WELL.

Ladies of Acton who do their own cooking and feel that their work is not appreciated, will please show this to their husbands: A farmer's wife in Michigan kept a record last year of her cooking operations.
Her husband was dumb with astonishment when she produced this record for a family of six: 328 loaves of bread, 68 tins of biscuits, 15 loaves of brown bread, 227 pies, 180 cakes, 85 puddings, 114 dozen cookies, 108 dozen ginger snaps and 14 chicken pies. Nor does this include the meats and vegetables. That this list is not above the average is readily seen by dividing it into weekly portions. Machinery and co-operation are already making life easier for the woman who does her own housework.

RELIEF FROM CHOKING.

A correspondent writes:—Whenever I read of a case of choking in any paper I always endeavor to send the same paper a sure and certain relief from choking that has never yet failed. The remedy is simple this:—To immediately reverse the upright position of the body supported by the hands with feet stretched, when instant relief will be obtained and the obstruction will fall from the mouth. A child can be seized and the head turned down and relief will be instantaneous. Several lives have been saved by this treatment and I have received several grateful letters from those who have been cured of this terrible and dangerous disease. Full particulars and the process which death seemed inevitable.

EASED HIS CONSCIENCE.

"No," said the old storekeeper, sternly, "I will not do it. Never have I sold anything by false representations, and I will not begin now." For a moment he was silent, and the clerk who stood before him could see that the better nature of his employer was fighting strongly for the right.
"No," the old man cried again, "I will not do it. It is an inferior grade of 'slow burn' and I will never pass it off as anything better. Mark it 'A Slow Burn for a Queen,' and put it in the window. A queen does not have to do much walking."

fort.

RAILROAD ITEM.

"Did you tell me the names of the railroad lines in Texas?" asked a Dallas teacher of a pupil who was the son of a member of the legislature.
"I guess," was the reply.
"On what does your father travel when he goes from here to attend the session of the legislature?"
"On a free pass."

A CHEERING TRUTH.

Thousands Prove the Statement

THAT PAIN'S CELESTIAL COM-POUND MAKES PEOPLE FEEL YOUNG AGAIN.

A CURED MAN SAYS: "I FEEL JUST AS BRIGHT AS A BOY."

The Right Medicine For Every Ailing Man and Woman.

All the combined powers of earth cannot show the life of truth that sweeps over this land of ours in regard to the curing and life giving virtues of Paine's Celery Compound. Thousands of the best people back up the sensible, plain and unvarnished statements about Paine's Celery Compound published from time to time. The cured narrators send such convincing letters of testimony that the most hardened skeptics are forced to admit that they are founded on the rock of truth and honesty.

The following letter from Mr. A. R. Mc-Gregor, Dixon's Corner, Ont., assures you, though your case may be desperate and death very nigh, and though doctors, lawyers and other medicines prove unavailing for your relief, that Paine's Celery Compound will do more for you than you can justly realize or hope for. Mr. McGregor says:

"Some time ago my condition of health was alarming and I suffered very much. I was laid up three days out of every week, and I often said to my friends that it would be better, if it was the Lord's will, that I should be called away. Three of the best doctors attended me, but could not relieve me in any way. It was then I was advised to use Paine's Celery Compound, which brought relief at once. After using this great remedy I find myself a new man and feel just as bright as a boy of eighteen years. I think it is the greatest medicine in the world, and would strongly recommend it to all who suffer.

Much in Little

It is especially true of Hood's Pills, for no medicine ever contained so great curative power in so small a space. They are a whole medicine in a little pill.

EVERY FAMILY SHOULD KNOW THAT.

Does not necessarily mean the contraction of disease provided the system is in a vigorous condition, with the blood pure and all the organs in healthy action. When in such a condition contagion is readily resisted and the disease germs can find no lodgment. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine to build up the system because it makes pure, rich blood, and pure blood is the basis of good health. In cold weather it is especially necessary to keep up the health because the body is subject to greater exposure and more liable to disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the safeguard to health.

blood, which, being vitiated, circulates throughout the veins, strengthening the healthy animal functions of the system, thereby making activity a necessary result, strengthening the frame, and giving life to
