THE NEWS AT HOME.

Mostly of a Local Character, and

every Item Interesting. A Mammoth Pine Stump

Lust Thursday Messrs, W. Douglas and . McArthur successfully pulled a pine stump of almost unheard of proportions, on the farm of George Douglas, lot 17, Con. 1 Esquesing. Their stumping machin proved its superior merit during the operation: The stump measured soven feet in diameter, twenty seven feet from tip to tip of the roots, and the roots went seven and a half feet into the ground.

Another Successful Garden Party.

The Garden party last Friday evening at the home of Mr. Jeseph Arthurs, third line, was quite a success. Acton Cornet Band and Arthurs' and Mann's orohestra provided an excellent programme, while the so'os of Misses McLeod, of Georgetown, and Nicklin, of Acton, and Rev. Mr. McKay, of Norval, were much enjoyed Miss Laidlaw and Miss Storrit, of Union acted as accompaniets. The funds Knox Church Sunday School are considerably augmented as a result of this social Eclipse of the Sun-Visible Merc. Proparations are being made to take observations of the annular oclipse of the sun, which will take place on Thursday, July 29. The difference between an an nular and a total oclipse is that with the former there remains a fing of light around the margin of the shadow, the re sult of the moon being nearer to the sun and farther from us than during a total eclipse. This colipse will be visible as a partial eclipse throughout Canada, the United States, Mexico and the northern part of South America. An Appreciated Improvement. For years the need of a crossing over the G. T. Lessons from the Big Convention. The Epworth League devoted the meeting on Tuesday evening to impressions of the International Epworth League Convention at Toronto, by the delegates who were in attendance. The proceedings were highly interesting. Brief reports were given by Revs. J. A. McLachlan, M. A. and Wm. Bryers, President Edmiston, Messrs. Jno. S. Coleman, John Laing and H. P. Moore, and Misses Maggie H. Matthews and Lottle E. Speight. Miss Thomas, of Gloversville, N. Buy Your Own Chorries. A woll-known citizen in the east-end has favorite oberry tree poar the Mill street fence on his property. This year it was vory well laden with fruit. As the cherries began to assume the rich red tinta indicating ripeness the number appeared to diminish as each succeeding morning's sun shone through the branches. One evening last week the owner decided to watch the tree for an hour or so to ascertain the cause of the diminishing cherries. Shortly after taking his position on a seat under the tree with a black shawl over his head, a biped of the human species stealthily approached. He climbed the fence and eautionsly stepped upon what in the dim light of a vanquishing moon resembled a stump, but which was in reality the covered head of the owner of the cherry tree. A stifled grown gave-ovidence of his-mistake-and-with-a bound like a deer he scaled the opposite fence and rusted through the field on the other side, causing considerable damage to ox-Warden Warren's fine crop of cats.
