Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the original sarsaparilla. It has behind it a record for cures unequalled by any blood purifying compound. It is the only parsaparilla honored by a medal at the World's Fair of 1893. Others imitate the remedy; they can't imitate the record:

A SCHOOL OF MORALS. The devotees of the drama often speak of it as "a school of morals," and indulge, in patronizing encers at the expense of .those who voluntarily and conscientionaly cut themselves off from this means of cultivation; but they do not enstain their position by arguments drawn from the sphere of concrete realities. What might be the effect of an ideally clean theatre is one thing; and what is the effect of the thestres actually in operation is quite another thing. We feel perfectly sure that we are keeping within the limits of the truth when we say that nine-tenths of all the plays that are put upon the boards are either silly or nasty. Nor is this an individual or a prejudiced opinion. It is confirmed by the utterances of secular orities, in all parts of the country. Let any one who donbts whether we are speaking soberly make a careful examination of the facts. The duliness and the dirtiness of the modern stage have both become a proverb. Christian people who care for their own morals, and for the welfare of their children, will give it a wide berth. As an in-

The force of our assertion cannot be broken by calling attention to the fact that there have been and are some actors of the highest personal character. Our belief is that Edwin Booth was every inch a gentleman, and that Joseph Jefferson is a man of irreproachable life. But will anybody dare to assert that they fairly represent the othical standards of their profession? We are not talking about dreams and shadows, but about realities. The theatre of the uineteouth century, like that of the eighteenth, is the enemy of pure religion and of sound morals. Nor is there the faintest indication that it is likely to change its character. It is one of those things which the disciples of Christ pledge themselves to renounce. If this is Puritanism, bo it so. There are a thousand other epithets to which we should more seriously object .- Nashville Advocate. ADVANTAGE OF SLEEP.

I reply to the question, is it wise for a man to deny himself and get along with a few hours sleep a day, to do more work? Tesla, the great electricism, is said to have replied : "That is a great mistake, I am convinced. A man has just so many hours to be awake, and the fewer of these be uses up each day, the more days they will hastthat is, the longer he will live. I believe that a man might live two hundred years if he would sleep most of the time. That le why negroes often live to advanced old ago, because they sleep so much. The proper way to economise life is to one application will sleep every moment that is not necessary Sold by A. T. Brown. or desirable that you should be awake.

DON'T WHINE.

To make yourself miserable by constant complaining is to impart your unhappiness to the circle in which you move. A long face and a whining voice make a bad impression upon one's own spirit and the spirit of others. No one loves to listen to murmuriugs and complaints: Speak of your troubles only to intimate friends, and do that occasionally. When you have thus unbosomed yourself to one who sympathizes with you, then try to dismiss the matter and dwell upon something pleasant and cheerful. You have had many blessings and mercies, and let themind give thought to these instead of to the occasional afflictions that come to you. A cheerful spirit imparts good oheer to others. A. gloomy friend is a monotonous guest, but a bright companion is always a desirable associate. Make it a point to overlook the little annoyances of life, and the larger ones will become less numerous. Speak often of the good that comes to you, and evil will for the most part seek other quarters. Under that sort of spirit your health will improve and your companionship will be
