THE SPELLING LESSON. The teacher sat in her high-backed chair. Hor chair so straight and tall; Hor eyes went flashing to and fro Among the children small. At last she spoke, and "Billy boy! Now answer, Billy Bolce, And tell me quickly, what does C-O-W spoll?" quoth sho. Then up went Patty's hand, Up went Matty's hand, Up went Freddy's hand, too; But poor little Billy, He was so silly,

He didn't know what to do .__ The teacher smiled her pleasant smile, And shook her small; wise head. "Be quiet, all ! for I am suro That Billy knows !" she said. "Put on your thinking-cap, my child And the it very tight;

And you will say it right.' But up went Patty's hand, Up went Matty's hand, Up went Freddy's hand, too, And poor little Billy He was so allly,

Then C-O-W will not trouble you,

He didn't know what to do. But when the children gan to laugh, And fun at him 'gan poke, Poor Billy thought it might not be So muck worse if he spoke. So litting up his fearful eyes All sad and timorously,

"Sure C.O.W, must spoll, "Bobblo-you!" Thus spoke Billy Bolee. Then out laughed Matty, And out Isugued Patty. And out laughed Frederick, REMARKBBLE INCIDENT. Two Americans who were crossing the Atlantic, met in the cabin on Sunday night to sing hymns. As they sang the last hymn, "Jesus, lover of my soul," one of them heard an exceedingly rich and beautiful voice behind him. He looked around, and although he did not know the face, he thought that he knew the voice, so when the music ceased, he turned and saked the man if he had not been in the Civil War. The man replied that he had been a Confederate soldier. "Were you at such a place on such a night?" asked the first. "Yes," he replied, "and a ourious thing happened that night which this hymn bas recalled to my mind. I was posted on sentry duty near the end of a wood. It was a dark night and very cold, and I was a little frightened because the enemy were supposed to very near. About midnight, when everything was very still, and I . was feeling homesick and miserable and weary, I thought that I would comfort myself by praying and singing a hymn. I remember singing this hymn: "All my trust on thee is stayed All my belp on thee I bring; Cover my defenseless head With the shadow of thy wing."

After singing that a strange peace came down upon me, and through the long might I felt no more fear." "Now," said the other, "listen to my story. I was a Union soldier, and was in the wood that night with a party of scotts. I saw you standing, although I did not see your face. My men had their rifles foodssed upon you, waiting the word to fire, but when you sang out,

"Cover my defenseless hoad With the shadow of thy wing," I said : "Boys, lower your rifles ; we will

KIND APPRECIATIVE WORDS.

HIS FAULT.

"I understand," said Mr. Johnson, o the orthodox church to Mr. Jackson, of the Methodist church, "that you used to know the new minister that's coming to our church when you lived in New York State." "I did" said Mr. Jackson. "Is he a good man?" "I think he is a

IVE DOCTORS WERE UNABLE TO HELP THE SUFFERER.

Twelve years of misery and agony from female, kidney and stomach troubles ! Physicians were atterly perplexed and unable to cure the lady! In a time of gloom and despondency the magic virtues of Paine's Celery Compound bring joy and new life ! These are the leading facts in the following statement made by Mrs. G.

Stone, of Eganville, Ont. "For more than twolve-years' I was afflicted with kidney, stomach and female troubles, and had been attended by five
