

The Acton Free Press

THURSDAY, JANUARY 28, 1897.

The Young Folks.

JUST DO YOUR BEST.
The sign is laid when folks commence and finish their work, and when
And health causes the earth don't take
No man is great till he can see
How less than little he would be
If he had not a hand and a heart.
He loves his wife and his home,
My dearest is to say nay.
Contentions and his satisfied;
Just do your best, and pray or blame
What folder that counts just the same.
I've noticed great success
In the world, and the world is lost,
And it's the man who does the best.
That gets more likes than all the rest.
—JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY.

A SLIGHT MISUNDERSTANDING.

A well-known brilliant enterprising who has just returned from a year's tour in Australia, has many amusing tales to tell among which is the following:

"I was ordering my advertisement in a Melbourne daily newspaper office one day," said the narrator, "when a tall, lanky countryman walked in and said he wanted an 'In Memoriam' notice in the ordinary column of the paper."

"My old grandfather died a year ago," he said, "and I should like to put a bit of poetry in the paper about him."

"All right," answered the clerk, "have you brought it with you?"

"No," said the rustic; "can you fix me up a bit?"

"Certainly," replied the clerk; "Our charge for 'In memoriam' notices is six shillings an inch."

"A look of intense amazement passed over the countryman's face."

"Good gracious!" he cried, "I made for the door, 'I can't afford that; my guv'nor was 6 feet high!'

ANGELS' WINGS.

A German scientist, after making a careful scrutiny of the works of the old masters, has announced that they invariably painted the wings of angels in the wrong place. Robens, Raphael, Correggio and Michael Angelo, he says, were ignorant of the elemental principles of science, and simply made fools of themselves by painting angel's wings at the shoulder blades.

What is true, this critic, has placed the wings in the creatures that fly exactly at the center of gravity. This is obviously the right place for them, and nature never made a mistake.

But now an examination of the old masters shows that the center of gravity in all of their figures is far below where the wings of the angels have been placed. The wings ought properly, says this German, to have been situated at the waist, and that otherwise they look absurd, as to fly with wings from the shoulder, where the old masters placed them, is a physical impossibility.

ROUGH ON THE TOE.

A lady previously tormented with a corn on one of her toes, was advised by a friend to anoint it with phosphorus, which in a weak moment she did, but forgot to tell her husband before retiring at night.

It had just struck twelve when the husband awoke and was startled to see something sparkle at the foot of the bed. He had never heard of such a creature, and turned to see what it was.

Rushing carefully out of his bed till he found one of his slippers, he raised it high in the air and brought it down with terrible force upon the mysterious light. A shriek and an avalanche of hellospheres and all was over. When at last he released himself from the avalanche he discovered his wife groaning in the corner. He had struck the phosphorous toe!

HE ANTICIPATED.

Mrs. Wallace—I do believe that a woman could wear her dresses almost to rage before her husband would notice it.

Mr. Ferry.—That is not the case with Mr. Ferry. He notices the dinginess of my clothes before I do. I can tell when I'm getting shabby by his beginning to talk about how scarce money is and how necessary it will be for us to economize.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

There are cases of consumption so far advanced that Black Antiseptic Syrup will not cure but may relieve it; it will not give relief. For coughs, colds and all affections of the throat, lungs and chest, it is a specific which has never been known to fail. It promotes a free and easy expectoration, thereby removing the phlegm, and gives the diseased parts a chance to heal.

For men of moral depravity—jam, jam, jamboree, jamboree.

He Has Tried It.—Mr. Johnson, Kinloss, writes: I venture to say few, if any have received greater benefit from the use of Dr. Thomas' Extract Oint. than I have. I have used it regularly for over ten years, and have recommended it to all sufferers I know of, and they also found it of great value in cases of severe bronchitis and incipient consumption.

Do men's dangerous draft for many or man or it's right draft?

Thankful to B.

Dan Sins.—I am thankful to Burdock Blood Bitters that I am strong and healthy to-day. I suffered from Biliousness and bilious fever so much that I was out of my mind right after night, but I am now entirely cured by the use of two bottles of B. B. B.

NELLIE I. HENDERSON, Kirby P. O., Ont.

EVERY FAMILY SHOULD KNOW WHAT IT IS.

A TIDAL WAVE.

Sweeping over this Canada of Ours.

PAIN-E'S CELERY COMPOUND BANISHING SICKNESS AND DISEASE.

Bestowing Health, Vigor, and New Life.

THE YOUNG AND OLD FEEL ITS WONDERFUL POWER.

The Cured Never Cease to Sing its Praises.

OLD TO DRIVEN.

Happy Happenings in the Historic Hamlet.

Mr. John Gamble Jr., the well-known and popular son of John Gamble, Proprietor of the Tedordene Hotel during the past four years, gives the following account of his rescue from heart and nerve trouble through the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Speaking to our reporter, Mr. Gamble said: "Some three months ago I began to feel very poorly; in fact I felt as if I was moving around in a dream. This condition I wrongly attributed to biliousness, for I became very weak and seemed to have no staying power. I also became very nervous, and would jump or start at the slightest sound." The feeling was one of constant dread. I expected something dreadful would happen. I knew not what. Again I was dizzy, my memory failed me very often, and, as a result it becomes a friend.

A cured lady, Mrs. George Durant, of Elora, writes, as follows:

"For many years I have been a sufferer from liver troubles, and have decided with several physicians that I had biliousness.

I had a very slight time. My husband advised me to try Paine's Celery Compound.

I did, and, found so much relief from the first bottle that I continued, and am now using the third bottle. Your compound has done more for me than any physician.

For months before using the Compound I never had one night of sleep; but now I can go to bed and sleep soundly and naturally and feel like a new creature in the morning."

Our druggist, Mr. H. W. Love, corroborates the above, and I have been taking them according to directions. From the very first I began to improve, and am now surprised at the change in my condition. I am very much stronger; my nerves are steady, and my memory bright. I no longer suffer from that morbid feeling of dread. The pills have proved certainly, in my case, a remarkable remedy, for weak nerves and reduced physical strength. I cannot too highly recommend them to all who suffer from any or all of the symptoms which I have mentioned to you, and must return my thanks to the manufacturers of these pills for placing such an excellent medicine before the public."

(Sgd.) JOHN GAMBLE.

Todmorden, Ont.

Teacher.—"What is a straight line?" Popul.—"The picture of its own road which each company prints in the railway map."

Norway Pine Syrup cures Coughs.

Norway Pine Syrup cures Bronchitis.

Norway Pine Syrup heals the lungs.

If your goal has no room for your brother, it has no room for you.

The Whole Story

Of the great sales attained and great gains accomplished by H. G. Sargent is quickly told. It purifies and enriches the body, tones the stomach and gives strength and vigor. Disease cannot enter the system fortified by the rich, red blood which comes by taking Hood's Sarapadilla.

Hood's Pills cause nausea, sick headache, indigestion, biliousness. All drogists.

Corks for bottles were first manufactured in Spain and Italy, some time during the fourteenth century. Corkscrews were contemporaneous with corks.

JEALOUS RIVALS.

CANNOT TURN THE TIDE. THE DEMAND FOR DR. AGNEW'S LITTLE PILLS IS A MARVEL.

It's the Old Story, "The Survival of the Fittest" and "Jealousy Its Own Destroyer."

Cheap to buy, but diamonds in quality.

Gastric, diarrhoea, cholera, dysentery, colic, cramps, cholera infantum, summer complaints in children or adults.

DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY HAS A RECORD OF 40 YEARS OF SUCCESS. IT IS A SURE CURE FOR DIARRHEA, DYSENTERY, COLIC, CRAMPS, CHOLERA INFANTUM, SUMMER COMPLAINTS IN CHILDREN OR ADULTS.

Winnin' swallors blarney as babies abilities, without any idea ob do trubble what may faller.

There never was, and never will be, a universal panacea, in one remedy, for all ill to which death is heir—the very nature of many cures being such that were the germ of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient.

What would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound undiluted state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual judicious use, the frailty systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence of the germ of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient.

What would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound undiluted state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual judicious use, the frailty systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence of the germ of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient.

What would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound undiluted state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual judicious use, the frailty systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence of the germ of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient.

What would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound undiluted state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual judicious use, the frailty systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence of the germ of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient.

What would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound undiluted state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual judicious use, the frailty systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence of the germ of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient.

What would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound undiluted state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual judicious use, the frailty systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence of the germ of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient.

What would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound undiluted state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual judicious use, the frailty systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence of the germ of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient.

What would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound undiluted state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual judicious use, the frailty systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence of the germ of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient.

What would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound undiluted state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual judicious use, the frailty systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence of the germ of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient.

What would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound undiluted state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual judicious use, the frailty systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence of the germ of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient.

What would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound undiluted state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual judicious use, the frailty systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence of the germ of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient.

What would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound undiluted state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual judicious use, the frailty systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence of the germ of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient.

What would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound undiluted state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual judicious use, the frailty systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence of the germ of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient.

What would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound undiluted state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual judicious use, the frailty systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence of the germ of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient.

What would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound undiluted state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual judicious use, the frailty systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence of the germ of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient.

What would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound undiluted state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual judicious use, the frailty systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence of the germ of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient.

What would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound undiluted state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual judicious use, the frailty systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence of the germ of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient.

What would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound undiluted state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual judicious use, the frailty systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence of the germ of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient.

What would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound undiluted state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual judicious use, the frailty systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence of the germ of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient.

What would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound undiluted state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual judicious use, the frailty systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence of the germ of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient.

What would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound undiluted state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual judicious use, the frailty systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence of the germ of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient.

What would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound undiluted state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual judicious use, the frailty systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence of the germ of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient.

What would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound undiluted state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual judicious use, the frailty systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence of the germ of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient.

What would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound undiluted state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual judicious use, the frailty systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence of the germ of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient.

What would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound undiluted state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual judicious use, the frailty systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence of the germ of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient.

What would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound undiluted state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual judicious use, the frailty systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence of the germ of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient.

What would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound undiluted state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual judicious use, the frailty systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence of the germ of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient.

What would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound undiluted state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual judicious use, the frailty systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence of the germ of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient.

What would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound undiluted state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual judicious use, the frailty systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence of the germ of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient.

What would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when